

University Student Dies of Heart Attack

Robert I. Phillips, University junior in pre-law, died of a heart attack Monday, Mar. 20, in the Infirmary.

Walking into the Infirmary about noon Monday, Phillips complained of sharp pains in his chest. He died shortly after noon.

He was a fall term transfer from Vanport College.

In addition to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Phillips of Portland, the 25-year-old student is survived by a brother, Dr. Tom Phillips of Lake Grove, and two sisters, Betty Sturgess, Vancouver, and Alice Lawless, Los Angeles.

Funeral services were held in Portland last week.

Full Weekend Planned By Religious Groups

A Palm Sunday service of meditation will be held at Westminster House Sunday evening, following the fellowship supper at 5:30. Janet Danielson and Frank Cothrell are in charge of the worship services, and Ed Neuenfeldt heads the fellowship supper.

Next week's schedule at Westminster House includes the Wednesday chapel service to be led by Jim Woodworth, and the Tuesday and Thursday devotional meetings. Starting time for these three meetings is 12:30 p. m.

Fellowship suppers (pot-luck style) are scheduled for every Thursday evening of the term.

The group's officers will hold their annual retreat this Saturday to plan term activities. Apr 21 and 22 are the established dates for the group's retreat, which will be held either at Nelscott or Belknap Springs.

All house representatives will meet with Ruth Landry, vice president, at 7 p. m. Tuesday in the upstairs meeting room at the Side.

The executive council will meet at Seymour's after the 9 a. m. Mass Sunday. Officers and committee heads will attend.

Both Monday and Wednesday's discussion groups will study the ceremonies of Holy Week next week. All Catholics are invited to the informal discussions at 7 p. m. at the Side.

Sunday evening at 6 p. m., Leona E. Tyler, associate professor of psychology, will speak and lead a discussion on the subject "How our beliefs affect our actions." This will be preceded by a social hour at 4 in Plymouth House where students may play shuffleboard, ping-pong, and pool. A snack supper will be served at 5:45.

who thought she was looking at the ruins.

Someone drew a diagram of how she was looking over her shoulder. I said that I understood, but actually I said it just to keep peace. Things grew rather embarrassing, and finally we changed the subject.

We began looking for other things in the picture. What we found: two Arab women with veils, an albino seal with many flippers, a tiger, a baby, and a gentleman resembling Erasmus of Rotterdam.

What I want to know is what this was all doing under the WSSF story. This picture could, by the way, be used for other stories. No one would know the difference.
