Almost Hardly Late For Oregana Pictures Warns Aging Editor

High administrative officials close to the Oregana editor revealed in a Wednesday afternoon press conference that it is "almost too late for any student to have his picture taken for inclusion in the 1950 Oregana."

"The chances look fairly slim," a spokesman for the group said. He refused to disclose his name to the press.

Also denied at the conference was the fact that the editor picked up his copies four days after the last day of distribution. This statement was made by the business manager, the officials said, in a deliberate attempt to libel the aging editor. In addition he asserted that five-sixths of the Sexy Six had not yet picked their copies.

Editor Grilled

When queried about the 1950 Oregana, Editor Larry Davidson, said "no comment."

"I could tell you what's in the book, if I could only remember—but everything is so dim. We were working away on it, and then everything went black."

Davidson has been a patient in the University infirmary since Feb. 14, and only recently has been allowed visitors. He received a broken fingernail when attempting to trim pictures with a paper-cutter.

Still Hope

The press conference officials requested that student bear up under the strain of not receiving their Oreganas. They said that negotiations were under way to get Portland lithographers to strike, so that publication of the yearbook would approximate last year's. Publication of the 1949 Oregana was in August.

Shirley Filbert, art editor for the 1950 Oregana, said that she has seen almost all of the nine pages in the book, and that they are "real peachy-keen."

Candidates Lag At Santa Anita; Stymie Stymied

"I do not choose to run," it was disclosed Wednesday by three SAG candidates and Stymie, who refused to break from the starting gate in the fifth at Santa Anita. Bets on all entries were cancelled.

Betting Commissioner Arthur Johnstoun (winner of the Kentucky Derby in 1939) said this exclusive drivell came straight from the horses' mouths. Other candidates issued a terse "no comment."

Stymie is by his Father, out of his mother and has beaten his three SAG opponents previously at Pimlico.

Half Ashwump Covered by Grass

Robert Ashwump, graduate student in biology, was rescued Wednesday night after 23 hours without food or water. He was discovered by a physical plant employe half-buried in the lawn outside Deady Hall.

After a meal, Ashwump explained "I guess I just got too wrapped up in my subject."

He is doing research on the home life of earthworms.

Maternity Gown Delivery Delayed

Orders for maternity gowns have been coming in slow, G. L. Hemstitch, manager of the University Co-op, said Wednesday. He stressed that all senior women must order as soon as possible.

A shortage of maternity gowns has been brought on by exceptionally large graduating classes this year. The Co-op's orders are placed farther away than ever before, thus delaying delivery.

Inconstant Plan To Assure Vote

Voting upon the proposed ASUO Constitution will continue during Fall registration, the high council voted unanimously last night.

Failing by only 45 per cent to get the required 50 per cent vote, BS Prexy Bart Bunson said, "It is a shame, when so many persons want the proposed constitution that a few students prevent its acceptance by failure to vote."

Of the five per cent voting, 1 person favored adoption.

Wellington Inconstant, registrar, announced that voting will be step 9,856 of the new registration setup planned for next fall.

The new registration process "virtually eliminates lines," Inconstant hinted. It will take only 33 days to register.

The husband who has no secrets from his wife has either confessed or been found out.
