

Problem Today In Men's Minds, Nagy Asserts

By DONNA PASTROUCH
The problem of this age lies not in the atomic weapons, but in the minds and actions of the men who use them, Dr. Ivan G. Nagy, professor of political science, said in his lecture in the library browsing room last week.

Reviewing Vannevar Bush's "Arms and Free Men," Dr. Nagy talked on the idealistic theories of Bush in connection with the communist situation in the world today. Believing that the sovereign states are trying to strengthen in the cold war, Bush points out that this is no certainty that war will come, and if it does come, the destruction may not be so bad as predicted.

Soviet Doctrine
"The Soviet doctrine is a religion," Dr. Nagy stated. "The communists do not try to improve upon it, as to them, it is already perfect. The main weakness of the doctrine lies in its taking for granted that people are the same everywhere, and laying down one plan for communist followers all over the world to follow."

Tactics and strategy are the main points in the communist plan—tactics being the short range plans and strategy the over-all. "We cannot understand the tactics, unless we understand the over-all strategy," Dr. Nagy stressed.

Berlin Blockade
That the communists do not want war as long as they can employ the tricks of a cold war, was pointed out. Dr. Nagy used the Berlin blockade as an example.

The speaker, an expert in European politics and international affairs, was born in Hungary. Part of his education was received in Cambridge, England. He has lectured at universities throughout the country, including Yale and Harvard.

He describes "Arms and Free Men" as a book written by a scientist for the layman. "The book is a stepping stone in our age of atomic thought," Dr. Nagy commented.

Victor P. Morris, dean of the School of Business Administration, led a discussion period after the lecture.

Sosh-Session

Hallo Kiddies! Now that registration blues have simmered down a bit and everybody is soshing over the extra cup of coffee, it's time to unload another batch of who's doin' what, why, when, and where—so sit back, relax, and catch up on the latest!

Top of the list finds PiPhi Freshman Wilma Hamilton who accepted the Phi Delt crest of Herb Lombard after many weeks of holding hands under the table in the Side.

Also, Sigma Nus will soon be serenading the AOPi house in double time in honor of Barbara Cassidy and Charlotte Berry who are now showing off the badges of Bob Anderson and Jack Byers, respectively.

Time out for Earl "Harry High School" Stelle of the Sigma Chi White Cross hotel (it rhymes!) who is accepting congratulations as his engagement ring is being worn by Mary Jo Extra of Coos Bay.

Warming inter-school relations is Alpha Gam Norman Rae Smith who is now bearing the PIKA insignia of OSC's Dick Parmenter. Another Beaver-lover is Sigma Kappa Bev Ure who boasts the hardware of Lambda Chi Bob Morris.

Other new additions to the pinned department are Alpha Gam Sally Hulse and Lambda Chi Ken Hansen, Alfafee Marlee Smith and ATO Gay Norton, Tri-Delt Norma Hultgren and DU Cec Daniels, and Sigma Kappa Jean Ann McGee and Delt Phil Newman.

It seems that Evelyn Snow, lead in the recent "Warrior's Husband," wants to be known by fellow Carson Hallites as "Heavy Evie!"

Ann Judson House reports that things are getting to that oh-so chummy stage between Shirley Anderson and Paul Weston of Philadelphia House.

Officially ringed are AChioO Sally Churchman and Beta Jack Morrow, ADPi Ann Butler and Chuck Wirkkula, and Alfa Gam Frances Caldwell and Sig Ep Hugh Berket.

Wedding bells boomed over vacation for Sigma Kappa Joan Downie and PIKA Bob Silva, and Tri-Delt LaVerne Parrish and ex-Webfoot George Scoville.

Seems that AChioO Anita Frost felt very mischevious when Sig Fred Young asked her for an April Fool's day date to Swimmer's Delight (don't forget, it's Swimmer's) so she dressed for the occasion in a two piece bathing suit. However, sympathetic AChioO's informed Fred of the plot so he amazed all onlookers by ringing for his date adorned only in swimming trunks! When last seen this gay couple were seen frolicking towards Salem, hand in hand.

Alpha Gam House prexy Diane Ford reports the capture of Vaughn

Sterling's Lambda Chi jools, as does her sorority sister Yvette Sweet as in the case of SPE Glenn Yost.

Kappa Ginnie Kellogg is currently wearing the brass of PsiU Bob Brown of the University of Washington.

Add to Getting-Engaged-Like-Mad Department: ADPi Shirley Wilson and Lyman Oliver of Albany, plus SAM Irv Steinbock and University of Washington's Edith Parker.

Causing much comment is the recent pinning of PiPhi Ann Gillenwaters to Phi Delt Al Chamberlain. Interesting sidelight: Ann was a recent luncheon guest at the AOPi house where Al is a tablewaiter. When Al, who didn't know Ann was present, left the kitchen to clear the table, the other houseboys locked him in the dining room. As soon as he saw Ann, Al immediately reddened, and, after the entire table sang congratulations, Al was forced to stand up on a chair and declare that his intentions were honorable. While all the girls howled Al was asked to sing the Phi Delt song as a send-off, but was so rattled that he completely forgot the words!

Completing the newly pinned list are ZTA Bey Gustone and Campbell Clubber Don Jacobson, and a pair of Alfafees, Sally Beckett and Joyce Pinner who have snared the crests of Sigma Nu Bill Lance and Phi Delt Jim Ventura, respectively.

Due to an unusually long list of new doings, as you can plainly see, this column's special feature, "The Eligible of the Week" will be postponed—but watch for it, as it's a colossensatimagnif number!

See ya soshing!

Maybe people with money make other people sick because sour grapes have that effect.

U.O. Orchestra To Play Tonight

The University Symphony Orchestra will present a concert in the Benson High school auditorium, Portland, at 8:15 p. m. tonight.

Ruth and Henry Arcand will play Bach's Two Piano Concerto. Arcand will also play Bartok's Third Concerto for Piano.

The orchestra will also present a Mozart symphony, Barbour's Adagio for Strings, and Beethoven's Lenore Overture no. 3.

Dr. E. A. Cykler will direct the concert.

Humanitarianism Is Book Subject

An essay entitled "The Attempt of British Humanitarianism to Modify Chattel Slavery" was contributed by R. W. Smith, professor of history, to a recently published book, "British Humanitarianism."

This book is a collection of essays written in tribute to Frank Klingberg, retiring professor of English History in UCLA. All of its authors are former Klingberg students.

Angry Father: What do you mean by bringing my daughter in at this hour of the morning. I have to be in class at eight.
Mustang Student: Sorry, Sir, but

Did you know that my professor in physics talk to himself. So does mine, but he doesn't know it. He thinks someone is listening.

Men in a midwest college are picking off all the baby-sitting jobs. First thing we know, Betty Coed will be stoking fraternity house furnaces.

Tinker: I nearly fainted last night when the guy I was with asked me for a kiss.

Frankie: Baby, you're going to drop dead when you hear what I have to say.

Winter is coming, so women soon will quite wearing fur pieces and switch to bead necklace.
