

Caravan to Frosh Picnic Starts at 1:30

University freshmen will meet tomorrow at 1:30 in front of McArthur Court before proceeding out to Swimmers' Delight, where they will hold the first Freshman Picnic.

About 400 yearlings are expected to attend the outing, which replaces the Frosh Glee as the annual freshman get-together.

Men's living organizations will pick up the girls with whom they are paired prior to the 1:30 starting time. All the cars will

Szigeti to Play In Court Sunday

Off-again-on-again Szigeti finally will play here Sunday.

His violin concert—almost called off for reasons undisclosed—will be presented at 3 p.m. in McArthur Court as scheduled.

A Szigeti concert had also been planned for last winter term. It was called off because of snow-blocked travel conditions.

Persons in charge of arranging for Sunday's concert refused to comment on the latest near-cancellation.

"Everything is straightened out—Szigeti will definitely appear" they said.

Joseph Szigeti, internationally-known violinist, has made many country and world wide concert tours since his 1925 American debut with the Philadelphia orchestra.

Leading off his concert here, Szigeti will play Corelli's "La Fo-

(Please turn to page seven)

form into a caravan at the Igloo; the procession will be led around the campus by a police escort, then out to the highway and on to the picnic site.

Rally Chairman Molly Harbert said students should not attempt to get into the parade as it comes by the houses. Instead, she emphasized, they should plan to be at the starting place by the proper time.

Off-campus students and those unable to procure rides to the park will be provided with a truck, according to Dick Davis, transportation chairman.

Besides football and softball games, the entertainment committee will provide a frosh orchestra. Sue Lichty, Nancy Hall, and Twila Kevin with ukes, and Ann Parsell on the accordion will furnish the music. They will play popular numbers and some tunes designed for square dancing.

Tickets, available in all living organizations, are being sold for 10 cents. For the benefit of off-campus students and those who do not

(Please turn to page seven)

University YWCA Seeks Trade Mark

WANTED: a caricature, a mascot, or a typical symbol for the University YWCA.

Searching for a YWCA equivalent of Little Lulu, the Kleenex wizard, the YWCA has announced a campus-wide contest, for students interested in drawing a caricature as a permanent symbol of the YWCA.

Delta Zeta May Leave USA Party

With ASUO elections only a month away, dissension may be rumbling within a segment of the Greek section of the United Student Association.

USA officials, however, are silent.

Sources report that Delta Zeta, one of the five Greek members of the coalition party, indicated its desire, in a recent straw vote, to return to the Greek Bloc.

Gloria Kraft, newly-elected house president of Delta Zeta, would not affirm or deny the report.

The Delta Zetas have not yet taken a formal vote.

Meeting Held

A meeting of representatives of the five houses was held Thursday night at the Alpha Xi Delta house, but no comment by any of the members as to a decision was made.

According to a tentative agreement reached at a similar meeting of the five houses Feb. 7, any member intending to go back to AGS must inform the remaining Greek-non AGS houses some eight days before a formal vote is taken.

The other provision reached at the February meeting was that the five houses would meet before formal action on the part of any one was taken.

Five Houses Represented

The meeting was held after the Phi Sigma Kappa petition for reinstatement in the Associated Greek Students, which came just after Freshman elections.

Represented at the Thursday meeting were Tau Kappa Epsilon, Phi Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Delta Zeta, and Alpha Xi Delta.

Cast in Production

THE GALAXY OF VOCAL talent pictured above will be cast alternately in the two major feminine singing roles in "Martha," comic opera production scheduled to open tonight at the University theater. From top left they are Dorothy Gangnath and Lucille Olson. Shirley Anderson and Joy Grimstad, reading from lower left, will open the performance tonight.

Comic Opera 'Martha' Slated to Open Tonight

By NORM ANDERSON

Tonight at 8, "Martha," von Flotow's melodic comic opera, will open in the new University theater. Additional performances are scheduled for Apr. 22, 27, 28, and 29.

The fourth production of the Theater's 1949-50 season and the 304th theatrical production presented at the University since 1900, "Martha" is under the direction of Herman Gelhausen, and Associate Director Florence Vanderwicken.

Conducting the University Symphony Orchestra is George Boughton. Technical director is William E. Schlosser.

Singing the leading role of Lady Harriet Durham, or Martha, will be Joy Grimstad and Dorothy Gangnath. Miss Grimstad will sing in tonight's performance, again Apr. 22 and at the special performance on Apr. 24. Miss Gangnath will sing Martha Apr. 27, 28, and 29.

The tenor voice of James Kays will be heard in the starring role of Lionel. Singing Nancy, companion of Lady Harriet, will be Shirley Anderson and Lucille Olson.

Miss Anderson will sing the role the same nights as Miss Grimstad, with Miss Olson singing with Miss Gangnath.

The part of Plunkett will be sung by Walter Martin and Robert Roberts will sing the role of Sir Tristram. The sheriff is sung by Phillip Green.

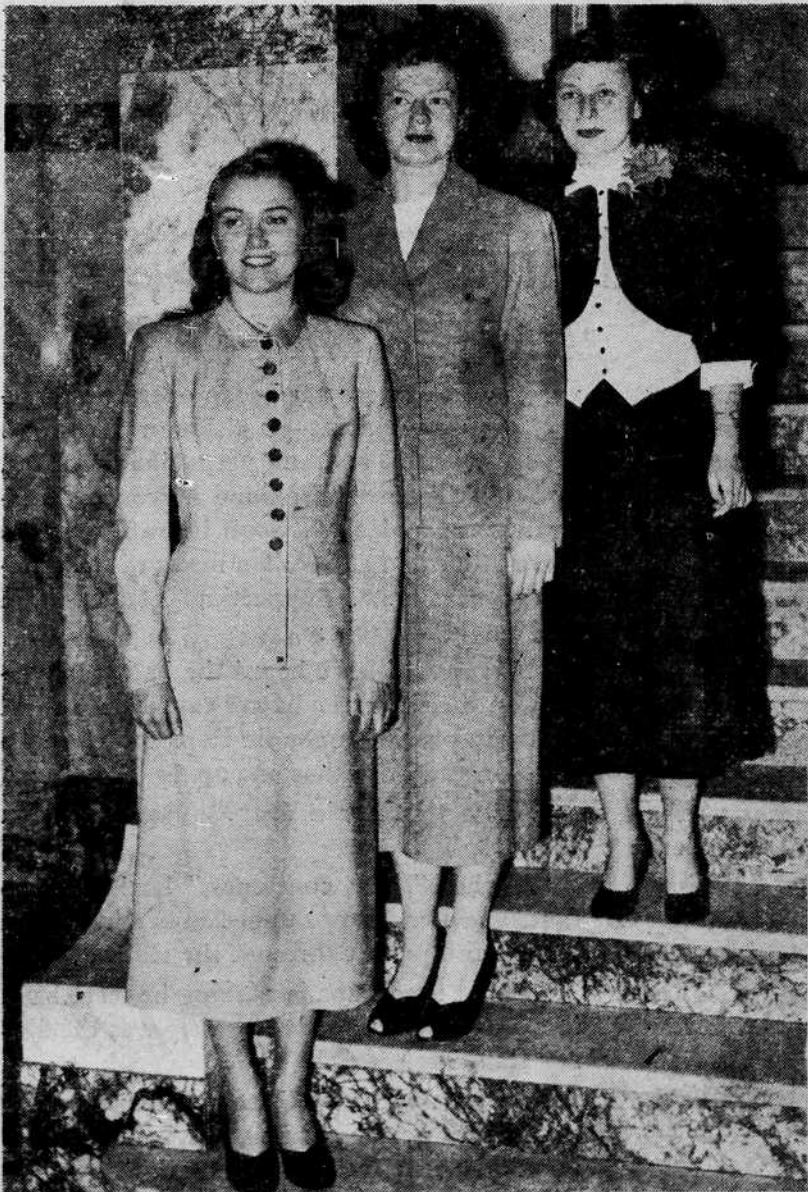

"Martha," the best known work of von Flotow, was first produced in Vienna in 1847. Since that time it has been popular with audiences and opera houses in Europe and America.

"Tis the Last Rose of Summer," a favorite lyric for many years, and the beautiful aria "M'Appari," along with the gay, lyrical "Spinning Quartet" are three of the most-heard scores from the three-act comic opera.

Four acts, designed by Technical Director William E. Schlosser will

(Please turn to page seven)

Queen Finalists Pose

THE LAST THREE finalists for Junior Weekend Queen, pictured above, are interviewed today. Five of the total group of ten will be chosen by student vote next week to rule over the May 12-14 fete. From left, Janet Bronson, Margaret Reeve, Toinette Rosenberg. (Photo by Deane Bond.)

❖ Candidates for Royalty ❖

Janet

By LORNA LARSON

A roaming instinct is found in Janet Bronson, Junior Weekend Court finalist.

New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Seattle—Janet can call them all home. Three months after her birth in Seattle 21 years ago, Janet's parents moved to the outskirts of New York City, and have been moving ever since.

And still Janet isn't satisfied. She wants to go to South America or Mexico after she graduates in June.

"My first love is Spanish," she explained, "and I want to visit countries where the language is spoken."

This isn't Janet's first contest. While attending Cornell University

(Please turn to page seven)

Margaret

By MARJORY BUSH

Margaret Reeve is a girl with a goal.

Right now the future of this graceful red-haired queen finalist includes summer work at a dude ranch on the Metolius River in Central Oregon. Her more distant plans call for a career as a private piano teacher and professional accompanist.

"Playing the piano is my work, my recreation, and my hobby," Margaret, now a junior in music, admitted. "I've been playing since I was seven and now practice at least two hours a day."

Another of her hobbies is sewing her own clothes, which as yet includes no knitting.

The 5 foot 8 inch finalist is in-

(Please turn to page seven)

Toinette

By ANNE GOODMAN

Last term she made a four-point GPA.

This term she disproved the "brains without beauty" theory by becoming a Junior Weekend Court finalist.

"I drink lots of fruit juices," Toinette Rosenberg humorously offered as her success formula for consistently making the honor roll.

Her parents like French names. That's why they looked in a French dictionary to find "Toinette" (pronounced ten-ette). By the same procedure her two sisters were named M'liss and Renee, she explained.

An English major, the shortest of all the finalists (she's 5 foot 2 inches) is working toward becoming

(Please turn to page seven)