WESTMINSTER HOUSE

Students at Westminster House will hold their annual Spring retreat this weekend at Nelscott, Ore. Approximately 25 students will participate in the activities which will commence with a sack-lunch at the Dallas Presbyterian Church Friday evening.

The group will return to the campus Sunday afternoon.

There will be no evening meeting at Westminster House this Sunday because of the retreat. Mary Nelson is general chairman for the trip. Other workers are Frankie Brooks, programs; Hal McIntyre, finance and transportation; Steve Bunch, publicity; Jim Woodworth, worship; Beverly Goheen, recreation, and Bobbie Childers and Mrs. Robert Stevenson, food.

N. P. Jacobson, acting head of the department of religion, will accompany the group and lead discussions. Chaperoning the group will be the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Thom Hunter.

At the weekly fellowship supper Tuesday night, the group will hold a discussion on the Exchange Student service, with emphasis placed on the European situation. Walter Billing, exchange student from Germany, will lead the discussion.

LUTHERAN HOUSE

The place of religion in higher education will be discussed by F. E. Dart, professor of physics, at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at Lutheran House.

CHRISTIAN HOUSE

Christian House faces a busy week ahead beginning with a taffy pull and game evening Saturday, April 22.

Sunday at the 6 p.m. fellowship hour, Mary Alice Baker will lead the worship service. Ralph Johnson will have charge of refreshments.

and Dr. E. R. Moon will speak. The annual election of officers will take place.

Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons will be devoted to welcoming visiting ministers from the Christian churches of the Pacific Northwest who will be here for the annual Preachers' Parliament. One of these will be Rev. G. Hayden Stewart, co-director of the Baptist-Disciple Student Fellowship House at the University of Washington.

On Friday morning Maggi Long from the National Disciples Student Work office in Indianapolis, Indiana, will arrive for a three-day series of meetings. Bob Peterson, president of Christian House, and Dr. Victor P. Morris, chairman of the Adult Board, are in charge of arrangements for her visit.

Miss Long spent last summer in church-sponsored work projects in Europe. All who are interested in such ventures may arrange to meet her while she is in Eugene by contacting Mrs. Clarence H. Elliott, director of Christian House, 5-3491.

PLYMOUTH HOUSE

Tonight is Waltz Night at Plymouth House from 8 to 12 p.m. Students may bring their dates, their friends or come alone.

There will be plenty of other types of dancing as well as all kinds of waltzes. Bill Byrd will provide the waltz records and will demonstrate special waltzes for those who are interested.

Campus clothes are in order with full skirts for the girls.

Plymouth House is being specially decorated and lighted for the occasion by Joe Bradley and Ken Lodewick.

For those who do not care to dance, there are shuffleboard, pool, ping pong, cards, and other games. Punch and cookies will be served.

Oregon Income Hits New High Ellis Estimates

Things are looking up, economically speaking, for the state of Oregon.

That's the opinion of Paul W. Ellis, professor of economics, who recently saw his estimates of Oregon income for 1949 published in the Oregonian.

He estimates that 1949 was the third consecutive year in which Oregon income payments topped the two million dollar mark, and indicates that 1950 may see an all time high. He expects an average annual 5 per cent gain (twice that expected for the United States as a whole) for the next ten years.

There are two reasons for these increases. The population has greatly expanded in the last decade, and average income has also increased. These factors have aided in expansion of the state as an actual and potential market.

Prof. Ellis' estimates are accepted as having a high degree of accuracy, for similar reports which he prepared last year for the Pacific Coast Board of Intergovernmental Relations and the Oregon Business Review proved nearly correct.

Mr. Ellis and a group of graduate students are currently planning to make monthly estimates on Oregon income and to project it on an annual basis from 1950 to 1960. To this extent the recently published article, in which he was assisted by Jane Cordiner, graduate student in economics, is part of a continuous study.

It would be a much smarter world if everybody would use their advice instead of giving it away.

Radio Workshop To Give Fantasy In Sunday Show

The University Radio Workshop will present its second transplanted program over KERG this Sunday at 3:30. Supplanted on KOAC by the Oregon baseball games, the Workshop will offer "The Isle of Kaheila," an original 30-minute fantasy for radio by Jack Vaughn, senior in speech.

"Isle of Kaheila" deals with the strange experience of Marine Lieutenant Swanson (Dick Zarones) who leads his platoon in the capture of a small island in the Pacific. He finds that he is thoroughly familiar with the island, although he has never been there before.

On the island he finds and falls in love with a native girl named Kaheila (Janet Harris). Later he finds that this girl has been dead for 50 years, and at the story's climax he learns the answer to the legend of "The Isle of Kaheila."

Others included in the cast are Jim Blue, Al Hicks, Terry Roseen, Ray Hamilton, John Roaney, Dick Hardie, and Lorin Miller.

This is the first original work done by a University student to be presented this year. The last original show was written by Hal Larson, now graduated, and was presented in fall, 1948.

Rushing Sign Up Ends

Today is the last day for women to sign up for spring term rushing.

Women interested in rushing may sign up in the Office of Student Affairs, Emerald Hall. A minimum of 2.00 GPA, cumulative and last term, is required.

YWCA Dessert Tickets On Sale At Alumni Hall

Tickets go on sale today for the YWCA dessert to be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday in Alumni Hall, Gerlinger, under the direction of the sophomore commission.

Entertainment for the dessert, open to all freshmen women, will include a special talent show arranged by Fred Young, and a skit in celebration of National YWCA Week. Wednesday is World YWCA membership day.

Tickets are available for 25 cents in all women's living organizations and at the YWCA headquarters in Gerlinger.

Conference chairman Jackie Wilkes hopes to be able to present the name of the student who will be sent to Camp Seabeck at the expense of the sophomore commission at the meeting Tuesday.

Girls may sign up for work on the committees at the dessert, according to Mary Alice Baker, commission chairman.

A lot of New Year resolutions soon will be carried out—and buried some place.

Drive Petitions Due by Tuesday

Petitions for committee chairmanships of the annual clothing drive, sponsored by the International Affairs Committee of the YWCA, are due Tuesday at 5 p.m., Marian Briner, drive chairman, announced Thursday.

Chairmanships include collection, packing, and publicity. Petitions are to be submitted at the YWCA office, Gerlinger Hall.

Clothing collected during the drive will be sent to children in France, Greece, and other European countries. Last year over 600 pounds of clothing were sent abroad.

Several Jobs Open In Advertising Dept.

The Emerald advertising department has openings for several student workers. Jobs are available in selling, layout, and general office work.

Interested students are urged by Advertising Manager Shirley Hillard to attend a meeting at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Emerald "Shack," situated next to the Journalism Building.
