

The Weather . . .

Mostly cloudy today with showers, followed by rain tonight and Friday. Little change in temperature, with a high of 52; low 39.

Oregon Daily

EMERALD

VOLUME LI

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1950

NUMBER 87

Barbara Stevenson New AWS Head

Federal Representatives To Give Job Information

General Session at 2 p. m., Section Meetings To Tell of Openings in Government Work

Federal agency representatives will be on campus today to talk with men and women students on University level occupations in the Federal Service.

The conference will include a general meeting at 2 and section meetings at 3 p. m.

At the 2 p. m. general meeting in 3 Fenton Hall a panel composed of federal officials will discuss "Careers in the Federal Service." A question and discussion period will follow.

Panel members will be Arnold Standing, president of the Portland Federal Personnel Council, speaking on the "Importance of Federal Careers;" Marion Lantz, Corps of Engineers, "Examinations and Advancement;" and Forest Creager, soil conservation, "Emoluments of Federal Service." Victor P. Morris, dean of the School of Business Administration, will preside.

Careers Possible

Career opportunities in specific fields will be dealt with in 3 p. m. section meetings. Opportunities and requirements in each field will be presented by agency representatives. Discussion will follow, in which a federal personnel man will answer questions from students.

Accounting and auditing discussion will be held in 206 Commerce Hall. Fred Huber, internal revenue department, will be the speaker. Presiding will be C. L. Kelly, and W. V. Monegan, professors of business administration.

Law Talk Set

Law and Pre-Law students will meet in 307 Fenton Hall, where Seymour Coblens and Lee Rudin, personnel of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, will speak. Orlando J. Hollis, dean of the Law School will preside.

Planning and architecture discussion is scheduled for 107 Architecture. Douglas Pelton and Marion Lantz, Corps of Engineers, will talk and N. M. Gaddis, professor of architecture, will preside.

Public relations information may be obtained in 2 Commerce Hall. Two speakers scheduled are William Southworth, press and radio man, and Forest Creager, personnel, both in the Soil and Conservation Service. Presiding will be S. T. Ford, professor of business administration, and L. R. Campbell, professor of journalism.

(Please turn to page three)

Oregana Seeks New Addresses

The 1950 Oregana requests all yearbook purchasers planning to leave school at the end of winter term to mail their home addresses to the Oregana Business office.

Jim Sanders, business manager, said this will facilitate getting all mail copies out soon after they are received. Students planning to be on campus spring quarter may get their book in McArthur Court, about May 15.

Red Cross Aids Vets, Families Through Drive

By JACKIE PRITZEN

The Red Cross needs money. Why? Scores of veterans enter Red Cross establishments seeking financial aid every year, but the organization has only enough funds to help those who need it most, Mrs. Cora Purtle, Lane County manager of the Red Cross, explained Wednesday.

Red Cross activities on the campus include medical care for the families of veterans whose education is threatened by illness, donations to veterans whose insurance payments are held up, and emergency aid in disaster.

Contributions from Oregon students help finance a full-time field director at the Roseburg Veterans' hospital. Last summer, students from the Oregon campus worked at the hospital.

Other activities at the hospital include periodical dances when Oregon coeds travel to Roseburg to participate. Students have contributed Christmas gifts, books, cigarettes, and funds for monthly birthday parties.

Through the Red Cross, groups of Veterans were guests of the University at Oregon games throughout the football season last year.

These benefits are made possible by campus donations, and can only

(Please turn to page three)

Coeds Advertise For 'Squeeze'

If any stray Thetas are found in the Men's Dorms today, it isn't a case for the Dean of Women. They're publicizing the Lemon-Orange Squeeze through a series of "flying speeches" that are being presented at the Vets' Dorms.

At a meeting of the Junior Interfraternity Council this and other methods for full publicity for the dance were considered. All foreign students from the University of Oregon and OSC will be guests of the Council at this dance.

The last council meeting of the term will be held at 7 p. m. Mar. 7 at the Sigma Nu house.

Glenn Henry Scheduled for Ball; Dancers to Select Little Colonel

Glenn Henry and his 15-piece orchestra from Los Angeles have been signed to provide the music for the annual Military Ball, Mar. 4.

The formal dance is sponsored by Scabbard and Blade, military honorary. A feature of the affair will be the selection of a little colonel from six candidates.

The little captains, who will vie for Little Colonel honors, are Betty Pollack, Margaret Nichols, Judy Bailey, Maxine Krisch, Bonnie Bressler, and Jackie Lewis.

Selection of the winner will be by ballot, one vote per ticket. Tickets will go on sale Monday, in the Co-op, with Kwama members handling the sales. Price is $2.40 per couple for the event.

Persons may cast their ballots for little colonel upon purchase of a ticket at the Co-op or at the dance. Pictures of the six candidates will be on display at the Co-op.

Henry's orchestra features Singer Maxine Elliott, the "Quintones," a vocal group, and the Glenn Glee Club, comprised of every member of the group.

Miss Elliott, fresh from a movie role in the Goldwyn production "Copacabana," is a ballad and

(Please turn to page three)

Beverly Buckley, Bonnie Gienger Elected to Posts

460 Ballots Cast in Women's Association Vote; Officers to Assume Duties Spring Term

Three new presidents of the main campus women's organizations were named last night, following Wednesday's elections.

Barbara Stevenson was elected to the top position in Associated Women's Students; Bonnie Gienger, of Women's Athletic Association; and Beverly Buckley, of the YWCA. All new officers will assume duties spring term.

Eve Overback received the second highest number of presidential votes to become vice president of AWS. Other new AWS officers are Marilyn Thompson, secretary; Carol Udy, treasurer; Elaine Hartung, sergeant-at-arms, and Betty Moshofsky, reporter.

A vote of 460 was registered in the AWS count, which is considered an average turn out.

Bonnie Gienger set a precedent by being re-elected WAA president for the second year. Last year she also set a record by being chosen president when a sophomore.

Phyllis Rich automatically becomes vice president of WAA by receiving the second highest number of votes. Janet Frye will begin

All WAA members have been advised that they may ignore the post cards in today's mail. Sent out by Custodian Bernice Gartrell to remind everyone to "vote today" they will be livered a day late—due to George Washington's birthday Wednesday, a legal holiday.

Almost two-thirds of the organization's members voted, election officials said. Appointive officers will be announced in the near future.

Dolores Jeppesen will automatically take office as first vice president of YWCA by being second presidential candidate. Second vice president will be Nancy Kuhnhausen.

Florence Hansen was elected to the secretarial position; Eleanor Johns, treasurer; and Karla Van Loan, chairman of the upperclass commission. Mary Alice Baker will chair the sophomore commission. Tied for vice chairman of the commission are Joan Zener and Janis Evans. Sophomore secretary will be Bonnie Birkemeier.

AGS Council to Meet

Members of the AGS council will consider the petition of Phi Sigma Kappa for re-entrance into the Greek Bloc today at 4 p. m. at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

An all-campus social function during spring term, sponsored by AGS, will also be discussed, Ho Deuel, AGS president, said.

AGS Council to Meet

GLENN HENRY