'Melody Magic' Theme For Junior Weekend

"Melody Magic," this year's theme, will set the tone for Junior Weekend, May 12 to 14, which coincides with Mothers' Weekend and will provide many colorful events for visiting mothers' entertainment.

The All-Campus Sing Friday night will see coronation of the Junior Weekend Queen, who with her court of four princesses will "reign" over the weekend's festivities. The Sing is a musical competition between campus living organizations and will feature 10 men's and 10 women's organizations in a variety of songs.

The Queen has been selected by student vote, but has not been announced as yet. She will be one of the court of five which consists of Mary Lou Bittman of Portland, Carson Hall; Nancy Chamberlain of Portland, Kappa Alpha Theta; Gloria Grimson of Forest Grove, Alpha Chi Omega; Patricia Lakin of Portland, Pi Beta Phi; and Lucille Wright of Sacramento, Calif., Sigma Kappa.

Parade Due Saturday

Saturday afternoon a parade of 23 floats will wind through Eugene streets and pass Gerlinger Hall where mothers attending a business meeting will be able to view the procession.

Men's and women's living organizations have been paired for the parade, and will construct their floats to represent song titles, in keeping with the weekend's "Melody Magic" Theme.

Probably the high point of the Weekend each year is the Junior Prom. This year the prom will feature the music of Charlie Barnett and his orchestra in McArthur Court. Numerous awards are made annually at prom intermission, including presentation of the Koyl and Gerlinger cups to the man and woman student named the most outstanding in the Junior class.

Another traditional feature of the Weekend is the All-Campus Picnic, which will be Saturday noon on the old campus, and will include free food and tapping by campus honoraries.

Forum Meets Today

Problems of democracy will be discussed at an open meeting of the Democracy Forum 4 p.m. today in 205 Chapman.

Mothers' Tea Slated to Honor Visitors May 13

One of the biggest events of Mothers' Weekend, May 12-14, will be the annual tea held in Alumni Hall, Gerlinger from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

The tea, sponsored by the Eugene Mothers Club, the Associated Women Students, and the YWCA, will give mothers an opportunity to meet informally with other mothers and state and student leaders.

General co-chairmen are Mrs. Elmer F. Keller and Mrs. Glendower P. Porter, assisted by student chairman, Marylon Haines.

Past presidents of the Eugene chapter will pour, while presidents from branches throughout the state have been invited to assist at the tea.

In the receiving line will be Mrs. Tad C. Luckey Jr., retiring president of the Eugene Mothers Club, Mrs. L. O. Meisel, incoming president, Mrs. Harry K. Newburn, Mrs. J. Alan Wickham, Mrs. Burt Brown Barker, Mrs. George H. Swift, retiring president of the state organization, Beverly Buckley, YWCA president, and Barbara Stevenson, AWS president.

The new state president will be announced at the Saturday breakfast of the Oregon Mothers.

A student committee composed of representatives from each women's living organization will assist at the tea.

A Letter To Mom

Welcome to Oregon, Mom!

Speaking for all of the students, I'd like to let you know that we're looking forward to having you down here on the University of Oregon campus Mothers' Weekend.

If this is your first visit to the campus you'll have an opportunity to become acquainted with all the people and places that we've been writing home about—the old campus, the "libe," the Millrace, the Side, our favorite professor, and our roommates.

If you are already familiar with Oregon, you'll be surprised at all the changes that have taken place since your last visit. The magnificent Student Union, almost completed, the University Theater, and ultra-modern Carson Hall are prominent among new buildings recently constructed.

You will be our guest of honor at the many Junior Weekend festivities—the float parade, the All-Campus Sing, and the Prom—as well as those events planned especially for you.

In the busy whirl of campus life we often become so caught up in the many activities, curricular and extra-curricular, that we are afraid sometimes you may feel neglected. We want to take this opportunity to show you our appreciation for the many, many things you do for us. In addition, we hope to give you an insight into college life.

The campus will be yours for the weekend. We hope you will feel yourself a part of it. We want you to meet our friends, to see our university, and we want to show you off to the campus. But we are looking forward, most of all, to seeing you—soon—at Oregon.

Sincerely,
Donna Buse
Chairman of Mothers' Weekend

Manager Denies Co-op Will Move

It seems there are some old rumors coming to life again. The latest is a revival of the rumor that the University Co-op Store is to move in the near future.

Manager G. L. Henson said Wednesday that the Co-op has no intention of moving, now or later. The rumor began, he explained, about 18 months ago when the Co-op Board was approached with a plan for moving a portion of their stock to a large room in the new Erb Memorial Student Union building.

Hensen stated that the board decided against such a move as it would mean a doubling-up of stock in certain departments and would create a transportation problem between the two units.

Tickets Ready For Breakfast

Tickets for the annual Mothers' Weekend breakfast May 13 are now on sale at $1 each in Graduate Placement Director Karl Onthank's office, 216 Emerald Hall.

The breakfast will be held in Carson Hall dining room, with attendance limited to 350. Mothers visiting the campus may attend.

Students should buy tickets for their mothers by next Wednesday, according to Mrs. William Tugman, chairman.

The breakfast will be combined with the annual business meeting of the Oregon Mothers' Club.

YM-YW Start Clothing Drive

An extensive clothing drive, covering Eugene and the University campus, began Wednesday for collection of new or used clothing for needy persons in Europe.

Shirts, suits, sweaters, shoes, or any articles in sturdy condition are being solicited on the campus by the YWCA and YMCA, who are working with the American Friends Service Committee.

Boxes have been placed in all campus living organizations, the YWCA, and the YMCA, and the central Y, 1075 Willamette. Eugene townspeople may contribute at the downtown post.

Woolen garments are preferred by the AFSC but all contributions will be accepted. Money contributions will also be accepted, according to Marian Briner, drive chairman.

Over 600 pounds of clothing and goods were collected for needy persons in Europe and Asia last year, as well as $50 in cash contributions, Miss Briner said.

Also needed are yard goods, knitting wool, shoes, hats, quilts, blankets, towels, sanitary articles, and sewing materials.

In Germany there are 12 million refugees, half a million of whom are lacking the benefits of the AFSC shipments, according to the committee.

In Japan, the textile ration has been cut to half a pound per person per year, leaving thousands of people, who lack shelter, without warm garments for protection.
