

YW Chairmanships Open for Women

Three chairmanships in the YWCA senior cabinet are open to sophomore, junior, and senior women, Beverly Buckley Robathan, YWCA president, announced Tuesday.

Positions are open for flying speech and radio, membership, and public relations chairmen. Applicants may turn in petitions and arrange for personal interviews this week at the YWCA office.

Two U of O Students Journey to France

Coralie Ann Nelson and Charity Williams, juniors in liberal arts, left Sept. 7 for France on the liner Queen Elizabeth to study French under the Sweet Briar College Junior Year in France plan.

The Oregon students were the only two Western college women of the 79 from 31 American colleges and universities to be chosen for the trip.

Rushing Enters On Second Day

Sorority rushing goes into its second day today with open house tours continuing from 1 to 5:15 p. m.

Sixteen groups, led by members of Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, will visit the houses, Joan White Panhellenic president, stated.

Rushees are requested to meet in the Panhellenic assembly hall Room 2, basement of the Student Union, at 12:30 p. m., where the tours will be organized.

A rushee assembly will be held at 6:30 p. m. today in the assembly hall.

Invitational dates begin Thursday and continue through Sunday. Preference dates will be Sunday, with pledging Monday.

Ore-nter, Frosh Book Now In Circulation

Now in the hands of all freshmen and new students, is the 1950 Ore-nter, edited by Bob Funk. The booklet, published by the ASUO and the Office of Student Affairs, is mailed out in the summer.

Bill Carey, was business manager of the handbook, and Donna Covalt was art editor.

Rushees are to meet at 9 a. m. each day Thursday through Sunday to receive instructions and pick up invitations, Miss White said.

Freshmen pledging at the end of rush week will live in dormitories this year under the deferred living plan adopted by the University.

Students with over 36 hours may move into the house after pledging if they have made previous arrangements with dormitory officials.

Any questions on rushing will be answered by Panhellenic whose offices are in the Student Union.

Again--No Millrace

Eugene's plan to have "welcome back" present for returning students—a full millrace, got mixed up with construction of the new Ferry Street bridge last weekend.

The result:

No millrace. City Manager Oren King said yesterday that when the race was turned off Friday, it interfered with construction of footings for the bridge.

King said he expects water will flow again about the first of October.
