

Civil Service Conference Planned Here

The third annual conference of federal agencies operating in the Northwest will be held on the Oregon campus Thursday, Feb. 23. Delegates will be faculty members and students.

The general session will be held at 2 p. m. in 3 Fenton. Arnold Standing, president of the Portland Federal Personnel Council, will speak on "Careers in the Federal Service." Others will discuss compensation, requirements, and methods of entering the service.

At 3 p. m. there will be section meetings at which a faculty member will preside, a representative of one of the federal agencies will speak upon opportunities in that field, and a federal personnel man will answer questions on how to get a position.

The accounting and auditing section will meet in 206 Commerce; Law, in 307 Fenton; Planning and Architecture, 107 Architecture; Public Relations, 2 Commerce; the Sciences, 107 Commerce; Secretarial and Office Management, 106 Commerce; and Social Science and General Business, 105 Commerce.

The section meetings are open to students and are designed to explain opportunities in the federal service and how to enter it.

Dr. E. S. Wengert will preside at a luncheon at 12 noon in the Faculty Club.

Carolina State Wolfpack (20-4), who posted two decisions last week. They avenged an earlier reversal by swamping Duke under a 68-50 score, and chalked up a 66-52 victory over strong Louisville.

Down in the number eight spot, their lowest of the year, were the Long Island U. Blackbirds, posers of a 17-3 ledger. They tumbled from fourth after their 60-54 loss at the hands of Duquesne. The Blackbirds meet another tough team this week when they tangle with Cincinnati.

The Kentucky Wildcats, paced by Bill Spivey, were close behind in ninth. They racked up three decisive conquests during the week to hit the 20-victory mark as against four setbacks. The Wildcats blasted Mississippi, 90-50, and throttled Alabama, 77-57. Saturday the giant center Spivey recorded 40 points as his team crushed hapless Georgia Tech, 97-62.

Western Kentucky maintained its hold on tenth position by posting three triumphs. Two of these came at the expense of Miami of Florida, by scores of 79-57 and 83-47, and the third came as the Hill-toppers buried Evansville under an 81-56 margin, for their 22nd win to go with four losses.

Top Pacific Coast squad was UCLA (19-4) in 14th. Others were Washington State 38th, San Jose USC 26th, San Francisco 35th, State 49th, Washington 54th, and Oregon State 57th.

Here are the ratings, including Saturday's game:

1. Holy Cross (22-0)
2. Bradley (23-3)
2. Duquesne (20-1)
4. St. John's (20-3)
5. Ohio State (17-3)
6. LaSalle (16-3)
7. North Carolina State (20-4)
8. Long Island U. (17-3)
9. Kentucky (20-4)
10. Western Kentucky (22-4)
11. Indiana (16-3)
12. Wisconsin (14-4)
13. Kansas State (15-5)
14. UCLA (19-4)
15. Toledo (20-4)
16. C.C.N.Y. (14-4)
17. Arizona (20-2)
18. Wyoming (22-7)
19. Canisius (16-5)

disciplinary matters, and an organ-dent determination of student dis-ization chart which would leave no problems resulting from the formation of autonomous boards but would leave room for the growth of new activities.

Student Opinion Questionnaire

A student opinion questionnaire for suggestions for constitutional revision will be put out by the committee soon, Neely stated. Other members of the group, which has been meeting weekly since last fall, are Leslie Tooze, Velma Snellstrom, Gordon Howard, Walter Dodd, Fred Taylor, and Dick McLaughlin.

Council members decided to table discussion on the extent of its supervisory powers over classes and honoraries until next Monday's meeting. Questions under consideration included whether the council should have a closer say in determining class activities—how dances and similar functions should be run—and whether the Council can require an honorary to do a job for the Council.

The Publications Board at its last meeting consented to appoint the editor of the Ore-nter, freshman information booklet, if the Executive Council would take care of financial problems for the publication. The Council will appoint a student to take over this responsibility next week on the basis of recommendations by Council members.

Committee to Decide

Questions to be sent to the judiciary committee, which decides on matters of constitutionality or disputes in elections, include (1) Whether there are any restrictions on the Council's power to determine polling places, and if so what? (2) Is an informal telephone ballot of Council members constitutional? and (3) the Constitution states that any member of the ASUO who shall have completed at least three terms here and shall have accumulated 110 credits hours shall be eligible for election to the position of president, first vice president, second vice president, secretary-treasurer, or senior class representative. Does this limit other students from eligibility?

In explanation of the third question, Senior Representative Dick Neely claimed that the word "shall" is ambiguous in a legal sense and requires clarification, since it does not specifically exclude other students from running.

It is possible that boxing may be started as an intramural sport here next year, with the condition that if enough interest is shown it may become an intercollegiate sport the following year, Junior Representative Herb Nill reported.

Discuss ASUO Assemblies

Junior representative Gordon Howard reported on his investigation into the possibility of renewing the weekly ASUO assemblies held before the war.

Howard will contact Dan E. Clark, chairman of the University Assembly committee, to see what that group's reaction to the proposal of reinstating these assemblies next year, possibly on Wednesday afternoons.

"It is not the hope of the University to collect more money from the $5 late fee assessed students now on campus who do not register during pre-registration," DuShane explained.

The Board of Deans felt the fee necessary to make pre-registration effective, DuShane stated. If all students do not register during pre-registration, confusion results because registration at the beginning of the term is conducted on the first day of classes rather than on a separate day as in previous years. Last term 90 per cent of the student body registered during pre-registration, DuShane said.

High School Conference To be Held

Two-hundred high school students will consider the question "Will Present United States Foreign Policy Promote Peace and Prosperity?" at the International Relations League Conference on the campus Friday and Saturday.

The conference will open Friday morning with introductions, welcoming speeches, and an address by Mrs. Grace Bok Holmes, liaison officer of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

John F. Grange, director of the Woodrow Wilson School of Foreign Affairs at the University of Virginia, will speak on general aspects of United States foreign policy at the annual banquet at the Osborn Hotel.

Students selected from different schools will preside over meetings, and experts in various fields will speak.

Registration for the conference will be at Johnson Hall Thursday evening and Friday morning. Delegates and advisers will be housed in campus living organizations. Forty high schools in Oregon and one in Washington will be represented.

A study guide to aid delegates in considering United States foreign policy has been prepared under the direction of Charles P. Schleicher, professor of political science, who is in charge of general arrangements for the conference.

Contributors to the pamphlet are Paul S. Dull, associate professor of political science and history; Ivan G. Nagy, assistant professor of political science; E. C. Robbins, Jr., instructor in economics; Gordon Wright, professor of history; and Schleicher, and students Robert Erickson, Robert M. Hooker, and Glen Morgan.

Chinese Celebrate New Year's -- 4647

SAN FRANCISCO—(UP)—San Francisco's 30,000 Chinese—or at least those old-timers who believe the year is 4647 rather than 1950—celebrated Chinese New Year's at midnight last Tuesday with the traditional firecrackers and family parties.

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce said that no formal celebration was planned by the largest Chinese colony outside Asia but that most business activities would come to a halt for the rest of the week.

Chess Club to Meet

The University of Oregon Chess Club will meet in 206 Commerce tonight at 7:30 p. m.

Campus Amazons will have a chance to show their height and get rewarded for it, Horace W. Robinson, director of the University Theater said yesterday.

The tallest girl in the University will be given two free tickets to the Amazon production of the University Theater, "The Warrior's Husband," if she proves she is the tallest.

Girls who find they tower above the fellows they date can get measured at the business office of the University Theater between now and Tuesday, Feb. 28.

The winner will be given tickets to one of the six production nights of the comedy, opening Mar. 3 and playing Mar. 4, 8, 9, 10, and 11.
