

Dorothy Gangnath, Lucile Olson Join 'Martha' In Excellent Show

By NICHOLAS ARTHUR

Justifying the expectations of a sold-out audience, "Martha," von Flotow's melodic opera, resumed its run last night with Dorothy Gangnath and Lucile Olson superbly singing the leading female roles.

Miss Gangnath, as Lady Harriet, and Miss Olson as Nancy replaced Joy Grimstad and Shirley Anderson who sang the two roles for the first three nights of the opera's run.

Overcoming with noticeable success the difficulty of playing with an experienced cast, Miss Gangnath's beautiful soprano voice gave the delightful melodies of von Flotow which she sang all the character they deserve.

Especially beautiful, and as expertly rendered last night as in previous night's was "Tis The Last Rose of Summer." It was an anticipatory pleasure to hear Miss Gangnath sing the aria again.

The strong alto voice of Lucile Olson, singing Nancy, blended perfectly with the voices of Miss Gangnath and the two male leads, James Kays and Walter Martin.

The remaining members of the cast cooperated well with the two newcomers, bringing to last night's production all the spirit which characterized the first three performances.

The opera plays again tonight and closes its five-day run Saturday night, with Miss Gangnath and Miss Olson singing both nights.

Millrace Crisis Passes Quietly

Hopes dimmed and then turned very bright Thursday when word was first received that the Millrace would be shut down for six weeks, followed by a turn of events which terminated with the announcement that the famous center of festivities in past Junior Weekends would be flowing by May 6.

Noting that the lower end of the race was shut down because of construction of a six-story apartment house, the contractor on the new steam plant decided to start construction of the tunnel under the race which would connect the plant with the university.

After asking the city to empty the upper portion of the race, the contractor was met by a flare of objection which caused a postponement of the project until after Junior Weekend.

As a result of the squabble the contractor of the apartment house was questioned about the trouble that would be actually caused him by the filling of the race. It was then agreed that the race could be filled about May 6 without hampering that project.

The worst feeling in the world!

Nine years old and he can't play with the gang! His parents say two or three of the boys are different and he shouldn't associate with them.

What do they mean, different? He remembers that only a few days ago his history teacher told him that all Americans are equal—all citizens of one country and all working together.

This kid judges the rest of the gang by their individual personality, character and how they play ball—not by their race or religion.

Each race, each religion, contributes its own talents, culture and idealism to produce that amazing blend of ideas and vigor which have made America great. This boy wants to be proud of his country . . . not ashamed of it—and he can be if we don't influence him to the contrary!

Make sure that you are not spreading rumors against a race or a religion. Speak up, wherever you are, against prejudice, and work for better understanding. Remember that's what it means—to be a good American citizen.
