

Civil Service Men to Discuss Job Openings

State civil service representatives will discuss university-level occupations with University students this afternoon.

The conference will begin with a general meeting at 2 p. m. in 3 Fenton. James M. Clinton, acting director, and George Robinson, chief examiner, will outline current opportunities in the State Civil Service. Both men are former University students.

Separate Section Meetings

At 2:30 p. m., representatives will meet with students in smaller section meetings, planned according to fields. After section meetings, students may talk with speakers individually.

The section meeting of accounting, auditing, and related occupations will be held in 206 Commerce. Adam Lefor, division of audits, and Jason Lee, tax commission, will speak. Professors of business administration C. L. Kelly and W. V. Monegan will be in charge.

Personnel, public relations, and general business will be discussed in 5 Commerce. Gordon Shattuck, employment compensation commission, will be guest speaker. S. T. Ford, professor of business administration will preside.

Social Work

Social work will be explained by Mrs. Margaret White, state welfare commission, in 206 Oregon. E. H. Moore, professor of sociology will conduct the meeting.

Health and biological science will be discussed in 3 Fenton. A. T. Johnson will represent the State Board of Health. P. L. Risley, professor of biology, will preside.

Karl W. Onthank, graduate placement director, said the conference would be similar to one held last term by the Federal Civil Service Commission, but more extensive.

Civil Service representatives will be guests at a noon luncheon meeting today in the Faculty Club.

ISA to Meet Tonight

The Independent Students Association will meet tonight at 7:30 in 105 Commerce.

Election of officers and the political future of ISA will be discussed in the meeting.

Auction Set for Side Friday at 4 Winners Get Waiters, WSSF Profit

"Don't forget the auction," is the advice of Auction Chairman Tom Barry.

The event, with all proceeds going to the World Student Service Fund, is scheduled for 4 p. m. Friday in front of the Side.

Going on the block will be groups of 15 from Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi, and Sigma Phi Epsilon. They will act as waiters at dinner for the winners. Purchasers may set their own time.

Only men's houses will be allowed to bid on the women's groups, and vice versa, Barry said. Miscellaneous items will also be

No Float Entry Unless Reps Go To Pairing Meet

Junior Weekend float parade chairmen from each campus living organization must be present at the pairing drawing, scheduled for 4 p. m. Tuesday in 105 Oregon, Co-Chairman Jim Hershner stated Wednesday.

Any organization not represented at the drawing will be absolutely ineligible to enter a float in the parade, Hershner said. He requested that house presidents appoint their float chairmen this week. Either the chairman or a representative must attend the meeting.

Reason given for the compulsory attendance rule was that in former years living organizations who wish to be paired together have not attended the drawing, and later have gone to the parade chairman together to request a pairing.

"There have been a lot of unhappy houses because of this," Hershner said.

Juniors are preferred as house parade chairmen, but selection of sophomores or seniors is permissible, Hershner explained.

Hershner and his co-chairman, Will Urban, will explain the parade route, rules on expenditures and dimensions of floats at the Tuesday meeting.

Grades Released At Emerald Today

Grades will be available inside the center door of Emerald Hall starting this afternoon at 3.

When calling for grades, students should report to the table alphabetically corresponding to their last names. Each student must pick up his own grades.

Musicians' Unions a Hinderance To American Music Spaeth Says

By BILL VAN STEENWYK

Union pressure, both in artists and allied unions is hamstringing American music, according to Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, noted author, lecturer, and musician who appeared at McArthur Court Tuesday night.

In a Tuesday afternoon press conference at the Eugene Hotel, Dr. Spaeth cited numerous instances where the American Federation of Musicians Union and others, such as the Stagehands Union, had killed concert tours and radio shows by making them too expensive or otherwise impossible to produce.

Repudiating the fact that the AFM is designed primarily to keep legitimate musicians in work, Spaeth declared that eighty per cent of the members of the AFM were part-time musicians. These people held regular jobs other than in legitimate music and earned extra money by working as musicians in their spare time.

Under the union plan these musicians had to belong to the AFM to play professionally. Of the other twenty per cent, Spaeth affirmed half were not good musicians, and that the other ten per cent who were good musicians "were never out of work."

Houses are asked by Barry to send a representative to participate in the auction bidding. Donation items for auction are also sought by Barry, who may be contacted at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house.

Saleable white elephants are needed, he stated. Such things as sweaters, rain caps, and jackets will also be accepted.

Entertainment for the auction will be provided by Curt Finch and his Pep Band and skits, presented by Kappa Alpha Theta and Pi Beta Phi.

Toyland, Tulips Set for Vodvil; Themes in Today

Eight houses had indicated their choice of theme early Wednesday for the All-Campus Vodvil, Apr. 14, with the majority expected to answer today.

Gretchen Grondahl, program chairman, requests that all groups return their post cards today, telling the theme of their act. In cases of duplication of ideas, the first card received will take precedence, she said.

Tryouts Begin Tuesday

Finalists will be chosen in eliminations to take place next Tuesday and Wednesday, beginning at 6:30 p. m. in Gerlinger Annex. All groups must furnish their own props.

Ticket price for the Vodvil has been set at 50 cents, Co-chairman Willy Dodds and Ed Peterson announced. Campus sales will start Wednesday in the Co-op and continue through Friday.

Among the first theme ideas to be received was Alpha Delta Pi's "Toyland," which will show after-hours life in a toy shop.

Western Show

Ann Judson will sing a folk tune entitled "Fair Hannah," while Zeta Tau Alpha plans a shadow act, "Tricycle Built for Two." Scenes based on the song "Dearie" will be featured by Delta Zeta.

Victor Borge's rendition of Mozart's Opera, with narrator and pantomime, is the central theme for the Delta Gamma act. Campbell Club will show "Flicker Flashbacks," in a one-act pantomime.

A song and dance routine to "By the Light of the Silvery Moon," is the choice of Alpha Omicron Pi. Delta Delta Delta plans to give "Tip Toe Through the Tulips" with 16 girls singing and dancing.

Fall Term Rushing For Women Oked By Panhell, IDC

An agreement between Panhellenic and the Interdormitory Council to hold women's rushing fall term of the students' freshman year was reached at a meeting winter term, representatives of the groups reported yesterday.

The agreement came out of two meetings held shortly before final week winter term. They were attended by representatives of Panhellenic, the inter-sorority group, and representatives of the Interdormitory Council.

WSSF Behind With $340 Total On Fourth Day

Approximately $340 had been raised for the World Student Service Fund drive by Wednesday night, with 10 houses failing to report.

"With the drive now entering its fourth day, this is a poor showing," Ed Peterson, co-chairman stated. "In order to meet our expectations it must be greatly improved today and Friday."

"The students should back WSSF 100 per cent, Peterson declared, "since it is the only campaign of the year officially sponsored by the ASUO. It is the drive from students to students."

In Wednesday's contest winners and runners-up in the women's group Zeta Tau Alpha, first, with $52.67 and Pi Beta Phi, with $68.85. For the men, Stitzer Hall took first place with $11.80, while Phi Kappa Psi took second with $11.30.

Judging was done on the average amount given per capita in each group. For winning first place, ZTA will have the services of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon freshmen as waiters at dinner tonight. Pi Phi will have the Phi Kappa Psis.

Since Stitzer Hall eats in the Vets Commons, they will have entertainment only from Alpha Chi Omega. The Delta Gammas will go to the Phi Psi house.

"In keeping with a rule of the Inter-Fraternity Council, the competitive arrangement of the milk bottles in the Co-op has been removed from the WSSF drive," Co-chairman Ed Peterson stated last night.

Some living groups have withheld their contributions because of the competitive aspect, which violated an IFC rule.

The milk bottles will remain in the Co-op, but will not be arranged in order.

Voting Talk Set By Young GOP

What can be done to secure state approval of voting in the May primaries for students who do not live in Eugene?

This will be discussed by campus Young Republicans at a 6:45 meeting tonight in 2 Oregon.

Group President Beldon Owens informed the Emerald that the 1948 procedure has been changed, and students now will not be able to cast ballots in Eugene if their home is located elsewhere.

The city of Eugene will take registrations and accept absentee ballots which will be sent to the voter's home precinct.

The Campus Young Republicans are attempting to secure a change in the plan through the state elections office in Salem.

New officers will also be elected at the meeting.

Under the terms of the agreement, Panhellenic will give the "fullest cooperation" to the dormitories in encouraging loyalties and cooperation of pledges living in the dormitories.

Jackie Pritzen and Joan White, representing the dormitories and sororities respectively, conferred Wednesday with Donald M. DuShane, director of student affairs, reporting the conclusions reached at the winter-term meeting.

They are scheduled to meet with Mrs. Golda P. Wickham, director of women's affairs sometime next week to work out details.

DuShane Statement

Mr. DuShane told the Emerald Wednesday that "we have been hoping for a long time that the agreement could be reached.

"I see no reason why it is not possible for freshmen women to benefit from the dormitory counseling programs and also from the guidance of the sororities.

"The next step now is for Panhellenic and the dormitories to meet with Mrs. Wickham to find time to fit dormitory orientation and sorority rushing into next Fall's student week schedule."

Miss Pritzen, speaking for the dormitory group, declared that "the women's dormitories assented to fall term rushing to keep the issue from continuing indefinitely.

Rushing Advantages

"We feel that fall term rushing has a few advantages to the dormitories themselves. However, with the sororities taking the initiative in cooperation between houses and dormitories, a satisfactory system of living-in should result."

"Cooperation between both dorms and houses will be essential to the success of living-in next year."

Joan White, newly elected president of Panhellenic, left for Victoria, B. C., Wednesday evening and could not be reached for comment.

Frances Robeson, former president of the group, said Panhellenic was pleased with the agreement.

"I am sure that with the cooperation that has been shown so far, they will be able to work it out. I know the cooperation will continue, but it'll take work."

Freshmen men will pledge the first part of winter term, according to a compromise reached last January by the Interfraternity Council and the Interdormitory Council.

The policy regarding male pledges will support the dormitory until the sixth week of winter term in the event of conflicting activities. Freshmen will not play on fraternity intramural teams until the sixth week of winter term.

Night Classes Offered

An assortment of night classes ranging from personnel management to elementary German is offered by the University General Extension Office for spring term.

Deadline for registration is noon Saturday, but late registration will continue after the date, with a dollar fine for each week after deadline. Fees for the classes and information on what classes will be offered may be obtained by calling the General Extension Office.
