Duck Preview RSVP's Flood Campus Mail

The campus mailbag has bulged during the past week with replies from Oregon high school seniors who have been invited to Duck Preview weekend Apr. 14-16.

Between 800 and 900 visitors are expected to hit the campus weekend after this, and the whole picture of the weekend, explained yesterday at a meeting of the weekend committee, is somewhat as follows:

Housing: Preference lists from fraternities, sororities, and women's co-operatives have been compiled from a complete list of all seniors who have indicated they will attend the weekend.

These lists indicate which high schoolers the various organizations would like to have stay with them. Where the same name appears on more than one preference list, a drawing will determine where the particular high-schooler will be housed; otherwise they will be assigned according to the preference of the living organizations.

Students who indicated they wished dormitory housing were assigned directly to John Straub Hall for the boys, and Hendricks and Carson for the girls.

Seniors who show up without having mailed in an acceptance will be assigned one at a time on an alphabetical basis by living organizations, to housing of the general type they prefer. (The high school students are given preference only between fraternities and sororities, cooperatives, and dorms.) All the visitors must register to take part in any of the weekend's activities.

Registration: 4 to 9 p. m. Friday and 9 to 12 noon Saturday at Johnson Hall. It's imperative that all the high-schoolers go through this step, where they will be notified of housing assignment, given tickets for the events of the weekend, and relieved of $2 registration fee.

All living organizations must have a representative at the registration place during the above hours to take care of the visitors who will stay with their respective groups.

Events: These will include the All-campus Vodvil Friday night, assembly at 10 a. m. Saturday, tours of the Student Union building and Carson Hall Saturday morning, picnic luncheon—weather permitting—Saturday noon on the new campus, baseball game and amphibian water show that afternoon, all-campus date dance Saturday night in Gerlinger annex, and exchange dinners with other living groups Sunday at 1 p. m.

Assembly Saturday

The Saturday morning assembly will be in the University Theater at Villard Hall. Student Body President Art Johnson will be master of ceremonies, and speakers will include President Newburn, Student Union Manager Dick Williams, Football Coach Jim Aiken, and Mrs. Wickham, director of women's affairs. Entertainment is planned.

An old-time picnic theme will be carried out at the outdoor luncheon on the new campus Saturday. Eight serving tables will dish up food, and a decorated platform will be the center of attention, with varied entertainment emanating therefrom.

All-Campus Dance

The Saturday night dance in Gerlinger Annex will feature a "live" band, and will be open to both high school and college students—with dates. Houses will be paired by drawings for the exchange dinners Sunday.

A special edition of the Emerald Friday Apr. 14 will be directed primarily at the visiting high school students, and will carry a complete schedule of the weekend's events. General advance information, in the form of a welcome booklet edited by Lorna Larson and Dick Dahlberg, has already been mailed to the students along with their invitations to the weekend.

U. O. Speaker Takes Top Place

Nancy Yates, freshman in liberal arts, placed first in women's impromptu speaking Wednesday at the College of Pacific Forensic Tournament. She was one of eight University speech students who attended the three-day invitational speech contest at Stockton, California, Apr. 3, 4, and 5.

Norman Fugitt and Leland Johnson, sophomores in business and pre-law, were awarded third place in lower division men's debates. Leland Johnson also made the finals in extemporaneous speaking. Nancy A. O'Connor, freshman in liberal arts, was in the final round in the oratorical contest.

Other University students who attended the conference were Pat Wasson, Don Collin, Bill Lees, and Kelly Farris.

The victorious students will return to Eugene Friday, accompanied by Herman Cohen, instructor in speech, and E. R. Nichols, professor of speech.

Journal Club Meet Scheduled Tuesday

The Journal Club of the Foreign Language Department will hold its first spring term meeting at 8 p. m. next Tuesday in the Men's Lounge, Gerlinger Hall.

Arthur Pap, professor of philosophy, will speak on "Semantics and Contemporary Philosophy."

Faculty, students, and other interested persons may attend the lecture and join the following informal discussion.

Identification Pics Taken This Week

Women students who did not have their identification photos taken when they registered should report to the photographic bureau in Johnson Hall some afternoon this week to be photographed.

The photos are used in files in the Office of Student Affairs. Students in doubt about their photos may call Mrs. Edith Jacobs, counselor for women.

Senior Honorary Offers Scholarship

Application blanks for the Mortar Board scholarship, which is open to junior women, may now be obtained at the Office of Women's Affairs, 201 Emerald Hall.

Completed blanks must be returned to that office by Apr. 19 to be considered in the judging.

The award is made on the basis of scholarship, need, and service. The winner will be announced May 12, the night of the All-Campus Sing.
