Quartet to Present Sunday Concert

Works by Hayden, Beethoven, and Fasch will be presented Sunday in a concert at 4 p. m. in the Music School auditorium by the University String Quartet.

The Sonata for Four Strings by Fasch, a contemporary of Bach, will open the program. The quartet will play Hayden's Quartet, Opus 76, No. 5, which contains the famous Largo, and close with Beethoven's Quartet, Opus 95, which the composer called the "serious" quartet.

Members of the University String Quartet are Mary Kapp Allton and George Boughton, violins; Edmund Cykler, viola; and Milton Dieterich, violoncello.

Future Teachers Elect

Officers will be elected at an open meeting of the Future Teachers of Oregon at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in 2 Education, to which sophomores and juniors in education have been particularly invited.

Phi Delts, Chi Psis

the thing was found at a dusty end of the court. It was 15-7 at the half-way mark.

Fighting Occurs

This evidently inspired the cagers, for ghastly blows were dealt beneath the backboards as though they were free. Enough basketball was played to provide the winners with a 26-14 lead at the final turn.

Johnson, with nine, Farnam, with eight, and Garrett, with seven, topped the Phi Delt scoring. Del Clemens, who admits to guarding four men at a time, led the Chi Psis with eight.

Kappa Sigs Victors

Unable to find the range, the Kappa Sigs and the Fijis settled for a 4-4 first-quarter knot in the other "B" semi-final. The scoring tempo grew even slower in the remainder of the half, with the Kappa Sigs holding a 7-5 edge at the intermission.

A pair of howitzers by Jack Countryman paved the way for a 12-7 Kappa Sig lead at the three-quarter mark, and the winners were in.

Blows in this fracas were concealed somewhat more than in the other three.

Anderson led the winners with eight points, and teammate Joe Caufield was next with five. Bob Dekoning tallied four for the Fijis.

Top Cinder Meet

Chi squad seems to be the favorite, however the ATO squad is not the one to tinker with. They have a strong team, and one that is used to the high altitude, while the Sigma Chi team will be coming out of the valley to run in the mountain air. This may help the ATO's but one can never tell.

The "Hilltoppers" sport such speedsters as Biff Brainard who has copped several firsts in the Broad jump and in the sprints. Caldwell has also been the "bright bulb" in the hurdles. Bentley and Reeves both ATO are the two mainstays in the three-quarter mile event.

With such material in full force against each other today, it should prove to one hot track meet. There will be top notch seats for the spectators and it will be the meet of the year both in excitement and in new records being set.

Late Registry Fees Begin Saturday

Students who fail to complete advance registration step 5—checking with the registrar—by Saturday noon will be assessed the full late fee of $5.

Step 6—paying fees to the cashier—need not be completed until regular registration, to be held Mar. 27 through noon Apr. 8.

Approximately 99 students paid their fees Wednesday, bringing the total for spring term advance registration to around 674.

YW to Honor Austrian Students

A coffee hour honoring the Austrian Student Good Will Troupe will be held at 8 p. m. tonight in Gerlinger Hall under the sponsorship of the YWCA International Affairs committee.

The troupe is in Eugene for a performance in the Eugene High School Auditorium Friday evening.

Students of music and English and a ski champion are included in the troupe's membership. The Austrians will appear in costume.

All students, faculty members, and townspeople interested in meeting these students are invited, Lois Greenwood, Y executive secretary, stated.

Tickets for Friday night's concert are still available for $1 each at the YMCA and YWCA.

Alumna Honored By Sigma Kappa

The pins of Sigma Kappa Sorority members will be worn upside down for 15 days.

The gesture is in sympathy with the recent death of Mrs. Edith Nachand, Oswego, alumna of the Alpha Phi chapter here. Mrs. Nachand was initiated in 1931.

Six 'Little Captains' On KASH Tonight

The six Little Colonel finalists will be on the air tonight at 10:15, being interviewed on the KASH "Mimi and Bob" program.

Little Captains, one of whom will be chosen to rule over the Military Ball Saturday night, are Bonnie Bressler, Betty Pollock, Margaret Nichols, Maxine Krisch, Judy Bailey, and Jackie Lewis.

The interviews, previously scheduled for Tuesday, were postponed until tonight.

Committee members of the annual Scabbard and Blade dance will also be interviewed. They are Curt Finch, dance chairman; Tom Barry, radio promotion; and Mike Bond, Little Colonel selection.

Price to Author Book In Journalism Series

Warren C. Price, professor of journalism, will edit a book in the journalism series of Rinehart and Company of New York to appear in 1951.

Tentative title of the publication is "Copyreading and News Policy." The book, emphasizing problems of judgment and display of news, will be directed at senior and graduate level journalism students.
