

Junior, Senior Women to Hold Sunday Meal

"Innocence Abroad" will be the program theme at the annual junior-senior breakfast Sunday at 9:15 a.m. in the new Carson Hall dining room.

The breakfast, sponsored by the YWCA, will include junior and senior women on the campus, and all foreign women students as guests of the YWCA.

Participating in the program will be Beverly Buckley, YWCA president, Dirk Schepers, and Gisela Schmidt, both special students in Liberal Arts. The breakfast will conclude the campus YWCA's recognition of national YWCA week from April 23 to 29.

Tickets to the annual affair may be obtained at the YWCA, Gerlinger, at the Co-op, or in campus living organizations. Price is 90 cents per plate.

Traditionally, the juniors in each living organization are hostesses to the seniors of that house. However, any junior or senior woman may attend the breakfast whether or not she is planning to attend alone, Karla Van Loan, breakfast chairman, stated.

Decorations will center around the breakfast theme, "Springtime," with May baskets as the featured trappings.

Menu for the breakfast will include grapefruit, bacon, eggs, biscuits, and coffee.

Teacher Training Study Planned

An expanded elementary teacher training program in Oregon was slowed down Monday night when the State Board of Higher Education in its regular meeting referred the matter to a committee which would report in June.

Plans were presented to the board to include this training at Oregon State College, the University, and Vanport Extension Center to help relieve the shortage of teachers in the lower grades.

Advocating the change was Superintendent Paul A. Remus and Dean J. F. Cramer, extension director, and superintendents of schools in first-class cities of the state.

Students Fined As Court Meets

Despite constitutionality disputes, the ASUO Student Court held "business as usual" Tuesday night, hearing seven cases and fining five students.

Two students were found guilty but fines were suspended because of extenuating circumstances; five were fined $1 each, and two students posted bail during the week at the Office of Student Affairs.

Seven additional cases were turned over to the Office of Student Affairs for appropriate disciplinary measures because of failure to appear at the court after two warnings.

"Appropriate disciplinary measures" can include steps up to and including suspension of University registration; however, in practice it has usually meant increased fines, collected by the Office.

Campus Policeman J. P. Jensen reported that the alley between Onyx and University streets is closed to all traffic except physical plant vehicles, and that all parking is prohibited in the construction area around the new science building site. This includes driveways by the infirmary and the University Press.

Brazilian Student Gets Camp Trip

Maria Teresa Junqueira Ayres, graduate student in mathematics, was awarded a trip to the "Y" summer camp, Seabeck, by the YWCA sophomore commission, at a special benefit dessert held in Alumni Hall, Gerlinger, last evening.

Conference chairman Jackie Wilkes introduced Miss Ayres, who came to the University from the University of Brazil.

Freshman women voted funds left over from the Freshman commissions be used to supplement money raised from the dessert to send Miss Ayres to Seabeck, June 11 to 18.

"I am sure it will be a wonderful experience," she said. "I have never been to a summer camp before."

A special skit honoring World YWCA week was presented. Other entertainment included imitations by Bob Shetterly.

Guests Named For Banquet

Speakers for the Library Day banquet, scheduled for May 13 in the Carson Hall dining room, have been named, according to Miss Bernice Rise, library circulation head, who is in charge of Library Day activities.

Dorothy O. Johansen, associate professor of history at Reed College, Portland, and director of the Pacific Northwest Economics Record Collection, will be the guest speaker. She has chosen "Ex Libris" for her topic.

Toastmaster for the dinner will be Burt Brown Barker, University vice-president emeritus.

Library Report Due

Carl W. Hintz, head librarian, will report on the state of the library, and James H. Gilbert, president of the Association of Patrons and Friends of the University Library, will also give a report.

Guests at the dinner will be the nine winners in the Library Day contest, and the house librarian representing the living group winning the Josephine Evans Harpam silver cup, to be awarded the organization which has developed the best reading program among its members.

In charge of dinner arrangements is Mrs. O. F. Stafford, representing the Patrons and Friends. Dan E. Clark, head of the history department, heads the program committee.

Mexican Movie At Chapman Tonite

"Chata," a picture filmed in Mexico with a cast of natives, will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. this evening in 207 Chapman.

The movie, about a small Mexican girl, is open to all students and faculty. Students must show their student body cards for admission.

Love making, according to a writer, is a lost art. Okay, so we've made it a science.

Phillip Morris Interviews Set

Phillip Morris Company representatives will be on campus today to interview junior men, not seniors, as stated in yesterday's Emerald.

The company is seeking qualified juniors to participate in a college student training program involving summer employment.

The program includes two months of sales distribution instruction at a salary, a paid position as company campus representative next fall, and opportunity for permanent employment.

Candidates must be juniors graduating by June, 1951, willing to accept assignments in any part of the U.S., ranking scholastically in the upper half of their class, and active in campus activities.

Interview appointments may be secured through Miss Shirley Sylvester, Student Employment Office.

Novelist Slates University Visit

Archie Binns, American novelist, will visit the campus next week, upon invitation of the University, as part of the school's new enlarged program in creative writing.

While here the novelists will talk to students in writing and give a public lecture on the writer and the public.

A newspaper man in his earlier years, Binns turned to fiction writing and has several books to his credit. Among these are "The Land is Bright," "The Timber Beast," "The Roaring Land," "The Laurels Are Cut Down," "Backwater Voyage," and "Lightship." He is a member of the Author's League and Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity.

Binns is the first in a series of writers expected to visit the University in the future in conjunction with the writing program. Creative writing was recently listed as a new major subject in the University.

Prom Petitions Asked

Petitions are being requested for positions on the Junior Prom ticket committee. They should be turned in by 5 p.m., Friday to Jerry Smith at Phi Gamma Delta, or Jerry Meyers, Sigma Alpha Mu.

McClure Elected PE Club Prexy

Walt McClure was elected president of the Men's Physical Education Club at a meeting last Thursday.

Other newly elected officers of the club are Ted Legore, vice-president; Giles Godfrey, secretary; Ralph Dyson, treasurer; and Bob Becker, reporter.

Plans were made at the meeting for the annual Men's PE Club picnic to be held some time in May at Swimmer's Delight. An open house in the men's PE building for women in physical education was also discussed.

Christian House Elects

Mary Alice Baker, freshman in business administration, was elected president of Christian House, Christian youth foundation, Sunday.

Other new officers are Wah Chun, vice-president; Imogene Spurgeon, historian; Nancy Rada-baugh, recording secretary; Arlene Hendricks, corresponding secretary; Mark Van Voorhis, treasurer; Sherman Holmes, editor; and Bob Peterson, executive adviser.

Journal Publishes Librarian's Article

Helen Erickson, reference and map librarian in the University library, has had an article published in the "Good Ideas" section of the Library Journal.

The article discusses the advantages of a method of index mapping developed in the library.

Be happy and you'll be beautiful a beauty expert tells women. And most of them have been trying to be beautiful in order to be happy.
