

On the Air

(Continued from page two)

the things that it says on the cover, like Mortar Board, desserts, rooters lids, intramurals, coke dates, and all that sort of stuff."

Again a silence. The other rolled over on his back, shut his eyes, looked up into the sun as if he could see therein a reflection of the past.

"Yeah," he said, "The four years of Mortar Board Balls you didn't go to, the desserts where you get some gal a foot too big, or the intramural where a blind ref let some bozo hack you to death.

In the Bag

(Continued from page two)

Sophomore picnickers Saturday will be able to catch a last glimpse of the standouts in the Skull and Dagger's lineup before they are snatched up by the Pros*. RichLegs McLaughlin, Vern (Stealing) Stolen, Merv (Specs) Hampton, Bob (Rapid) Gray, and many others will be making their last appearance fighting for dear old S&D.

The letter so daringly printed in last week's Emerald by the members of Kwama surprised us to no end. This belated answer is due to the shock Kwama's letter evoked upon our group. After reorganization, and only after a very close vote, we decided to let our talented members participate.

It is too late now to back out but perhaps you

Sophomore Wisdom

(Continued from page two)

even if you don't have a license!" And late one night they approached one of the most feminine ducks in the blue pond and offered her four fish if she would change ponds. She, however, declined. She had never liked fishing much, anyway.

And so, the two great big (ugh) hairy-chested ducks went over to the green pond, and quacked loudly about WHO, and how it made unequal apportionments of fish. Some green ducks protested mildly that this buying blue ducks with fish was not perhaps too cricket, but they were told it was just a temporary measure to establish pond supremacy, and there would be plenty of time for democracy later.

Then one of the younger, giddier green ducks (the green ducks don't enter into this much—they just help dissenting blue ducks catch fish) said, "My, how charming and idealistic we must be if these great big (ugh) hairy-chested blue ducks come over to paddle around and quack with us!"

And one of the older, more disenchanted of the green ducks said, "No, they didn't come over for the company, my dear, they came to catch some fish."

This shifting of ponds to catch a bigger fish became known as IDEALISM.

(Mr. Funk, author of this column, belongs to a living organization that recently left the green duck pond and returned to the blue duck pond, after figuring that it wasn't getting any fish no matter where it swam. Perhaps because of unqualified fishermen.—Editor.)

Top that off with rolling out of bed in January for an eight o'clock, the dozens of coke dates you had broken, and the pop quizzes on Monday morning. Memories, huh!"

He rolled over on his back and was silent again.

The other kid just absorbed the sun. The broken coke date, the basketball ref, the January 8 o'clock. He could laugh at them now.

"Y'know", he said to himself, "those are probably the very things that will bring me back a couple years from now."

could plead travel-weariness as Swimmer's is quite a jaunt for daintie-dainties. A few rules might be appropriate (these are for protection of the Skulls).

1. No tobacco chewing. (Juice might spoil our clothes).
2. No dropping bats. (This includes throwing them).
3. Spikes may not be used. (This doesn't include tights).
4. No profane language. (Our vanities—you know).

And may the best man's team win!

* Poor run of Schmoes.

Members of Skull and Dagger,
Sophomore Men's Service Honorary

Dads' Election Slated Saturday

The University of Oregon Dads' Executive Committee will meet Saturday morning to elect new committee members, Karl W. Onthank, faculty representative, reported yesterday.

The committee will also consider enlargement of their scholarship endowment fund, according to Onthank.

President Harry K. Newburn will speak to the dads on the state of the University.

Owen Bentley of Portland, president of the organization, will preside at the meeting.

Delta Phi Alpha Picks New Officers

New officers of Delta Phi Alpha, German language honorary, were chosen at a recent initiation banquet.

Elected to office were Ellen Liebe, president; Robert E. Johnson, vice-president; and Hildegard Wagner, secretary-treasurer. Outgoing president is Robert Merkel.

The Delta Phi Alpha book award, given annually to an outstanding student of German, was awarded to Harold Bauman.

Russian Film Next In Chapman Series

"Life in Bloom" will be shown at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Wednesday in 207 Chapman.

The Russian film portrays the life and work of Ivan Michurin, Russian plant breeder and scientist telling how he envisaged the world of the future as a garden in bloom.

Writer and producer Alexander Dovzhenko has used color as a medium to convey moods.

Students and faculty members only will be admitted. Students must show their student body cards for admission.

Campbell Lectures At Salem Banquet

Laurence R. Campbell, professor of journalism, spoke Tuesday at Salem Banquet. He spoke in his capacity as executive secretary of the Oregon Scholastic Press and the Association of Journalism Advisers.

Seven Positions Open in State; See Onthank

Seven positions with local and state firms were announced by the graduate placement office Monday.

Burroughs Adding Machine Company is looking for trainees for jobs in this vicinity. Sales accounting training or experience is desired.

Sales openings on a commission basis are available with a Cottage Grove appliance company and with Compact Sales Service, a west coast distributor.

A local appliance company is seeking an office manager.

An International Business Machines concern located in Eugene has a vacancy for a college trainee.

An accounting opening is available with a lumber company in Lebanon.

Liggett and Meyers Tobacco Company has vacancies on its sales staff.

Further information is available at the graduate placement office, 216 Emerald.

Fire Damages City Air Park

Fire swept through a hanger of the city-owned Eugene Air Park late Tuesday afternoon destroying six planes, a link trainer, and approximately 80 per cent of the building, the Eugene Fire Department reported.

Four fire trucks and voluntary firemen were called to the blaze which was reported at 5:45. By 6:15 the fire was brought under control after threatening near-by buildings.

Cause of the fire had not been definitely determined Tuesday night.

The Air Park is located in the southwest part of Eugene on Chambers Street.

CLASSIFIED

LOST—Gray "51" pen near Condon. Reward. Mamie Chan. Ext. 483.

PERSONAL—To Webfoot Republicans: Vote May 19, for Oregon's Fighting Senator Wayne Morse. (Webfoots for Wayne) 131

FOR SALE—Master's Cap Gown and Hood (Oregon Hood). All wool practically new. $20.00. Inquire at Co-op. 130

FOR SALE—Excellent 1948 Aero-sedan Chevrolet. New tires. 5-6780—366 E. 16th. (129)

UKES — two more large orders just received—wood and plastic. Prices from $4.25. Best selection in town. Wilson's Music House, 39 E. 10th. (132)

WANTED—Student wants two riders to east coast at end of spring term. Phone Ext. 325. Bill Gruman, 210 Sederstrom, Vets II. 131

FOR SALE—'48 Pontiac Conv. 8. Hydromatic. Immaculate. 18,000 miles. $1,985. Terms. Phone: 7-9992, 8-5. 133

LOST—Reversible Oregon jacket at picnic Saturday. Call Rod Smith 4-4255. Reward. 131

Biology Dept. Plans Picnic-Seminar May 26

The biology department in Deady Hall is planning a picnic-seminar for May 26 at Coburg Bridge this year instead of a tea. The seminar class and faculty are included in the picnic.

Bring Your Real Estate Problems to Gilmore Realty
1219 Alder St.
Ph 42249

For energetic leadership county administration

Vote

Allen P. Wheeler
for County Judge

Pd. Adv. by Wheeler for Judge Comm.
Charles Wiper, Sec'y.

Phi Mu Alpha Will Present Concert May 21

An all-American music program will be presented by Phi Mu Alpha, national men's music honorary, at 8 p.m. Monday in the Music School Auditorium.

Organ, piano, voice, clarinet and piano, brass, string, and woodwind ensemble selections will be presented.

Lyle Gardiner, organist, will play "Roulade" by Seth Bingham, "Pastorale" by Darius Milhaud, and "Sonata Number 1" by Paul Hindemith.

Millard Kenney, pianist, will play five preludes by Blas Galindo. Carl Gutman, clarinetist, will play "Suite for Clarinet" by Halsey Stevens.

Eldon Pentilla will sing "My Message" by Guy D'Hardelot.

Ensembles to be heard are brass, playing four pieces by George McKay; woodwinds, playing "Scherzo" by Edward Turecheck; and strings, playing "Suite Antique" by Albert Stoessel.

His billfold was lost,
He couldn't pay his way
An Emerald Classified
Would have saved the day.

WHY?

"LOVE THAT BIG MAN."

"Because he's wearing a TWENTIETH CENTURY SUIT From"

FENNELL'S

Keith says, "Come in and look over our assortment of BATHING SUITS. You'll be all wet without one."