Vandalism Reported In Dorm Parking Lot

Vandalism in the Vets' Dorm parking area has been reported to the student court, Chairman Dick Neely said Tuesday night after the court's weekly session.

Plans are being made with the dorm watchman for a more rigorous supervision of the area, Neely said. Any person caught in an act of vandalism will be turned over to the municipal authorities, he warned.

Education Dept. Adds New Man

Dr. Arthur C. Hearn, principal at Coalinga High School and professor at San Diego State College, has been appointed associate professor of education in the University, it was announced by P. B. Jacobson, dean of the education school.

The appointment has yet to be confirmed by the State Board of Higher Education which will meet Apr. 24 and 25. If accepted by the board, Dr. Hearn will come to the campus next fall.

Dr. Hearn will teach education in American life, an introductory course for juniors in education. He will also teach graduate courses for prospective high school principals.

The professor received his bachelor and master's degrees from Stanford University. Stanford also granted him his doctor of education degree.

While in college, Dr. Hearn played four years of soccer and baseball and was captain of the baseball team at Stanford in 1934.

His teaching experience includes serving as principal and teacher in many California high schools including the schools at Red Bluff, Mt. Shasta, Coronado, and San Diego.

Damage has included the slashing of a convertible top, several broken exterior rear-view mirrors, and some stolen hubcaps.

Only three tickets were issued for student parking violations during the past week, Neely stated.

Two students appeared before the court, pleaded guilty, and were fined $1 each. One student forfeited bail in the Student Affairs Office.

Many of the violations coming in are still cases of parking between Deady and Villard Halls, the chairman reported.

Parking in this area is rigidly prohibited by order of the state fire marshal, he explained.

Intramural Charge Draws No Comment

Everett Peery, student director of intramural sports, refused to comment on the ISA's letter to the editor that appeared in the Apr. 17 Emerald.

Peery wished to withhold a statement until Dr. Paul Washke of the PE school returned from a conference in Dallas, Texas.

In the letter from Keith Clark, ISA vice president, ISA went on record "as censuring the discrimination shown against campus independent organizations in the intramural golf and tennis schedules by the Physical Education department."

Castle Jazz Band To 'Blow' Again

The Castle Jazz Band is returning to Willamette Park Saturday night with their Dixieland jazz music.

Brought back by Entertainment Enterprises, the band will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Special feature will be a Charleston contest, with prizes going to winners selected by the audience.

Admissions will be $1, plus tax. Advance tickets and reservations are on sale at the Radio Lab on the campus, and Thompson's downtown.

Joseph Szigeti To Play Sunday

Joseph Szigeti, internationally known violinist, will play in McArthur court at 3 p.m. Sunday.

His concert is sponsored by the Eugene Civic Music Association. It will be open to members and University students.

Accompanying the violinist at the piano will be Joseph Levine.

Born and reared in Hungary, the violinist made his American debut in 1925 with the Philadelphia orchestra.

Szigeti is the author of "With Strings Attached," a book of his memoirs. It was a Book-Of-The-Month Club selection.

The book was written without the aid of a secretary or typewriter. Szigeti jotted his notes on scraps of paper between concerts.

Frosh Picnic Tickets Go on Sale Today

Tickets for the Freshman Picnic will go on sale today in the Co-op, Dolores Dyer, ticket chairman said Tuesday.

The tickets will sell for 10 cents and admit all freshmen to the picnic Saturday at Swimmers' Delight.

Miss Dyer said Co-op sales will be for the convenience of off-campus students.

IFC Elections Today

Election of new officers for the Inter-fraternity Council will be held at 5:30 p.m. today at the Chi Psi house, President Fred Van Horn announced Tuesday.

Nominations will be made from the floor for all officers.

Constitution Vote Set for Wednesday

Six or seven polling booths will be set up in locations scattered about the campus for next week's constitutional election, ASUO First Vice-President Ed Anderson said Tuesday.

Voting on the constitution is scheduled for next Wednesday. The constitution again appears in full on pages six and seven of today's Emerald.

A two-thirds majority of 50 per cent of the student body must approve the new document in order for it to go into effect. Voting at spring term ASUO elections—balloting which attracts the highest student interest—always hovers somewhere below or slightly above 50 per cent, according to President Art Johnson.

Leslie Tooze, junior in political science, has been appointed to take over the job of heading the constitutional promotion committee, whose task it is to get out the required vote.

Miss Tooze replaces Larry Davidson, who resigned because of lack of time. Davidson will be graduated this term.

As part of the promotion plans, speakers will explain the new document to members of campus living organizations at the dinner hour this week.

Speakers now assigned to promotional work are Dick Dahlberg, Stan Pierson, Barry Mountain, Ed Peterson, Lou Weston, Dick McLaughlin, Don Paillette, Helen Jackson, Miss Tooze, Virginia Wright, Marie Lombard, Marjorie Petersen, Bill Portis, and Eleanor Johns.

AGS to Sponsor May Street Dance

Representatives of the Associated Greek Students voted Tuesday to sponsor an all-campus street dance during May.

The decision was reached after discussion of an off-campus picnic, and a street dance-picnic combination.

The AGS council will petition for the campus-wide affair in the near future, Jerry Meyers, social committee chairman, said.

Weather . . .

Fair and warmer today and Thursday with some high clouds. High today will be 75. High Tuesday was 70 and the low 34.

IDC Censures Dorm Shuffling

A resolution expressing the Inter-dormitory Council's disapproval of the present shuffling of dormitory residents was approved at the Council meeting Tuesday night.

The shuffling forces dormitory residents to fill each multiple room to its capacity, leaving other rooms vacant.

Reasons for making the change are "erroneous" or "inadequate" the resolution stated. Reasons given by the University are (1) it is unfair to students living in single rooms, (2) "We've done this for twenty years," and (3) "It's just business-like."

The IDC says it is not unfair to students living in single rooms because they are paying for and have been receiving single accommodations.

It is the student in the multiple rooms who are being treated unfairly, the resolution said, because these students paid the full room rent when there were more persons than accommodations.

The second reason is disputed because this is the first time the problem has been presented under present conditions.

Five points were given by the IDC as to why the change will not be businesslike:

(1) Money would be necessary to keep the vacant rooms clean and pilfering would be prevalent. (2) Over-night leasing of rooms to guests—planned by the University—would disrupt unity and destroy "hominess." (3) The shuffling is inconvenient. (4) Guests will receive more hospitality as a guest of a dorm resident than a lodger in an empty room. (5) The plan made unfavorable publicity when the high schoolers were down for "Duck Preview."

The IDC will request a statement from the Administration relative to the future dorm policy.

❖ Candidates for Royalty ❖

Nancy

By GRETCHEN GRONDAHL
Tall, poised sparkling-eyed Nancy Chamberlain, Junior Weekend court finalist, is looking forward to becoming a secondary-school English and Spanish teacher.

"I'll be practice teaching in Eugene next winter term, and am learning now in my Principles of Teaching course how to make outlines for class study," she says enthusiastically.

Gloria

By LORNA LARSON
Horses are among the chief loves of 20-year-old Gloria Grimson.

The tall—5-foot, 9-inch—blonde Junior Weekend Court finalist likes horseback riding "real well."

"That's why I like to go home," she admits. "I used to spend all day on horseback when I was in grade and high school."

Home to Gloria is her parent's filbert farm near Forest Grove. Here she spends her time riding her three horses and hiking
