Four Intramural Tilts Slated for Tuesday

By CLYDE FAHLMAN

There will be an important meeting of athletic managers of all houses and organizations at 4 p.m. today in the intramural office. Assistant Intramural Director Everett Peery has asked all groups participating in intramural sports this term to send representatives to the meeting.

Four games on Tuesday will initiate the touch football race. Schedules have been mailed to all organizations.

There are several vacancies for touch football officials. Anyone interested in earning money by officiating should contact the intramural office as soon as possible. It is requested that each organization

Oregon's Loss

John Turner, sophomore tackle on the Washington State College football team, takes honors of being the biggest man on the squad. Turner, who hails from Klamath Falls, Oregon, stands six feet four inches and weighs 245 pounds.

BILL BOWERMAN, Oregon frosh football coach, started his hopefuls in some extensive workouts last week, with the hope of building up a team that can maintain the fine record of Ducklings in the past. In two seasons Bowerman's gridmen have a record of 7 wins against 3 losses.

La De Da

The Washington Huskies are adding a million dollar deck to their present stadium. As an added convenience, the press box and the photographers box will be reached by elevator. The elevator shaft extends upward between two circular ramps and discharges passengers at a landing at the top of the stands. From here the reporter or cameraman gains access to his respective location by means of a walkway leading directly to the booth.

Seventy per cent of the members of the prison band were paroled before their terms were up. Even in the pen, peace is a blessing.

Duck-UCLA Film Slated For Tuesday

Movies of the Oregon-UCLA football game will be shown Wednesday night in the Student Union in the first of a weekly series of programs sponsored by the Student Union Board.

Each week, members of the Oregon athletic department will be on hand to show movies of the preceding Saturday's game, and to answer questions regarding athletic department policy. In addition, the coach who scouted the next opponent will give a report on that team.

Harris, McClure To Speak

Wednesday's program starts at 6:30 p. m. After the first week the programs will be held on Tuesday nights.

Student Union Director Dick Williams will open the meeting, and will be followed by Athletic Director Leo Harris, who will speak briefly on the purpose of the program. Bob McClure, head Oregon scout, will discuss the University of California football team, which he saw play Saturday.

Aiken To Explain High Points

Harris will give an outline of the use of the suggestion and question boxes which will be at the doors of the Union ballroom before each program. Coach Jim Aiken will point out the highlights of the UCLA game movie. The entire program is scheduled to run for one hour.

Frosh Gridmen In Heavy Drill

By PHIL JOHNSON

Coach Bill Bowerman's University of Oregon Frosh gridmen went through their initial drills last Monday as they opened practice for the 1950 season. The Ducklings have scheduled four games and are negotiating for a fifth.

Bowerman's squad will play their opponent against Willamette Frosh on Saturday, October 14. They travel to Corvallis on the following Saturday for a traditional clash with the Oregon State Rooks.

Pups First

The Frosh meet the Washington Pups on Saturday, October 28, and then rest for two weeks (possibly three) before encountering the OSC Rooks at Eugene for the final Duckling battle of the season. The length of the rest depends upon the outcome of present negotiations for an Armistice Day clash between the Frosh and the Humboldt (California) Junior College varsity on Humboldt's home field.

The 1950 season will be Bowerman's third at the University of Oregon. His 1948 squad won three out of five games and his 1949 gridmen captured four out of five. The latter seized their opener from the Portland Frosh by taking a 26-7 decision, routed the OSC Rooks 33-6 on their home grounds, dropped a 59-13 game to the Washington Frosh, blanked Vanport Junior College 20-0, and gained a 13-0 triumph over the Rooks in a muddy tilt at Eugene.

Bowerman Busy

Bowerman, who graduated from Oregon in 1935, also coaches varsity track. He came to Oregon from Medford high, where his Black Tornado gridmen won 64 games, lost 8, and tied 3 while they were rolling through three undefeated seasons and three unofficial state championships. Bowerman's track teams from Medford won the Hayward Relays seven times in eight years.

Next Saturday?

CHESTER DANIELS, Oregon guard, didn't have a chance to show off his ability as a place kicker in the UCLA game Saturday, but will be fighting for a chance to show his stuff against Cal next Saturday. As an All-Coast guard last year, Daniels led the country in points scored by place kicking, netting five field goals and 31 extra points for a total of 46 points. His average was also terrifically high as he missed only one field goal try and three extra point attempts. This latter gave him an average of .912, and second place in the country.

Ducks Set for Week Of Closed Sessions

Oregon's Ducks go back to the drawing board at full strength this afternoon after getting past the UCLA clash without more than the usual amount of bumps and bruises. The Ducks face a heavy, closed drill schedule this week before they board a train Saturday morning for the California contest at Portland.

Coach Jim Aiken indicated Sunday night that several changes may be made in the Oregon camp before next weekend. The Webfoot headman expressed disappointment in the performance of several players but attributed most of the weaknesses to stage fright.

"Most of our boys were seeing a lot of action in a big game for the first time in their lives," Aiken pointed out, "and they found that this was a lot different from high school and frosh ball."

No Snap

Oregon showed no snap most of the afternoon, Aiken stated, and allowed the Bruins to get the jump on them play after play. Several of the boys complained of difficulty of breathing, which the Oregon mentor believes was caused by excitement more than anything else.

"We lost to a good team," Aiken admitted, "a better team than we were. This boy, Moore, really caught fire, and he had wonderful help from Watson and Wilkinson. UCLA did little wrong Saturday and was very quick to take advantage of our numerous mistakes."

Several Oregon backs came in for praise from Aiken, among them Tommy Edwards, Don Sloan, Bobo Moore, and Bill Fell on offense. Ray Karnofski received a good word for his defensive work, as did lineman Bob Anderson, Dick Daugherty, Don MacCauley, Chet Daniels, and Dave Gibson.

"We used a lot of boys in the game Saturday," Aiken said, "and we plan to do the same against California. You've got to do this if you don't want to be outrun by these clubs loaded with talented depth. Some of our boys will come through, others won't. You never know."

Few Penalties

Aiken pointed out that the Webfoots were not guilty of any infractions such as illegal use of the hands, clipping, or unsportsmanly conduct.
