

Vaughn Monroe Sets OSC Appearance

Vaughn Monroe and his orchestra will play at Gill Coliseum, Oregon State College, May 27.

Appearing with Monroe's orchestra will be singer Ziggy Talent, comedian Jay Lawrence, and the Moonmaids quartet.

Oreganas Sent To High Schools

Oregon Dads, Oregon Mothers, and Alumni Association have sent copies of the 1950 Oregana to every high school in the state, Karl W. Onthank, faculty adviser, has reported.

Copies for the high schools were printed early and mailed to the high schools before University distribution, to reach farming communities before school closing dates, Onthank said.

Oregon Dads guaranteed the printing cost, and the other groups contributed to the expenses.

KDUK Drive Lulls; Establishment Sure

The drive to collect pledge cards on breakage fees for the establishment of campus radio station KDUK came to a successful lull today. A total of 618 pledges has been collected.

Jack Vaughn, president of Kappa Rho Omicron, radio honorary, said, "The money collected is enough to insure the establishment of a carrier current station, and will put a dent into the costs of an FM setup."

The amount of money that will be turned over to the KDUK fund is estimated to be between $1,200 and $1,800.

A meeting of Kappa Rho Omicron, held Wednesday night, considered the question of ending the drive or carrying on additional canvassing.

Dull to Speak On Government In KERG Forum

Dr. Paul S. Dull, professor of history and political science, will participate in a discussion over KERG at 6:30 p.m. today on "world government: United World Federalists vs. Atlantic Union."

Other participants are Sam Levering, national chairman of the field committee of United World Federalists, graduate of and former instructor at Cornell University, and Ray Siegenthaler, chairman of Eugene Council of World Affairs.

"Can World Government Keep Us Out of War, and How Can World Government be Achieved," is the general topic of a forum to be aired over KUGN at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Presenting opinions will be Mr. Levering, Dr. Edna Landros, professor of Classical languages, and secretary of Eugene Atlantic Union Committee; Dr. Charles Schleicher, professor of political science; Day Bayly, Eugene attorney; and Ray Siegenthaler as moderator.

At 8 p.m. Friday at the Congregational Church, Mr. Levering will speak on "War with Russia vs. More Power to the U.N."

Interviews Slated For Sales Jobs

Francis O. Barmuth, sales manager for the Brisbane Electric Company of Cottage Grove, will be on the campus today to interview applicants for jobs.

The company has openings for sales representatives for June graduates.

A substantial drawing account plus commission is offered, according to Mrs. Marian Scheckler, secretary of the Graduate Placement Office.

Interview appointments may be made with Mrs. Scheckler, 216 Emerald early this morning or by contacting Barmuth at his home, 743 1/2 11th Ave. E.

Church News

CHRISTIAN HOUSE

The Rev. Carroll C. Roberts, pastor of the First Christian Church, will speak on "The Arch of Married Happiness" at 6 p.m. Sunday at Christian House in the second discussion in a "Love, Courtship, and Marriage" series.

Refreshments will be served following the discussion, with Patty Harley in charge.

Christian House is featuring daily outdoor games, including croquet and badminton, for all interested students.

NEWMAN CLUB

Members of the Newman Club will picnic at Lake Cleawox Sunday. Cars will leave the campus YMCA between 10 and 10:30 a.m.

Tickets, at 75 cents each, will be sold at the picnic.

Co-chairmen are Richard Arndt and Jane Weber.

Transportation Group To Initiate Tuesday

Oregon's chapter of Delta Nu Alpha, transportation fraternity, will hold an initiation banquet Tuesday evening.

New members to be initiated are Lt. Col. J. H. Cunningham, professor of military science; Stewart Hook, Richard Stief, Raymond Passerini, Donald King, J. A. Haglund, and Robert Stephensen.

Translation Planned For 'Human Growth'

Lester F. Beck, professor of psychology, received word Thursday that his book, "Human Growth," will soon be published in Norwegian for use in schools in Norway.

The book, already being widely used in this country, is aimed at sex education at the junior high school level.
