noon of hilarity that includes a parade, an ugly man contest, a pie-eating contest, a beauty contest, a bike race, political speeches, and a carnival.

However, at UCLA almost 3,000 went to the polls to defeat a referendum that would reinstate the ousted managing editor of the Daily Bruin. Reason for his oust: the student council figured his news judgment was poor. He also was accused of waving a Red flag.

Still, it remained for the University of Connecticut to create the biggest fireworks. The Daily Scampus reported that a member of the Communist party had been named University president.

'Magic Melody' Lyric Suggestions Offered

(The following are some suggestions which might help those interested in writing words for the Junior Weekend "Magic Melody" lyric contest. The rules and other details appeared in Monday's Emerald).

A good song lyric must have a pattern and form just as a novel has a beginning, a middle part, and an ending. Therefore it is very important that one have at least a basic understanding of these principles. Or else he can try the following simple suggestion:

Take a well-known song and write the new words to it; this will automatically give a correct rhyme and rhythm scheme and make it easily adaptable to other music.

If this is not done, the following is suggested in regards to pattern:

Most songs are 32 lines in length. And most of these are in what called A-A-B-A form. Each letter stands for a stanza usually four lines in length. So this simply means that the first two stanzas are identical in form (not in words), the third stanza (or bridge) is different, and the last is identical to the first two.

Other forms can be used, but A-A-B-A is recommended. Check several popular songs such as "Put Another Nickel In" and see how this form is used.

Simple Style Urged

The following suggestions are offered in regards to style:

Be simple, conversational in tone, and to the point. Don't over-write, using a conglomeration of words to describe something that needs no describing. And don't force words for rhyme's sake.

Stay away from bromides such as "the stars above" and "out of the blue" as much as possible. Be original.

With these suggestions in mind, it is hoped that Oregon can have a really bang-up Junior Weekend song. So get out your pencils and pens and start to work. Submit entries to John Epley at Phi Kappa Psi or at a special box in the Co-op before Apr. 21.

College Ball Gets Radio Nod; Hour Cancelled

It will be pitchers and catchers instead of heroes and villains over KOAC this week.

The "University Hour," usually heard Thursday from 4 til 5 p. m. will be cancelled this week in favor of a baseball game between Washington State and Oregon State at Corvallis.

Next week's program will also be cancelled in favor of a local game. On Thursday, Apr. 20, Idaho will be playing Oregon on Howe Field.

The program scheduled for this week, George Elliot's "Silas Marner" will be presented over KERG on Sunday, Apr. 16. The story concerns the love of a miser for a little girl, and the effect it had upon their lives.

Among the cast are Paul Wexler, Dick Hardie, Lorin Miller, Jim Blue, Dick Zarones, Ruth Kilbourn, Janet Harris, and Kathryn Reese.

Wednesday night programs will not be affected by the change. Today, Dr. Alburey Castell will review Gustave Flaubert's "Madame Bovary" on his "Invitation to Read" program over KOAC at 6:45 p. m.

Civil Service To Give Exams For Custom Aid

The 11th Civil Service Region announces examinations for the position of customs examining aid.

Applications for the exam are available from the Civil Service Commission, United States Court House, Portland. They must be filed with the Director, 11th Civil Service Region, 302 Federal Office Building, Seattle 4, Wash. by Apr. 24.

The starting annual salary for the position is $3825. Appointments will be made from regional registers.

College graduates and seniors who have completed major studies in the field of foreign trade practices, foreign marketing, textiles, food technology, industrial chemistry, ceramics, glass blowing metallurgy, or industrial engineering, with six semester hours credit per year are eligible.

Applicants must be under 40 years of age, with the exception of veterans who have preference.
