'Miss Fashion Plate' Balloting Ends at 4 P.M.

GRAND PRIZE **
including an expense-free week at the famous "Castle Harbour".

I nominate _____ for "MISS FASHION PLATE of 1950", a contest sponsored by Revlon Products Corp.

Your Name _____

Today. It's the last day to vote for "Miss Fashion Plate" of the University.

All that's needed is a ballot clipped from today's Emerald and a student body card presented to an attendant at a booth in the Co-op from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p. m.

The winner of Oregon's 10 candidates for the title will be announced in Monday's Emerald. She will receive a year's supply of Revlon cosmetics and be entered in a national contest for "Miss Fashion Plate of 1950."

The contest, new this year, is sponsored by Revlon products on campuses throughout the United States. The national winner will receive an expense-free trip to Bermuda plus many other gifts.

Oregon's candidates are Pat Boyle, Kathryn Carter, Mary Gribble, Grace Hoffman, Helen Jackson, Maxine Krisch, Molly Muntzel, Julie Beth Perkins, Joyce Rathbun, and Karla Van Loan.

They were selected by a student committee consisting of Art Johnson, ASUO president; Don Smith, Emerald editor; Dorothy Orr, senior representative to the executive council; Larry Davidson, Oregon today. The students may roam through the Union at will; guides will be scattered through the building to explain what's what.

The lighter side of college life will be sampled tonight at the All-Campus Vodvil, slated for 8 p. m. in McArthur Court. Sixteen living organizations will present a variety of five-minute acts at the Vodvil.

Johnny Lusk and a six-piece combo will play for the date-dance Saturday night in Gerlinger Annex, from 9 to 12. No admission will be charged, and intermission entertainment will be provided. Dress will be heels for the women, suits for the men.

Picnic on Slate
Saturday noon will see an old time picnic luncheon, outdoors if the weather permits, on the new campus (south of Alder street). In case of rain, the event will be indoors in Gerlinger Hall. Entertainment will be provided as well as food.

Exchange dinners Sunday will close out the weekend. The high school students in the various living groups will "trade" with each other for this meal, dress for which will be heels and suits.

editor; and Anne Goodman, Revlon campus representative. Eight by ten-inch colored pictures of the candidates were taken by Miller's Studios, Willamette St. The photographs are on display today in the Co-op. Assisting in promotion of the contest were Jo-Ann Priaulx, Gwen Jones, and Beverly Nelson, all members of the Revlon fashion board on campus.

Oreganas Remain On Sale at Co-op

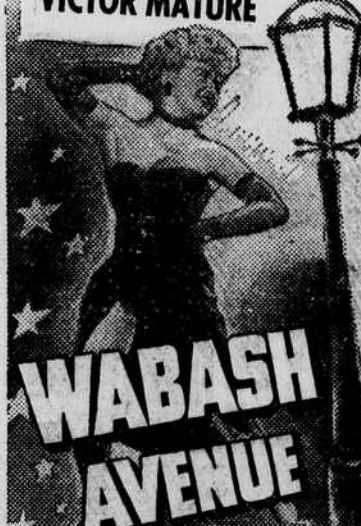

Today is the last scheduled day in the current sale of remaining copies of the 1950 Oregana at the Co-op. Approximately half of the 100 books placed on sale Wednesday still remain, Jim Sanders, business manager, said Thursday. These copies will probably be sold early next week at the Co-op, he explained. Oreganas may also be reserved by calling Sanders' office Tuesday or Thursday, 3-5 p. m.

Students to Air Story on Sunday

University radio workshop students will present an adaptation of George Eliot's "Silas Marner" at 3:30 p. m. Sunday over KERG. Students participating are Paul Wexler, James Blue, Kathryn Reese, Dick Zaronas, Ruth Kilbourn, Janet, Harris, Dick Hardie, and Lorin Miller. KOAC usually carries radio workshop broadcasts, but they have been cancelled for two weeks because of baseball games. Programs are being tape recorded for broadcast over KERG.
