

Huskies Top Tennis Team; JV Wins OSC Golfers Pull Upset at Corvallis

By MARTIN MEADOWS

The University of Washington's unbeaten tennis team handed the Oregon Ducks their fourth straight defeat at Seattle Saturday by a 6-1 score.

The defending champion Huskies snared four of the five singles contests and swept the doubles in posting their third conference victory.

The only Webfoot able to notch a triumph was Tom MacDonald, Oregon's threat for the northern division singles championship. MacDonald hooked up in a three-set struggle with Hugh Preston and came out on top by scores of 7-5, 2-6, 6-4.

Duck Losers

The remaining Ducks, Bob Mentor, Cameron Thom, Bill Williams, and George Boyd, were swamped in straight sets, as were the doubles teams of MacDonald-Mensor and Williams-Thom.

The match was the final one of the season for Oregon, which wound up with a 4-5 mark.

The last action of the year for Coach Robeson Bailey's netters will take place at Pullman this weekend when they engage in the northern division playoffs.

Dan Cudahy, who missed the last two matches due to a sore arm, will probably be able to make the trip.

JV Tops K Falls

Oregon's junior varsity tennis squad concluded its season with an abbreviated 4-0 win over a crippled Klamath Falls high school team here Saturday.

The Pelicans, playing without the services of their first and third men, were unable to win any of the four singles matches played.

The Duck winners were Jerry Earde, Merv Englund, Herb Chin, and Jerry Berreman. It was the fourth decision in five starts for the Webfoots.

The doubles contests were cancelled by agreement.

Willamette Juniors Defeat Frosh ;1-0; Vanquish EHS 6-5 in Saturday Play

Boxing Facts Offered By Coaches

This is a continuation of a story printed in Saturday's paper under the byline of Clyde Fahlman. The story dealt with information on intramural boxing as explained by coaches from other universities.

Al York at the University of Virginia writes: "We follow the NCAA boxing guide for all our rules. The only departure is that we box one (1) minute rounds instead of two (2) minutes. With any kind of training a boy can last through 3 one minute rounds, but it takes lots of sweat to last 3 two minute rounds. We feel you hurt your program if the last round of your bouts end in TKO's or the boys are so tired they can hardly lift their hands."

One of the best boxing coaches in the country—DeWitt A. Portal at San Jose State—sent a 70 page booklet on the pugilist sport at the California college. In a closing comment he wrote: "... best wishes for boxing at the University at Oregon."

These are only a few extracts selected at random, but they show how other schools have worked out a program for boxing.

Even though Duckling hurler Don Allen threw a three-hitter at them, it wasn't good enough, and the Willamette Junior Varsity shutout the Oregon Frosh Baseball team, 1-0, yesterday afternoon on the varsity diamond.

Allen, an Everett Junior College transfer making his first appearance for the Lemon and Green, pitched the full nine inning route and struck out 13 J.V.'s in the process.

Allen's only flaw was a streak of wildness in the second inning. He allowed Willamette second baseman Skimas to single. Skimas moved to second on an error and eventually walked across the plate with the winning run following two consecutive walks by Allen. The damage was done and that one run meant the ball game.

Lund Looks Good

Willamette's starting moundsman, Bert Lund allowed nary a bingle and only faced 17 men in the five innings he pitched. He was relieved by White in the sixth and he gave up only two blows in the remaining four innings, one being a beat-out bunt by Lee Alvord in the seventh and the other was third baseline single by Jim Barnes in the eighth canto.

A change in the regular Duckling lineup occurred when Ed Seabloom replaced Herb Cook in center field.

The Frosh edged out the Eugene High school nine last Saturday, 6-5, behind the four-hit combined effort of yearlings Pyle and Brown. The victory avenged a previous defeat at the hands of the prepmen, 9-3, earlier in the season.

Idaho Wins, 6-5 Cellar Possible For Baseballers

Idaho's Vandals moved into third place in the Northern Division by defeating Washington 6-5 in a tight baseball game. The win sent the Vandals a game and a half ahead of Oregon State, and two games up on Oregon.

The Ducks have a pair of contests remaining with Oregon State. Idaho has one with Washington on the schedule, and a double bill with Washington State. Only a double win for the Webfoots can keep them from finishing in the league basement.

Gridders Ready For Spring Tilt

Oregon's varsity gridders pumelled their way through a three hour scrimmage Monday afternoon on the practice lot, as Head Coach Jim Aiken began pointing for the annual big spring game this Saturday.

The squad will practice every day this week, with the probable exception of Wednesday.

Friday will be devoted to the annual coaches' clinic, during which time the Webfoot gridders will be used to demonstrate plays. That should prove to be a comparatively light afternoon for the Ducks, since pads will not be worn.

This last week of spring drill will afford the coaching staff a final look-see at the green machine until fall practice.

A general summary of Aiken's findings to date show that the current varsity will be a scrappier outfit than last year's crew, especially since there is a heavy injection of young blood.

The 1949 team was strong in the backfield, and spasmodic up front, but chances are that the '50 edition will be reversed. The line, both offensive and defensive, but especially defensive, is ferocious—and effective.

Delts, Pi Kaps, Betas Triumph; Chi Psi, Kappa Sigs In Playoff As Racemen Tie In League

By GARY ROMAINE

In the last day of regular intramural softball league play Pi Kappa Phi won over Nestor 5-3; Pi Kappa Alpha dropped McChesney 10-5; Chi Psi upset Kappa Sigma 3-2; The Delts edged Minturn 4-3; ATO and Omega both forfeited to each other and Beta Theta Pi squeezed by Sigma Phi Epsilon 6-5.

Monday afternoon was the last day of league play but there are several more playoffs and tie-games that will be played Tuesday afternoon. Westminster and Gamma, Merrick and Sigma Phi Epsilon, and SAE and Stan Ray will finish the last three innings of a tie game at 3:50. Kappa Sigma will play the Chi Psi again tomorrow to determine the winner of their league.

Pi Kaps Win

Pi Kappa Phi came from behind in the fifth to break up the game and come out on top of a 5-3 score. Pi Kappa Alpha tromped McChesney 10-5. Jim Johnson belted a long drive deep into centerfield in the first inning for the only home run for the afternoon.

The Chi Psis came from behind in the fifth inning to drop the Kappa Sigs 3 to 2. This win earned the Chi Psi nine a return game with the Kappa Sigs for both teams have now won four games and lost one in league play. Going into the fifth

A surprising five under par score of 67 by Oregon State's No. 6 man, Dick Zeigler, ruined an undefeated season for Coach Sid Milligan's University of Oregon golfers Saturday at the Eugene Country Club. The Beavers won 14-13.

The Ducks completed the dual meet season with a record of six wins and one loss. Oregon will enter the Northern Division meet at Corvallis next Friday and Saturday, May 19-20.

The Oregon State-Oregon upset clash was featured with unusual performances by the No. 6 men of both teams. Zeigler and Oregon's Jim Donahue recorded scores of 67 and 71, respectively, to tie for low honors with Teammates Dick Yost of OSC (67) and Ron Clark of Oregon (71). Ziegler fashioned a 3-0 win over Donahue while Yost outscored Clark 3-0.

Oregon Wins A Few

Dom Provost of the Ducks carded a par 72 to deadlock Beaver Bill Macomber 1½ to 1½. Oregon's John Prince shut out Bill Paul of OSC 3-0, Al Riebel dropped Keith Osborn of the Beavers 2-1, and Dave Frey of Oregon routed Lee Lindquist 2½ to ½.

Clark Gets Tie

Oregon's lone triumph in the best-ball play was recorded by Prince and Donahue, who defeated Zeigler and Lindquist 2-1. Clark and Riebel tied Yost and Macomber of OSC 1½ to 1½, and Paul and Osborn manufactured a 2½ to ½ triumph over Oregon's Provost and Frey.

Oregon's undefeated Frosh golfers won their second victory of the season Saturday by defeating the Oregon State Rooks at Eugene. The Frosh will battle the Lincoln High School Cardinals next Saturday.

However, Aiken's biggest problem will come in building a backfield out of the right combination of men.

Intramural Derby With Herby; Softball Playoff to Start Wed. Track, Bowling, Boxing, Popular

By C. HERBY FAHLMAN

For you chillin' that didn't send representatives to the IM meeting yesterday afternoon, here is the scoop.

First item on the agenda was the selection of teams for the IM softball championship playoffs.

They start on Wednesday; all opening round games are billed for 4 o'clock and will go the full seven innings. On the north field Theta Chi will meet Beta Theta Pi. On the south field Lambda Chi Alpha meets Phi Gamma Delta. It will be the winner of league two (Chi Psi or Kappa Sigma) vs. Phi Delta Theta on the upper field. Campbell Club draws a bye in first round competition.

It will be championship day Saturday on the golf links as Theta Chi and Sigma Nu battle for the IM golf crown.

Stan Ray and Alpha have advanced into the quarter finals in IM tennis. Results are not known for the ATO-Merrick and Phi Delta-Sammie matches.

Now for the major news (as far as this reporter is concerned).

The history angle: Up to 1940 four sports a term were featured in intramurals. Touch football, speedball, and "A" and "B" volleyball were played fall term; "A" and "B" basketball, handball, and wrestling were featured winter term; and track, golf, softball, and tennis were played spring term.

However, in 1940 the inter-fraternity council passed a resolution, asking the intramural managers of all living organizations to cut down the IM program to three sports a term. The resolution was voted upon by the IM managers at that time, and it was decided that three sports a term was enough—and that is the way it stands today.

But now, three additional sports have come into the lime-light: bowling, boxing, and track.

With the opening of the Student Union building next fall there is a strong possibility that the bowling alleys could be used for IM bowling. However, players and teams would have to pay their own alley fees.

Herb Nill, student representative has proposed an IM boxing program for next year. If this plan was carried through, it would probably lead to intercollegiate boxing
