Pullman, Wash., (UP)—Veteran Ed Gayda and Sophomore Gene Conley teamed up tonight to spark the Northern Division leading Washington State basketball team to a 64 to 48 win over a groggy Oregon team here.

The victory pushed the Cougars to a game and one-half edge over the second-place Washington Huskies. For the Webfoots, the loss climaxed a disastrous Palouse invasion in which they lost four games to Idaho and WSC and dropped them past Idaho into the ND cellar.

Guard Jack Keller's 15 points and sterling all-around play weren't enough to keep the Ducks in the game after a tight first half.

Gayda High

Gayda tallied the first two of his 19-point evening total with half a minute gone and Conley followed with a field goal. Oregon then tied it up and forged ahead, 10 to 8 with seven minutes gone.

The Webfoots held another brief lead later in the half but with Gayda swishing three field goals and Leon Mangis one, the Cougars pulled to a 32 to 27 halftime lead.

The Oregon cagers were badly off in their shooting in the second half, making only 16.1 percent of their shots while the Cougars were clicking for 41 percent.

Conley followed Gayda for scoring honors with 17 points.

Top Tennis Players Vie in MacCourt

By FRED TAYLOR

A quartet of the world's greatest tennis players will perform tonight in McArthur court, starting at 8 p.m.

Jack Kramer, Pancho Gonzales, Frankie Parker and Francisco Segura—the most brilliant names in the net game today—will put on an exhibition before an expected crowd of over 4000 spectators.

The net stars, who will arrive in Eugene about noon today from Portland, where they played a match Tuesday night, will make a personal appearance at 3 p.m.

Tickets Sell

There was a brisk trade in student tickets at McArthur court yesterday, and ticket windows will be open all day today. Reserved seats can also be purchased at Skie's Jewelry store and Hender-shott's, downtown.

Student tickets are 50 cents, general admission are 90 cents, and reserved seats are $1.80.

Gates open at 7 p.m. tonight to enable students to get seats early. First match is scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Rumors False

Contrary to rumors floating about the campus, spectators are not expected to wear formal evening clothes for the event. The only one wearing formals will be the members of the Panhellenic association who are going to present orchids to all women who hold reserved seat tickets, as they enter the gates.

Booming Jack Kramer, world's professional tennis champ, will meet Pancho Gonzales, recently acclaimed 1949's outstanding amateur player, in the featured singles

Frosh Edge Rooks 44-43

Thanks to a tie-breaking gift toss by Hank Bonnemann with 25 seconds remaining to play, the Oregon Ducklings nosed out the Oregon State Rooks, 44-43, in the third of four scheduled meetings between the two schools in their annual little "Civil War" series.

This, the "rubber" game—which gives the Frosh a two to one lead in series clashes—was played before a partisan crowd at 8:00 last night in McArthur Court.

With the Junior Webfoots behind 41-39 with three and one half minutes to play, stringbean Chet Noe found his eye for two rapid buckets in succession to put the yearlings out in front, 43-41. However, with one minute showing on the clock, Rook guard Ben Pitzer unleashed a howitzer which tied the score at 43 all.

Oregon took the ball and Bonnemann was fouled while shooting and was awarded two free throws. He missed the first, but the second dropped through the hoop and, as the Frosh retained possession under the new two-minute rule, the game was put on ice as the time ran out.

Coach Don Kirsch's charges just couldn't seem to get started and were behind most of the first half, save for a 16-16 tie with seven and one half minutes to go. Bob Adrian, ex-West Linn star who holds down the pivot post for the Rooks, looked good on both backboards.

WEDNESDAY'S SCHEDULE

"A" Basketball

3:50 Delts vs Minturn
4:35 Philadelphia vs. Campbell
5:15 McChesney vs. Nestor

By PETE CORNACCHIA

Good basketball was the rule rather than the exception in intramural "B" basketball action Tuesday night. The Phi Delts, Phi Sigs, Betas, and Omega won close ones, while ATO and McChesney met only occasional opposition.

The Chi Phi handball crew took three straight matches from SAE.

Phi Delts Win

Garrett's push shot from the key gave the Phi Delts a 11-10 win over a strong Minturn quintet. The contest was wild and fast but resembled good basketball all the way. Each club managed a free throw in the first quarter and added a fielder in the second for a 3-3 knot at half-time.

The Phi Delts controlled most of the third canto and enjoyed an 8-5 edge at the end of the period. Min-

O.S.C. Kip Taylor Turns Offer Down

CORVALLIS, Ore.—(UP)—Paul W. Brechler, Director of Athletics at University of Iowa, has contacted Laverne (Kip) Taylor, Head Football Coach at Oregon State College, regarding the coaching job at Iowa, it was disclosed.

But Taylor, who admitted talking by telephone with Brechler, indicated he wasn't interested.

Taylor said Brechler called him from New York last night and said he was coming to the coast in the next day or so and asked Taylor if he would be "interested in the job at Iowa."

Taylor in a statement today said, "Our entire football staff is highly honored that Paul Brechler, Director of Athletics at Iowa, would contact us to determine our interest in the Iowa coaching job. Our staff is happy here. It is our hope and ambition that in the next few years Oregon State College will become one of the powers in Pacific Coast football."

The Iowa job was vacated recently by Dr. Eddie Anderson who moved to Holy Cross.

Alpha Xi, AD Pi Victors; Second Round Started

Alpha Xi Delta started the second round of the Women's basketball intramurals Monday by triumphing over the Gamma Phis, 24 to 18.

Vogel Star

Nelda Vogel sparked the Alpha Xis to the win, by making all 24 points. Doris Padrick was high-point winner on the Gamma Phi team.

The second game of the day was won by the Hotshots of Carson over the Hendricks team, 17 to 13.

AO Pi Wins

Yesterday the AD Pi's garnered a win over the Lemons of Highland House, with a score of 15 to 11; and the Hoopless Carson won by a 17 point lead over the Chi Omegas. The final score of this game was 25 to 8.
