BA Students Win Graduate Awards

Five University seniors in business administration have won store-service graduate awards at New York University for the next academic year.

The are Glenn R. Haines, Frank A. Peabody, Ralph H. Starford, Betty E. Twedt, and Donald W. Van Zyl.

Each award carries a stipend of $500. Students will work for their master's degrees in retailing at New York University, and in addition work part-time for credit in leading New York stores.

According to statistics half the women marry before they are twenty-five. Maybe because it takes them so long to reach that age.

Alumni Group To Direct Dance At Homecoming

Complete direction of the Homecoming dance has been transferred to the Alumni Association. This action was approved last week in a regular meeting of the Student Union Board.

Formerly, the dance had been supervised by the Educational Activities Office. The change was the last step needed to complete a centralized alumni direction of all Homecoming activities.

Under the new plan, alumni will undertake all responsibility for the financial success or failure of the dance. The Student Union Office, however, will still book the orchestra in cooperation with the alumni.

In a previous Board meeting, Dick Williams, Student Union director, presented the pros and cons of the proposed transfer. He said that although the dance was usually profitable for the ASUO, the move would consolidate all Homecoming activities in one office. This would tend for more organization than could be realized with management divided between the Alumni Association and the ASUO.

"Since Homecoming first started," Williams stated, "the shift has been a gradual one from the management of certain areas. The dance would be the last area needed to complete a centralized alumni direction of all Homecoming activities."

He added that the change would be "a good idea from the administrative point of view."

New Constitution

Students to Vote

(Continued from page one) Local winners will receive a year's supply of Revlon cosmetics. The national winner, "Miss Fashion Plate of 1950," will be selected on the basis of pictures sent to the company's New York office.

A trip to Bermuda with expenses paid, plus several other gifts, will be awarded the national winner.

Littman Returns Home With White Rat Grant

R. A. Littman, professor of psychology, recently returned from Illinois where he conferred with Dr. O. H. Mowrer of the University of Illinois.

The two psychology professors have a grant from the Universities of Illinois and Oregon and are now conducting research on the social behavior of white rats.

3,000 Worshipers At MacArthur Court Easter Morn Services

Nearly 3,000 students and Eugene residents gathered in MacArthur Court Sunday morning at 6:30 for the annual Community Easter Sunrise Service.

Dr. John Anderson, head of the department of religion at Lewis and Clark College, delivered the sermon, "The Light Still Shines."

Dr. Anderson, in the Easter message, stated that men have always asked the question, "Is there life eternal?"

The questioning was changed to a certainty when Jesus brought hope to the world with His resurrection from the dead, Dr. Anderson declared.

"Although there is still the darkness of sin, it will never conquer the world, for the Light still shines."

Dr. Anderson emphasized that there is still victory in Christ, but He must be welcomed by each person individually. However, as light shining into a dark room, He enters in every possible way.

"Christ also has need of people today," Dr. Anderson stated, "for He came to make Himself known and to give hope."

Three choral selections for the services were sung by the Eugene Gleemen, "O bone Jesus," "Thou, Lord, Our Refuge," and "Onward Christian Soldiers." Organist was Donald M. Allton, professor of organ and theory.

Eugene ministers participating in the service were Rev. Barlyn V. Farris, First Methodist Church; Rev. Wesley G. Nicholson, Congregational Church; Rev. W. W. White, Fairmount Church of Christ; Rev. Thom H. Hunter, Westminster Foundation; and Dr. Carroll C. Roberts, First Christian Church.

Students helping with planning the program were Charlotte Stone, general chairman, Lee McClelland, Don Smith, Jerry Owsley, Frank Cothrell, Barbara Howard, Melissa Millam, and Faye Schick.

The service was sponsored jointly by the University Religious Council and the Eugene-Springfield Ministerial Association.

Robinson to Attend Architectural Meet

Horace W. Robinson, director of the University Theater, will attend a conference of architects in Ann Arbor, Mich., Apr. 14 and 15.

Robinson will attend the meeting, held on the University of Michigan campus, as chairman of the theater architecture committee of the American Educational Theater Association.

At the conference, Robinson will deliver a paper on the philosophy of theater architecture. He will also show displays of theater plans and sketches.

Youth Control Topic of School To Open Today

Beginning on the campus today will be a five-day Juvenile Control School to be held in Guild Theater, Johnson Hall.

Principal instructor will be Laurence R. Kirvin, juvenile control officer working out of the Washington, D. C. office of the FBI.

The school, held from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. each day, is sponsored by the Portland office of the FBI for the benefit of persons connected with juvenile problems. Law enforcement and probation officers, school officials, and judges will attend.

Cooperating in sponsoring the school are the Oregon Association of City Police Officers and the League of Oregon Cities. A similar school was conducted in Portland last week.

Supplementary instructors in special fields will be the following Eugene men:

Circuit Court Judge William G. East; Lloyd Gillett, director of special education in the Eugene school system; Paul Potter, dean of men at Eugene High School; Father Francis Leipzig, St. Mary's Catholic Church, and Dr. Wesley G. Nicholson, pastor of the Congregational Church.

Petitions Due Today

Today at 3 p. m. is the deadline for petitions for the Junior Week-end promotion committee.

Petitions should be given to Cork Mobley at Sigma Chi or Walt McKinney at Beta Theta Pi. These positions are open to any scholastically eligible students, regardless of year in school. The advertising committee, in particular, needs students with advertising and layout experience.

4,000 Expected For Radio Show

More than 4000 students from Willamette valley grade schools are expected to arrive on the University campus Apr. 18 for the annual big broadcast of "Let's Sing, America" over KOAC.

Miss Maude Garnett, professor of public school music, will be the director of this final broadcast of the Oregon school of the air series. The broadcast will last an hour and will be followed by entertainment and group singing.

The University of Oregon band, directed by Steve Stone, graduate student in music, will accompany some of the songs.

Two Awards Given For Danish Studies

Two scholarships of $600 each will be awarded to qualified graduate students who wish to attend the American Graduate School in Denmark during the year 1950-51.

Several scholarships for study in Norway and Denmark are also available.

Interested graduate students may obtain further information from J. D. Kline, assistant registrar, in Emerald Hall.

Entertainers Needed By Talent Committee

Entertainers are urgently needed by the ASUO Talent Committee. Those interested are requested to attend a meeting of the committee, Tuesday at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

Town requests for University talent will prove lucrative, according to Fred Young, talent chairman. The committee has great need for all types of entertainment, Young asserted.

Amphib Tryout at 8
