

Defending Champ

GEORGE RASMUSSEN, defending champion of the Northern Division pole vault event, who will be on the docket to defend his crown in Seattle this Saturday. Rasmussen, a four-year letterman at Oregon, will be completing his final season for the Ducks. He is expected to compete in the Pacific Coast Conference meet at Berkeley on the following weekend.

Webfoots Tackle Pacific Badgers On Forest Grove Field Tonight

Hanns to Start Beneath Lights

It's baseball under the lights tonight for Don Kirsch's Ducks when they meet Pacific's Badgers at Forest Grove. The contest is a tuneup for the final series of the season this weekend against the Oregon State Beavers.

Kirsch plans to start Jim Hanns on the mound in the Webfoots' second encounter of the season with the Badgers.

Oregon copped the first one at Eugene behind the hurling of Lyle Rogers and Stan Aune.

Hanns will be going into action after taking some rude treatment from the usually weak Oregon State College bats this past Friday at Corvallis. The big right hander will have a makeshift lineup behind him at Forest Grove, for several of the Duck regulars will be busy with tests.

Infield Changed

One of the changes could be at shortstop, where outfielder Ray Stratton may start in place of Ray Coley. At third, Nick Schmer is slated to take over the duties of Don Kimball. The rest of the infield will have Phil Settecase on first, slugging Daryle Nelson at second, and Jack Smith behind the plate. Mouse Owens, Johnny Jones, and Joe Tom will divide the outfield pastures between them.

The Oregons will be hoping to strengthen their power at the plate before facing Ralph Coleman's Orange nine on Howe Field Friday.

As for the past weekend, it simply was a case of the hit-starved CSC batters finding themselves in that first game, according to Kirsch. The Beaver bats returned to a whisper on Saturday, however, and the 6-3 triumph for the Aggies should have been reduced to 3-1 as far as earned runs are concerned.

Track Squad Trains for ND Meet Saturday; 18 Man Limit Imposed

Track Coach Bill Bowerman will run his charges through a light "tune-up" today in preparation for the northern division track meet on Saturday in Seattle.

Time trials and general loosening up will be the general order of today's workout.

There is an 18 man limit on schools attending the ND meet.

Lineup Listed

Bowerman has announced the tentative list for the Seattle hike.

It reads as follows: In the sprints, Bill Fell, Dave Henthorne, Mitch Cleary, Al Bullier, and Jack Countryman; in the half-mile, Walt McClure; mile, Art Backlund; two mile, Pete Mundle; hurdles, Jack Doyle, Dennis Sullivan, Jack Smith... weights, Bob Anderson, Chuck Missfeldt; and jumps, Woodley Lewis, Lloyd Hickok, Don Pickens, Mary Rasmussen, Manager Jack Gamet will also make the trip.

For 18th man on the squad Bowerman will choose between Jack Hutchins and Dave Kolden. Hutchins, outstanding sophomore in the 880 and mile events, has been troubled all season by a sore leg, and hasn't come along as well as Bowerman had hoped.

Tuesday's workout was light. Bob Anderson dampened rumors about an injured rib with tosses of over 150 feet in the discus. Best toss was 156 feet.

Javelin hurler Chuck Missfeldt also looked exceptionally good in Tuesday's workout.

George Varoff, Oregon pole-vaulter of 1938, held the world record in this event.

Five Days Left For Grid Work; Game Saturday

Five days of practice remain to fill out Football Coach Jim Aiken's 30-day spring practice stint, and the fifth day this week will see the annual spring intrasquad game.

The coaching staff for this game will be:

For the Green team, Buster McClure and Jim Berwick. For the White team, Dick Wilkins and John McKay. Game time Saturday is 2 p.m.

Aiken promised that fans will see a type of play which is more wide open than has been featured at Oregon in previous seasons. This will be especially true next fall when he has his full team, Jim added.

Several Stars Out

Fans won't get to see next fall's team this Saturday by a long shot. Missing will be Bob Anderson, Chet Daniels, Dick Patrick, Bill Fell, Chuck Missfeldt, and a few others. These men are out because of various reasons, which range from injuries to track duties.

No hard scrimmages will be held for the remainder of the week, Aiken said.

Left End Jake Williams will be ready to play, after having recovered from a leg injury. Aiken hinted that, with Williams in the line-up, fans may get to see his comparatively new end-around play.

This play has not been used to any great extent in previous Aiken seasons, but with a tricky runner like Williams on the end spot, it is figured to be well used next fall.

Chi Psi Trims Kappa Sigs, Sig Eps Beat Sherry Ross

By CLYDE FAHLMAN

It was tie-breaking day Tuesday in intramural softball action as eight teams advanced respective win-loss columns.

All but one game featured the breaking of scores knotted earlier in the season.

Most important game on the slate was the Chi Psi-Kappa Sigma play-off for the championship of League Two.

Chi Psi snared the honors with a smashing 11-1 victory.

In other games on the day's schedule, Sigma Phi Epsilon topped Sherry Ross 6-2, Westminster tipped Gamma 2-1, and Stan Ray won over SAE by forfeit.

Chi Psis Ramble

Chi Psi opened the scoring parade in the first inning as two runs crossed the plate on three walks and pitcher Jim Hayden's double.

To errors, a wild pitch, a double by Chuck Rufner, and a triple by Pret Holt produced three more runs for the Hilyard street crew in the second inning.

Kappa Sigma retaliated with one run in the bottom half of the inning on a walk, an error, and an out-field fly.

The Psis sewed up the ball game in the top half of the fourth as two errors, singles by Rufner, Hayden, and John Chaney, and a triple by Tom Wrightson produced six runs.

Bill Deatherage and Frank Cothrell tied up in a true pitcher's battle for two and one half innings, but the fireworks exploded in the bottom half of the inning when Westminster rallied on an error and singles by Ben Yyons and Morris Weakley.

This explosion broke a 1-1 tie game played earlier in the season.

For six consecutive innings in an early season ball game the Sig Eps and Merrick Hall had fought to a 2-all tie. Yesterday, however the seventh inning was a slight deviation from the trend as four Sig Ep runners crossed the plate on an error, two walks, and a single by Rex Young.

Frosh Nine Sets OSC Rook Tilt

The Oregon Duckling baseball team will tangle with the Oregon State Rooks Thursday afternoon in a make-up game for a scheduled meeting that was rained out earlier this season.

Starting time is 3 p.m. on the practice field.

Only one game in the annual "little Civil War" series between the two schools has been completed, many cancellations resulting from inclement weather conditions. The single game resulted in a neat four-hit performance by Duck Curt Barclay enabling the Frosh to come out on top, 3-2.

Coach Marv Rasmussen announced that Barclay will again take the mound against the OSCers Thursday, and Jack Pyle is due for Friday action.

Final IM League Standings Listed

Championship playoffs for intramural softball begins today at four o'clock.

Theta Chi, winner of league six, meets league three winner, Beta Theta Pi, on the north field.

On the south field, Phi Gamma Delta, top nine in loop four, will play Lambda Chi Alpha, league seven top-notch.

The upper field will be the scene of the Chi Psi, league two winner, and Phi Delta Theta, winner of league one.
