

Young Stuff

(Continued from page two)

husband, is not along to insure Christy's presence, but because he's one of Kenton's most durable sidemen and manages a very prolific tenor. Bob Gioga's baritone will again be there to anchor the section. Incidentally, we hear that Cooper's playing a mean oboe, and will use that double-reed instrument as much as his tenor.

Shelly Manne, one of the country's ablest and most popular drummers, will be in command of all things percussive. Ed Bagley, the unknown bassist who must be good to hold down Eddie Saffrankski's book, will be doing more bowing than plucking—we suspect. And, Laurindo Almeida, who previously was Kenton's guitarist, and Carlos Vidal's bongoes round out the rhythm.

Not a single word has been mentioned of who plays piano. Kenton will have his hands plenty full just directing; but, a piano has been listed in all of the general instrumentation breakdowns we've seen.

That's about as much as we'll know about it until we have a chance to review the Portland concert for you in next Monday's paper. Why not get your tickets early so we'll be sure that there'll be no delay at the door which might, in turn, delay the concert. Kenton said that he'll play right up to closing hours, and you're going to want to hear all you can.

Drama Conference Program

Northwest Drama Conference
Thursday Program

11-2 REGISTRATION, Villard Hall, main entrance.
2-3 p.m. Conducted tour through the University Theater
3:15-5 p.m. GENERAL SESSION,
Address of Welcome, President Harry K. Newburn,
University of Oregon.
8 p.m. UNIVERSITY THEATER PRODUCTION,
"Thunder Rock," University Theater.
PORTLAND CIVIC THEATER PRODUCTION,
"Yes, My Darling Daughter," Room 104, Villard.

Deadline Nears For Scholarships

Deadline for applications for foreign scholarships is Mar. 1, with some due by Feb. 15, James D. Kline, assistant registrar, stated Wednesday.

Study opportunities exist for both graduate and undergraduate students. Most scholarships, assistantships, and fellowships are available for the 1950-51 school year, but some apply to summer sessions.

Colleges and universities offering these opportunities are located in France, England, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Czechoslovakia, The Netherlands, and South American countries.

Complete information regarding the various scholarships is posted on the bulletin board in the Office of the Registrar, Room 102, Emerald Hall. Personal information may be obtained from Kline in Room 102a.

Russ Music Talk Slated

Dr. Edmund Cykler, professor of musicology, will speak on Russian music to members of the Russian Club and their friends at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Susan Campbell basement recreation room.

Words do not make prayers any more than Thank you's make gratitude.

CLASSIFIED

TAX—Students get your income tax refund early. File now. Glen Donalson, 1060 High St. 79

TUTOR—English major will tutor freshmen in Eng Lit and Comp. $1 an hour. Call 4-7356. 80

U. O. Professor To Attend Confab

Dr. Hugh E. Wood, professor of education and coordinator of secondary school inservice training for the state system of higher education, will attend a school administrator's conference this weekend in Eastern Oregon.

Following the conference, Dr. Wood will attend a Denver, Colo., meeting of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development of the National Education Association. Thirty northwest delegates will attend.

Dr. Wood is executive secretary and past president of the organization.

Asklepiads to Hold Initiation Tonight

Initiation of 14 students into Asklepiads, pre-medicine honorary, will be held at 7 p.m. tonight in Gerlinger.

The students are chosen for outstanding scholastic achievement in pre-medical studies. They are:

Richard Baker, Richard B. Belt, Henry H. Dixon, Richard F. Smith, Peter W. Wright, Neil E. Diess, Robert D. Michel, Charles D. McCarthy, Daniel A. Heryford, James L. McCullough, Alan L. Chaimov, Mustafa Ahamad, George K. Armen, and Thomas Mannex.

Suits and ties will be the dress for the ceremony.

The fishing season is most over, but the presidential candidates are going to have an awful struggle over that red herring.

The popular way of reading menus these days is looking at the price and seeing what you can get for it.

On the Air

(Continued from page two)

two months, the Orangemen will own WSYR, their own television station. The New Yorkers have long since ceased to worry about the FCC. They are on that organization's good side, by virtue of their broadcasting unit WAER which operates on the FCC approved FM setup.

Lest some of our we-promise-you-anything politicians think of putting a television network on their platforms come Spring elections, we might mention how such stations are financed. WSYR will exist through the individual contributions of Syracuse's Board of Trustees members, and a grant by the North American Holding Corp.

There's no sense in dreaming though; we might as well throw our opium pipe away. By the time the University gets a radio station of any kind, we'll be so tickled with the accomplishment that we won't care if the rest of the country is hearing, seeing, and smelling via their radio sets. The latter doesn't sound like much of an accomplishment; some programs could give off a heck of an odor.

YW Membership to Close Friday

Membership in the YWCA will be closed at 5 p. m. Friday until after the women's elections Feb. 22.

Women who wish to join the Y may do so by filling out membership cards at the YWCA headquarters, Gerlinger Hall, before the Friday deadline.

Purpose of the membership moratorium is to allow election workers to make up files of members eligible to vote.

Slates for the election will not be announced until Feb. 21.

USA Committee to Meet

The USA steering committee will meet at 4 p.m. today in the Alpha Xi Delta house.

Coal-Burning Cut In RR Traffic

Washington (UP)—The government Wednesday ordered a 25 per cent reduction in coal-burning freight traffic and a further cut in passenger traffic.

The orders are effective midnight Friday and will stay in effect until midnight Mar. 30 unless suspended or modified by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

HAVE SOMETHING TO SELL?

EMERALD READERS ARE NOT

in the market for Beach Clothes,

Swimming Suits or Corn Planters

BUT....

IF you have merchandise

which would appeal to a

COLLEGE MARKET

IS THE PLACE FOR YOUR AD

Crime's the key to San Quentin,
I. Q's the password at Fenton,
But 80 cents will get you Stan Kenton