KRO Concludes Radio Fee Drive

A successful campus drive to secure breakage fees for radio station KDUK was concluded by radio honorary Kappa Rho Omicron. Living organizations contributed pledges totaling $1,500.

This amount is enough to insure the installation of a carrier current station with studios in Villard hall. Any money over and beyond the installation of this network will be used with additional funds in the installation of a frequency modulation outlet.

KRO decided early this week to halt its campus drive and encourage contributions from alumni and other interested groups. Students wishing to submit pledge cards may obtain them in the speech office on the second floor of Villard hall.

Jack Vaughn, chairman of the drive, could not offer an approximate date for KDUK's debut, but said that it should be sometime next school year.

Honorary Taps Six B.A. Women

Six University women were tapped for membership in Phi Chi Theta, national business women's honorary, Monday night.

New pledges are Mary Alice Baker, Gretchen Grefe, Joanne Kelley, Sue Israel, Elizabeth Miller, and Helen Triska.

Formal pledging is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. today at the Alpha Xi Delta house.

Pat McGinty, president of the local chapter, will attend the national convention of Phi Chi Theta, scheduled for June 15 through 18 in Chicago, Ill.

Houses Accept Exchange Students

Six foreign students have already been accepted by University living organizations for next year, according to information received from the registrar's office.

The number of foreign students to study here next year, however, is expected to increase before the spring term is over. Several living organizations have voted to accept the students, but as yet have not made their selections known to the registrar's office.

Students already accepted and the houses they will live in are Ingeborg Vedeler, Norway, Alpha Delta Pi; Pieter Streefkerk, Netherlands, Delta Upsilon; Wilfred Maeding, Germany, Sigma Chi; Arne Magnus Borgnes, Norway, Phi Delta Theta; Oskar Hoessl, Germany, Campbell Club; and Johan Bystrom, Sweden, Phi Sigma Kappa.

Saturday Deadline For USA Positions

Positions are now open for the United Students Association steering committee. Students may petition for president, vice-president, secretary, and one of 10 members at large.

Saturday noon is the deadline for petitions, John Day, president of USA, said. Applicants will be notified of the time they will be interviewed by the present steering committee.

Members now are Ron Phillips, Virginia Wright, Dolores Jeppeson, Sue Michel, Dan French, Vic Fryer, Joan Carey, and Donna Buse.

There is really not much difference between "has-beens" and "going-to-be's."

Advanced ROTC Applications Due

Deadline for applications for advanced ROTC and Air ROTC is 5 p.m. Friday.

Applications may be submitted to the Department of Military and Air Science and Tactics.

The department's present quota will enable it to accept an additional limited number of qualified applicants over and above the 45 who have already applied, Col. Frank R. Maerdian, head of the department, stated Tuesday.

Students who are unable to apply now may enter applications next fall, but prompt signing of contracts will be assured by application and physical examination now, Col. Maerdian explained.

Union Oil Co. Plans Interviews Thursday

Interviews for sales positions with two national concerns will be held Thursday and possibly Fridays, Mrs. Marian Scheckler, graduate placement secretary, announced Tuesday.

Representatives of the Union Oil Company will be on campus Thursday to interview students interested in a sales training program.

The Portland branch of a national wholesale grain firm will send representatives to the University, either Thursday or Friday, to recruit salesmen and buyers.

Students wishing interview appointments should contact the Graduate Placement Office today, Mrs. Scheckler said.
