Pollution Fails To Foil Tuggers;
Frosh Triumph

"Who's Afraid of Typhoid Fever," sung to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," might have been the theme of Friday afternoon's Tug-o-War. It wasn't though.

Soph President Dick McLaughlin said the freshmen won, so it must be true, but the casual onlooker would have had trouble telling.

If any of the underclass stalwarts were scared by Emerald warnings about germs, pollution, and other frightening things, it didn't show. The event turned into an audience participation affair in short order—15 men were on each team, and the sophs were pulled in first, but from there on it was every man for himself, and hapless individuals were still splashing into the 'Race by twos and threes at 4:45.

A wildly-cheering throng estimated at somewhere between 150 and 2,000 screamed excitedly throughout the brief affair behind the Kappa Sigma house. About the only thing definitely proved was that the freshmen will be excused from wearing rooster's lids on campus today.

Oregana Handouts Halts Until Tuesday

No more Oreganas will be distributed until 9 a.m. Tuesday, Jim Sanders, business manager, reported Friday.

Distribution Tuesday at Mc-Arthur Court will continue from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., including the noon hour.

Monday distribution was cancelled because Oregana officials felt too many students had Monday classes.

Latest figures reveal that 2,000 books were handed out by service honoraries Thursday and Friday.
