Law Students Challenge Basis of Student Court

Unconstitutionality Claimed by Zealous Bar Aspirants; Post Bail in Parking Case
By GRETCHEN GRONDAHL

Constitutionality of the ASUO Student Court was questioned by a group of law students at the court's weekly meeting Tuesday night.

Controversy centered around the case of John C. Caldwell, fifth-year law student, whose car was claimed to be parked illegally on the campus.

Caldwell and his counsel, Ted Goodwin, also a fifth-year student, maintained that the student court has no legal jurisdiction over student traffic violations and questioned whether a student could be fined for illegal parking when his car was being driven by someone else. The students plan to enter their pleas to the Judiciary Committee for determination of the constitutionality point.

Students Post Bail

Dale F. McKenzie, fifth-year law student, entered a similar plea upon his arrival at the court after the departure of the other students.

Both students pleaded not guilty and posted bail pending further decision.

McKenzie stated that he had fully intended to appear with the other students in registering their protest.

Beaux Art Plans Nearing Climax

Decorations for the Beaux Arts Ball are rapidly taking shape, General Chairman Jack Broome said yesterday.

"Of course, some of the 'shapes' are rather strange," he confided, "but who cares?"

Mobile sculpture and murals will comprise most of the decorations. All will be in keeping with the theme of the ball, "Departed Spirits."

Paper on which the murals are to be painted has been hung at various stations throughout the School of Architecture and Allied Arts, and all students have been invited to "make their mark."

Houses to Pick Auction Reps

All living organizations are urged by Chairman Tom Barry to send representatives to the WSSF auction Friday. Dick Neeley will be auctioneer for the event, scheduled for 4 p. m. in front of the Side.

Students will be able to see the Kappa Alpha Thetas, Pi Beta Phis, and Sigma Phi Epsilons go to the highest bidders, with payment to be rendered in service as waiters. Harry has also sent out a call for all groups that have miscellaneous items which they would like to donate to the auction, to call him at the Sig Ep house.

Curt Finch and his Pep Band will provide music at the auction. Skits will be presented by the Thetas and the Pi Phis. All proceeds will go to the World Student Service Fund.

WSSF Contest Gives Winners Waiter Service

Music from the WSSF German Band will announce the World Student Service Fund contest today, which offers as prizes the services of four freshman classes.

Winners of the contest will be judged on the average amount given per capita to the WSSF drive today, Don Hanel, contest chairman, said.

Delta Gamma, Alpha Chi Omega, Phi Kappa Psi, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon will furnish the freshmen, who will act as waiters for the winners at Thursday night dinner. Mealtime entertainment will be an additional feature.

Winner to Choose

The two winners in the women's and men's organizations, respectively, will decide among themselves which house will act as their waiters or waitresses. Men's groups will go to women's houses, and vice versa.

The German Band, directed by J. MacNaughton Epley, will tour the campus from 12 to 12:45, passing each living organization.

House representatives will receive contributions throughout the day, reporting the amount received to their captains between 6 and 7 p. m. Top houses will then be computed, considering both total membership and contributions.

Broadcast Set

Four chairmen of WSSF committees will be interviewed over KORE at 12:45 today. They are Ed Peterson, general co-chairman; Ann Darby, collection; Ann Gillenwaters, posters; and Fred Dodge, letters.

Total receipts of the drive to date have not been computed yet, Miss Harby reported Tuesday night. However, they will be released Thursday.

The present drive, which continues through Friday, is the only campaign of the year officially sponsored by the ASUO.

Last year $1,500 was raised at Oregon through the WSSF drive and Vodvil show.

1950 Oregana To Hit Campus Around May 20

The 1950 Oregana will probably be out around May 20.

That's the present estimate of Editor Larry Davidson, who stated Tuesday that all material will be in the bindery before Apr. 20.

The book is all finished, edited, and at the printers.

Living organizations pages are already printed up and are now at the bindery; the cover and inset pages are finished, Davidson said.

About half of the lithographic work has been completed.

Because of a printers' strike in Portland, distribution of last year's Oregana was delayed until the middle of August.

The annual Oregana Banquet, honoring staff members and giving them a sneak preview of the 1950 book, will be held about three days before distribution of the books.

Dorothy Orr, senior in business, takes the honors for the most-pictured student in this year's volume, Davidson stated. Miss Orr hit the picture pages 13 times.

Will Urban, basketball star, was a close runner-up with 11 pictures. Other off-photographed students are Mel Krause, Bob Lavey, and Jim Stanley, with 9 pictures listed; and Mildred Chetty, Joanne Frydenlund, and Marguerite Johns, each with 8 pictures.

Grand Opera Starts; 'Martha' Opens April 21

Grand opera will make its debut in the University's spacious new theater, when Frederick von Flotow's popular four act comic opera "Martha" is presented Apr. 21, 22, 27, 28, and 29.

The fourth production of the Theater's 1949-50 season, "Martha" will be directed by Herman Gelhausen, professor of voice, with Florence Vanderwicken, professor of voice, as associate director. George Boughton will direct the 20 to 22-piece orchestra.

Singing the title of Martha, or Lady Harriet Durham, will be Joy Grimsted and Dorothy Gangnath. James Kays will sing the role of Lionel. Nancy will be sung by Shirley Anderson and Lucile Olson.

Other roles will be portrayed by Walter Martin as Plunkett, Robert Roberts as Sir Tristram, Phillip Green as the Sheriff, and James Wolters. Several roles are yet to be cast.

"Martha," also known as the "Fair of Richmond," was first presented in Vienna on Nov. 25, 1847. The best known work of von Flotow, "Martha" is in the standard repertoire of most European opera companies and has been presented many times by the Metropolitan Opera Co. of New York. Enrico Caruso sang the leading tenor role of "Lionel" at one time.

Von Flotow wrote some 30 other pieces for the stage, including opera, operettas and ballets, but only two of his works have retained their popularity—"Martha" and a lesser-known opera, "Stradella."

Several well known and popular songs appear in "Martha," including "The Last Rose of Summer,"

'Melody Magic' Chosen Junior Weekend Theme

Winning Theme for Annual May Pageant Submitted by Sophomore Jack Bissinger

"Melody Magic" will be the theme of this year's Junior Weekend.

The winning theme, submitted by Jack Bissinger, junior in art, was selected by junior class officers, Prom Chairman Gerry Smith and Float Parade Chairman Will Urban and Jim Hershner Tuesday night.

Bissinger's entry won for him a free evening's entertainment including a dinner for himself and his date and tickets to the Junior Prom May 13.

Qualifications

Qualifications for entries in the float parade, scheduled for May 13, will be listed in Thursday's Emerald.

Theme for the Prom will be determined by the prom committee soon, Smith said.

Activities for the entire weekend, including the parade, prom, All-Campus Sing, and picnic, will be worked around the "Melody Magic" theme.

Bissinger suggested that the entire weekend could be a series of song titles. "There would be little disappointment because of duplication on the float parade titles as there was last year, for there would be literally thousands of songs to choose from," he said.

'Fashion Plate' Balloting Slated Here Monday

Voting for Oregon's "Miss Fashion Plate" will begin next Monday. Students may save the ballots found in Revlon advertisements in both this and last Friday's Emeralds.

The contest, being held on several hundred United States campuses, is sponsored by Revlon products. Revlon student representatives on each campus are directing the competitions. Anne Goodman, junior in journalism, is Oregon's representative.

Students may vote at the Co-op from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 5 p. m. next Monday through Friday. To avoid ballot-box stuffing, students will be requested to present their student body cards for stamping.

Oregon's 10 candidates were selected last week by a committee of Art Johnson, ASUO president; Don Smith, Emerald editor; Dorothy Orr, senior representative; Larry Davidson, Oregana editor; and Miss Goodman.

They used new Oregana pictures as the basis for selection.

A full year's supply of Revlon cosmetics will be awarded to the winner on each campus. The national winner, to be selected from photographs by Revlon's New York office, will win, among other things, an expense-free trip to Bermuda.

Book Display Cancelled

The new book display in the University Library will be suspended temporarily during building alterations. It will be resumed when work is completed.

Inter-dorm Group Has First Meeting

A get-acquainted meeting was held by the Inter-dormitory council last night at the Side for the benefit of the new hall presidents. During the meeting the presiding president, Vic Fryer, gave a report from the ASUO Committee on Dormitories.

It was suggested by Fryer that the election of new officers for next year should be held the third meeting of spring term. This was to give the new presidents an opportunity to get acquainted with prospective office holders.

The next meeting of Inter-dormitory Council will be held Tuesday, Apr. 11, 7:30 p. m.

Faculty to Study Grade Changes

*Faculty members will decide today at 4 p. m. in 3 Fenton on the time allowed in removing an incomplete grade and on the requirements for earning a bachelor's degree after receiving the junior certificate.

The first motion would make it necessary to remove an incomplete by completing the course within the next three terms at the University. The amendment to this motion states that after three terms, exempting summer sessions, the incomplete shall be changed to F.

The second motion would repeal the requirement that a minimum of 45 hours must be earned after receiving Junior Certificate and before being granted a bachelor's degree.

Both motions will be presented by C. F. Weigle, chairman of the special committee for the Study of Academic Regulations.

'George Apley' Film Shows in Chapman

"The Late George Apley," starring Ronald Coleman, will be the first presentation of the Spring term schedule of Wednesday night movies in room 207 Chapman Hall.

The film, which was released three years ago, will be shown at 7 and 9 p. m. Only students will be admitted to the production, and they may be required to show their student body cards upon request.

"The Late George Apley" is a dramatization of the John Marquand novel, which was a best seller a few years ago. It is a comedy of manners concerning a proper Bostonian and his family.
