test and making it up later, or handing in a term paper late is a frequent practice now. Sixty-two years ago no student could "change a recitation which has been assigned without permission of the Faculty."

Grades, Grades, Grades

Grades were computed then, not on a complicated 1, 2, 3, and 4 point basis figured through term hours, but on a scale of 100, with 60 as a minimum.

Evenings and between classes in recent years students have trudged into Taylor's or the College Side Inn and sipped beer at their leisure. The two places are right in campus territory.

When Eugene had "some 3,000 inhabitants" and was "situated amidst scenery of much natural beauty," (reads the 1887-8 catalogue) students were forbidden "to enter a brewery or a saloon," or to "drink any intoxicating liquor at the University or while on the way to or from the University, except on the prescription of a physician."

A perhaps equally radical difference between student conduct of today and yesteryear concerns smoking. Use of tobacco in any form while on the campus was forbidden.

ONE STEP can be FATAL!

12,200 pedestrians were killed by automobiles last year—1,340 more than the year before. Two out of every three violated traffic laws or committed unsafe acts which contributed to their deaths.

And believe it or not—many of these fatal accidents actually happened less than six feet from the curb—only a step or two from safety!

Between intersection accidents accounted for more than one-third of all pedestrian fatalities last year. These victims carelessly rushed out from behind parked cars, or simply jaywalked themselves into traffic—and death. Others even ignored the safety of lights and traffic officers at intersections to save a few seconds—and lost their lives.

Never take safety for granted. Cross at intersections within the crosswalks. Wait for the light or the policeman's whistle. Be alert for the inconsiderate driver making a right turn, or the reckless one beating a light. On open highways, allow for the speed of approaching cars. Walk to the left facing traffic.

Whenever you cross, look both ways. One step can be fatal!
