

WSSF Drive to Begin On Campus Monday; Students to Set Goal

World Student Service Fund, which helps students in Europe, China, and Southeast Asia with food, clothing, books, medical aid, and housing begins its annual drive on the Oregon campus Monday.

Shown here are a group of German students clearing rubble to earn enough money to carry on their university study. Since the currency reform, the savings of German students were to a great extent wiped out.

WSSF is helping these students with books, canteens and warm, well-lighted study rooms.

Socialism Talk Booked Tonight

A lecture entitled "Agrarian Socialism in Saskatchewan," based on a study of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation in Saskatchewan, Canada, will be delivered in 207 Chapman tonight at 8.

The speaker is Dr. S. M. Lipset, professor of sociology at the University of California in Berkeley.

Dr. Lipset made the study in 1945 and 1946 under a fellowship from the Social Science Research Council. Results will be published soon by the University of California Press and the Oxford University press of Canada under the title, "Agrarian Socialism, A Study of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation of Saskatchewan."

Dr. Lipset received his doctorate from Columbia University. He taught at the University of Toronto before coming to California. He has been invited to return to Columbia University next year as visiting professor in the graduate department of sociology.

Tonight's lecture is sponsored jointly by the University Lectures Committee and the Oregon chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta, national sociology honorary.

There is no admission charge and faculty members, students, and townspeople may attend.

Deadline Saturday For Scholarships

Saturday, Apr. 1, is the deadline for all scholarship applications according to Karl W. Onthank, scholarship counselor. Applications for some awards will not be accepted after that date.

Students planning to apply for scholarships may now obtain application blanks from the scholarship office, 216 Emerald. New comprehensive blanks which may be used for all awards not given by the state are now available.

"Applications turned in earliest will receive first and closest examination," Onthank said.

Tryouts Set Tonight

Final tryouts for "The Girl I Left Behind Me," Early American melodrama, will be held tonight in room 104 Villard at 7:30. Any interested person who cannot attend this tryout should contact Horace W. Robinson before 7:30.

WSSF—World Student Service Fund—begins its third annual drive on the Oregon campus Monday, continuing through Friday.

Only officially sponsored AS-UO drive of the year, WSSF is the agency through which American students and faculty members can help their needy foreign contemporaries through World Student Relief.

"Don't Pass the Buck—Give It" is theme of the U. O. campaign. No definite goal has been set for the drive, Co-chairmen Willy Dodds and Ed Peterson said. The matter

All house representatives for the World Student Service Fund drive have been asked to meet at 4 p. m. today in 207 Chapman by Ann Darby, WSSF collections chairman.

is being left entirely for the students' own decision. Last year $1,500 was raised on the campus through the drive and Vodvil Show.

Progress Display

Progress of the drive will be determined daily through milk bottle containers in the Co-op, Ann Darby, collections chairman, said.

"Top contributor of the day will be moved to first position in the row of 65 milk bottles, which will represent each living organization," Miss Darby revealed.

There will also be a general container in the center for off-campus contributors.

Vodvil Slated

Eugene radio stations are cooperating in boosting the drive and Vodvil Show. All proceeds from the Vodvil Show, set for Apr. 14, will go into the WSSF fund.

Special events to promote the drive next week are promised daily, according to Bill Carey, special events chairman. Wednesday and Friday will be the biggest days, he said. Further details will appear in the Emerald next week.

Spaeth to Discuss 'Music for Fun'

Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, popular speaker and writer on music, will come to the University Apr. 4 to present his program, "Music for Fun."

Known to radio listeners and motion picture audiences throughout the country for his compositions, books, and lectures on music, Dr. Spaeth has an informal, humorous approach to his subject.

His talk on the campus, with illustrations at the keyboard, will concern the recreational side of music and how to participate, regardless of talent or experience.

Dr. Spaeth will be the last speaker to appear in McArthur Court this year. Others appearing under auspices of the Assembly Committee in their series this year have been Dorothy Thompson, William L. Shirer, and Norman Thomas.

Grades Delayed By Short Vacation

Student grade reports are being held up because of the short spring vacation, according to Clifford L. Constance, registrar.

"Our student helpers who record the grades can work only during their free hours, and since the vacation was so short they were unable to finish it then," Constance explained.

A notice will be printed in the Emerald as soon as the grades are ready.

'Duck Preview' Program Set in April

Campus Vodvil Slated Apr. 14; Profit for WSSF

All-campus Vodvil returns to the University Apr. 14, with 12 variety acts slated for entertainment of students, faculty, townspeople, and visiting high school seniors.

Proceeds from the hour-long show are earmarked for the World Student Service Fund, according to Co-chairmen Willy Dodds and Ed Peterson.

Each living organization is eligible to submit an act for judging in eliminations Apr. 11 and 12. Gretchen Grondahl, program chairman, has announced.

Meeting Friday

All sororities, fraternities, co-operatives, dorms, and Ordes and Yeomen are asked to send a representative to a meeting Friday, 4 p. m., at the Delta Delta Delta house. Information on eliminations and judging will be given at that time.

Representatives should have a general idea of the act their house plans to present by Friday, Miss Grondahl said. There will be a five-minute limit on each performance.

Two Prizes Set

Prizes will be given to the two houses having the best acts. The most outstanding individual performer will also receive an award.

Last year Ordes won first-place trophy in the Vodvil with their play "Hammet." Lambda Chi Alpha was second with their interpretation of a German band, while Sigma Nu placed third with their jazz band, "Sammy Horsey's Seven and Two." Best individual performer was Elizabeth Nelson, Tri-Delta.

Oregana, Ore-nter Post Selection Set

Head positions on the Oregana and Ore-nter staffs for the 1950-51 school year will be filled Apr. 12, by the Publications Board.

The board will meet to select an editor and business manager for the Oregana, and the Ore-nter editor. Selections will be made from petitions turned in by the candidates. Bill Carey was chosen as Ore-nter business manager last term.

Olga Yevtich, Student Union Office, said petitions must be submitted to her before noon on Apr. 8 to be eligible for consideration by the Publications Board.

Positions for editor and business manager of the Emerald and the Student Directory will be filled at a date to be announced later.

4335 Students Register

A total of 4335 students finished registering by last night, according to Registrar Clifford L. Constance.

He warned that students must pay fees by Saturday noon, if they wish to escape the $5 late registration fee. Assessment of this penalty will begin Monday at 8 a. m.

Sun's Only Fooling; Rain Coming Soon

If you've stowed your winter "longies" because of recent sunshine, you're in for a breezy week, the weather bureau reported Wednesday.

Cloudiness will increase today, with probability of rain this afternoon, the bureau predicted.

Oh well, you can still cut class and go to the Side for coffee—instead of cokes.

Speech Contest Opens Friday

More than 165 Oregon high school speech students representing 41 schools will participate in the state-wide speech contest to be held in Villard Hall Friday and Saturday.

These contestants are all survivors of district eliminations according to Dr. K. E. Montgomery, professor of speech and executive secretary of the General Extension Division, which is sponsoring the contest.

Finals Saturday

Preliminaries will begin at 9 a. m. Friday and continue through the afternoon. Finalists will be announced at Friday night's banquet in Carson Hall dining room.

Finalists will compete again on Saturday, with the contests culminating in the final after-dinner speaking contest to be given at Saturday night's banquet in John Straub. Dr. Montgomery will present trophies to state winners in all nine divisions at that time.

Program Scheduled

After-dinner speeches and the presentation of awards will be broadcast over KOAC from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. Saturday night. Dr. R. C. McCall, head of the Department of Speech, will be toastmaster at the banquet.

This year the debate section has been divided into two units, one for "A" schools, those having 300 or more enrollment, and one for "B" schools, those having less than 300 enrollment. There will be six rounds of debate for each unit. In all other divisions there will be two rounds of eliminations.

Women's Groups Install Officers At Special Service Tonight at 7

Officers of the three major women's organizations will be installed in a special service at 7 p. m. tonight in Alumni Hall, Gerlinger.

All women students may attend the program. Campus clothes will be in order for spectators.

Marie Lombard, outgoing Associated Women Students' president, will install the new AWS officers. Barbara Stevenson, president; Eve Overback, vice president; Marilyn Thompson, secretary; Carol Udy, treasurer; Betty Moshofsky, reporter; and Elaine Hartung, sergeant-at-arms, will be installed.

New YWCA officers will be installed by ex-President Billie Jean Riethmiller. Elective officers to be installed are Beverly Buckley,

Seniors in State Get Invitations To Big Weekend

Nearly 10,000 invitations to "Duck Preview," Apr. 14, 15, 16, have been issued to high school seniors throughout the state, according to Bill Carey, invitations co-chairman.

Letters to 232 senior class presidents, giving information on the "Preview," were also mailed by the committee in promotion of the annual weekend. Invitations were received by every senior in Oregon graduating during the 1949-50 school year, which included 9,932 students, Carey said.

Weekend Explained

University students from Oregon high schools returned to their schools during spring vacation, speaking to seniors and explaining the activities and purposes of the weekend.
