

Van Helps Backs; Line Pleases Jim

After running his varsity football prospects through a rugged three hour drill Tuesday at the practice lot, Head Coach Jim Aiken was pleased with his hard-charging line, but somewhat chagrined at the greenness in the backfield.

Along with the regular spring coaching staff, former Oregon great, Norm Van Brocklin, worked with rookie quarterbacks Leo Gilnet and Milan Radovich Tuesday.

At Aiken's invitation, Van showed the newcomers a few of the finer points of forward passing.

Daugherty at End

Letterman Dick Daugherty was switched to offensive right end for the scrimmage, and proved to be one of the best of the wing crop. He turned in some near-sensational catches during the afternoon, on aerials thrown by Earl Stelle and Gilnett.

Bob Ashworth drew his coach's praise for his work at the left half slot, while Jerry Peckover impressed at fullback, and Emery Barnes continued to play a near-great defensive right end game. Bob Rudolph, up from last year's Frosh, did a big job backing up the line.

Aiken, who leaves tonight for a conference of the American Association of Physical Education, in Boise, Ida., commented that so far he hadn't spotted "any All-Americans, but I think we'll have a good, steady team."

There will be a practice either Friday afternoon or Saturday, Aiken said, but probably not both days. He expects to return from Boise on Friday.

U.O. Professor Lectures

"Melanchthon" was the title of a speech made by Dr. Quirinus Ereen, University professor of history and social science, at Vanderbilt University Apr. 6.

Dr. Ereen, now on sabbatical leave, is doing research work and speaking at various American colleges during spring term. He will return to the University for summer session.

Duck Nine Drops Linfield, 10-6; Bowerman Thrashes Limit Rule

Errors Help...

Oregon's weak-hitting nine took advantage of five Linfield errors to defeat the Wildcats, 10-6, Tuesday on Howe Field. The win was the second of the season over Roy Helser's men, and the fifth victory in six starts of the Ducks.

Oregon was held to six by two Linfield hurlers, while three Webfoot chucks were being touched for a dozen safeties. The big difference, as in other games this year, was the fine defensive game sthis year, was the fine defensive job turned in by the Oregons.

Both clubs were guilty of several mental errors, these being nearly equal to the number of miscues that went into the record books.

Mel Krause and Jerry Row hurled shut-out ball for three innings but the Ducks got to Row in the fourth inning for half of their six blows and four big runs.

Singles by Daryle Nelson and Joe Tom along with an error at first on Phil Settecase's attempted sacrifice loaded the bags. Nelson trotted home when Row issued a walk to Salter. Tom scored as Coley grounded out short to first. Ray Stratton then hoisted a high fly to deep right, with Settecase scoring after the catch. Catcher Jack Smith's single sent Salter across the plate, but the rally ended when Smith was caught off first.

Settecase Doubles

The Webfoots added another run in the fifth when Settecase's double brought Nick Schmer home from second. Settecase's blow actually was a pop fly in back of shortstop Bob Zuleger. Differences in opinion as to who should make the play, coupled with alert base-running, accounted for the damage.

Krause, who will start against Washington State on Friday or Saturday, was relieved by Jim Hanns at the start of the fifth after scattering three singles during the four innings he worked.

Linfield promptly jumped on the former Eugene High boy for 3 runs. The Wildcats loaded the bases with one out and Row scored on an infield out at first. Don Blakeslee's single brought Bob Rosenfeld and Bob Martin home before Hanns retired the side.

Some more alert and fleet base-running picked up another run for the Ducks in their half of the fifth. Stratton steamed home from second when thirdbaseman Blakeslee bobbled Schmer's grounder. The ball trickled only a short distance from the Wildcat infielder, close enough that few men would have tallied from second.

Aune in Eighth

Stan Aune took over the Webfoot mound chores in the eighth and was greeted with a single by Rosenfeld and a double by Joe Marschand. The Wildcats managed only one run in the inning despite two more singles, one by Dewey Halsey and the other by Blakeslee. Centerfield-

Time Trials Today...

Oregon's Webfoot cindermen will go through time and distance trials this afternoon as Coach Bill Bowerman readies his crew for their initial Northern Division dual track meet this Saturday against the Idaho Vandals in Moscow.

Track Meet? Eugene High on Frosh Diamond

Oregon's Duckling Baseball team will tangle with Eugene High School at 2 p.m. Thursday on the Frosh practice diamond.

Saturday they will travel to Corvallis to meet the Oregon State Rooks in the first of four scheduled tilts.

The Frosh have a one-won and one-lost record to date, having walloped Albany high, 15-4 last Friday in their debut, only to drop a sloppy 9-3 decision to Eugene High on Saturday.

Eugene has one of the outstanding prep nines in the state, having lost only two regulars from the team that captured runner-up honors in last years state high school baseball tourney.

er Mouse Owens had a big arm in holding down the damage as he threw Rosenfeld out at the plate after a fly out. The one tally was enough to bring Linfield within one run of the Oregons, at 6-5.

This evidently bothered the Ducks, for they pushed across four runs in the bottom of the eighth. Walks to Chuck Strader and Settecase, along with an error on Owens' bunt, brought in the first one, Settecase made it two when Coley's single brought him home. A passed ball brought Owens in, and a wild pitch did the same for Coley. That was all for the Webfoots but the only thing left undecided was whether or not it would rain.

Lewis and Clark Today

A double by Burr and a single by Rosenfeld in the top of the ninth accounted for the final Linfield run.

The Ducks were without third baseman Don Kimball, who is out with a leg injury, but Schmer gave good evidence that things are two-deep at that spot. The remainder of the infield also looked ready to go, as did the boys in the gardens.

The squad is at Portland today for a final tune-up against Lewis and Clark before hosting WSC on Friday. The Cougars open their ND pennant defense today at Corvallis against OSC.

Rouw, Wickham (7), and Burr; Krause, Hanns (5), Aune (8), and Smith, Ritchey (8).

The Ducks, fresh from a lopsided victory in the Oregon-Oregon State relays, will be fighting bitterly for positions on the traveling squad which Bowerman will take into the Inland Empire.

Sifting the elite talent from his prize crew will be no easy problem for the Oregon mentor, since Northern Division rules limit a team's traveling squad to 22 men.

"I have 29 men on the team this year who are possible point winners in the Northern Division championship," Bowerman said, "let alone an ordinary dual meet."

Number of men permitted to enter the Northern Division meet from any one school is eighteen.

"Only Financial Reasons"

"These team limitations exist strictly for financial reasons," the Webfoot coach asserted. "They're the idea of the business side of the ND athletic departments to cut the expenses of sending their teams to an opposing campus. These rules governing team limits add nothing to the competitive spirit of the sport."

Ducks Host OCE Net Team at 3

Oregon's varsity tennis squad will be after its second straight victory when it clashes with the invading netmen of Oregon College of Education in matches slated for the local courts at 3 p.m. today.

With all candidates now eligible to play, the Webfoot line-up will be quite different from the one which blanked the Eugene Tennis Club, 9-0, last week.

The number one slot will be held by Tom MacDonald, former Oregon high school champion from Portland's Grant High.

Cameron Thom, a California Junior College transfer, will hold down the number two berth for the Ducks.

Two Lettermen Back

Bob Mensor and Bill Williams, the only returning lettermen on the team, will occupy the third and fourth positions, respectively.

The number five spot goes to Dan Cudahy, a converted track man who advanced up the tournament ladder rapidly during the week, and George Boyd will round out the singles group in sixth.

The doubles combinations will pair MacDonald and Cudahy in the top Duck duo. Thom-Williams and Boyd-Mensor will form the other teams.

The Webfoots are favored to trip OCE in what should be a warm-up tussle for their Friday encounter with Portland University.

Phi Deltas 13, Sigma Nu 2; Other IM Tilts Fiery

Six fiery contests were featured in Tuesday's intramural softball action.

Teams posting second round victories were: Theta Chi, Legal Eagles, Phi Delta Theta, Alley Cats, and Lambda Chi Alpha.

The Minturn-Delt game ended in a 2-2 tie. The two teams are slated to play off this deadlock on Friday, May 5.

Delta Tau Delta scored first blood in the first inning when singles by Earl Knutson, Dale Bieschell, and Tom Joyce coupled with two walks to produce two runs.

Minturn tied the game in the second inning on a walk to Tom Nekota and two singles to Louis Santos and Ken Edwards.

Delt hurler Ed Sanford fanned 13 men in the game.

Although both nines threatened in later innings the score remained knotted throughout the game.

Eagles Score Win

An eight run burst in the fourth inning gave the Legal Eagles a 12-7 win over Delta Upsilon.

The Legal Eagles opened scoring action in the third inning when singles by Dale McKenzie, Bill Tas-sock, Bill Joyce and Jim Vanderstoop tallied three runs.

The DU's came back strong in the top half of the third inning on Frank Johnson triple to left-runs in the initial half of the fifth inning they were not counted in the official scoring for the Legal Eagles did not get their time at plate before the end of regulation playing time.

Theta Chi Triumphs

Theta Chi tipped Alpha Hill 9-4 in the third early round game of the afternoon.

Both teams went scoreless in the first two innings, but Theta Chi broke loose in the top half of the third inning. A walk to Bill Hutchinson, singles by Bob Gilbert, Dale Warberg, and Bill Kopela, a double by Gene Hebrard, and a triple by Doug Coghill accounted for six runs.

center field, three walks, an error, and a single by Tom Thompson. This barrage accounted for five runs.

Ed Dick's double coupled with two errors made the score 5-4 at the end of the inning.

In the fourth inning the DU's scored two runs on two walks and an error. Six walks and singles by Vanderstoop and Tassock accounted for the Legal Eagles eight run spree in the bottom half of the fourth.

Alpha tallied two markers in the bottom half of the inning on two walks and singles by Maurice Beals and Bob Fowler.

Theta Chi added three runs to the total in the fourth inning on singles by Gilbert and Warberg coupled with two walks and an error.

John Shephard singled, stole second, and came home on an error for Alpha Hall's final score in the bottom half of the inning.

The Sigma Nu-Phi Delt game was one of the closest of the season until the fireworks opened in the
