Bill Fell Lost to Webfoots As California Game Looms

IM Grid Action Close

By CLYDE FAHLMAN
Lack of officials delayed Wednesday's intramural football action, but never-the-less tightly contested games with two exceptions were featured on the card.

Second round winners were Minturn, Theta Chi, Kappa Sigma, Hunter, Campbell Club, Beta Theta Pi, Alpha Tau Omega, and Pi Kappa Alpha.

Minturn opened the afternoon with a decisive 34-0 victory over Sigma Alpha Mu. Ace chucker Joe Tom tossed for all the touchdowns and conversions.

Delts Win

The IM field was the scene of the ATO 26-0 victory over Delta Tau Delta. The 18th-street crew combined ends runs with lengthy aerials for all their markers.

Closest contest of the day was the Hunter-Alpha clash. The Vets Dorm crew out-downed Alpha, 1-0, and per ruling of the intramural office, this was the measure of victory. This rule states that if there is no score in a ball game the victory shall be decided by first downs).

Kappa Sigma outpointed Phi Kappa Psi, 12-2. Chet Noe's pass-catching ability proved to be the margin of victory.

In another tightly contested skirmish, Pi Kappa Alpha defeated the defending champs, Chi Psi, 2-1—another first down victory. An additional loss to the Chi Psi crew was the services of halfback Al Hayden, who suffered a leg injury. An X-ray will be taken today, according to reports from Sacred Heart hospital.

French Forfeits

The scheduled Campbell Club-French Hall went to the clubbers by forfeit.

Theta Chi got back into the winning column with a 12-6 victory over Cherney Hall.

Beta Theta Pi rolled over Delta Upsilon, 19-0, in the intramural finale.

Cal Lauded By McClure At Program

By PHIL JOHNSON

Webfoot Line Coach Bob McClure stated Wednesday night that California has "three of the finest running backs that I've seen in college." He predicted that Coach Pappy Waldorf's star sophomore fullback, John Olszewski, will be "one of the nation's best for three years."

McClure's remarks were included in his excellent scouting report on the California-Santa Clara game and preceded the Oregon-UCLA game movies, which were shown to students in the Student Union ballroom.

Count 'em

McClure praised the Golden Bear ground attack, although he described the quarterbacking as "not good". He mentioned that 52 Bears played in the Santa Clara game. The Cal defensive efforts were sparked by Left Half Carl Van Heuit, who intercepted four out of the five aerials thrown into his territory.

First Movies

McClure was introduced by Athletic Director Leo Harris, who in turn was introduced by Student Union Director Dick Williams. The movies, which were excellent, were the first shown in the SU.

Oregon Coach Jim Aiken furnished an interesting and amusing commentary to the pictures. He praised the running of Left Half Tommy Edwards but appeared unsatisfied with the performances of the Webfoot ends. He stated that Oregon's offensive pass protection was "good" and that the punting was "very good."

Ski Meeting

All skiers interested in trying out for the varsity ski team are asked to attend a meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Student Union. Exact location of the meeting will be posted on the bulletin board in the lobby of the Union.

End of an Era

Charles Defeats Louis

By SAM FIDMAN

The Brown Bomber has been grounded.

We have lived to see the birth and death of an era; the rise and fall of the greatest name professional boxing produced in our times, possibly the greatest of them all.

Ezzard Charles pounded out a unanimous 15 round decision over Joe Louis Wednesday night in a championship bout at Yankee Stadium.

Charles, previously recognized as champion in 47 states, proved his mettle before New York state's doubting Thomases, by pulling out 12-3, 13-2, and 105 verdicts from the officials.

During his professional ring career Louis fought 61 bouts, previous to last night, winning 52 by knockouts, 8 by decision, and losing only 1, that by a knockout.

No more can we turn to the sports section to read about the smashing fists of Joe Louis, who pulverized his way across the athletic heavens of a nation and a planet as a bolt of lightning rips and snorts through black clouds. Joe Louis is not just a man—he is an era.

It is strange indeed to think of boxing and no longer feel the dominant presence of the dynamic machine. History will long honor that sweaty Chicago night in the summer of 1937 when a young, ripping, brown-skinned kid knocked the props out from under the aging Jim Braddock and launched the spectacular flight of the Brown Bomber.

And it will remember, too, that

Speedster Breaks Ankle Bone During Last Scrimmage of Week

Oregon's Webfoots suffered their first casualty of the Wednesday afternoon when left half Bill Fell received a broken ankle bone. The mishap, which occurred at the close of the week's last scrimmage drill, is expected to sideline the fleet player for the remainder of the football season.

Clean Break

Fell received a clean break of the bone and also a chipped bone, according to Dr. G. Guldager, team physician. Guldager added that the injury is likely to interfere with Fell's activities this spring.

Coach Jim Aiken, after seeing X-ray reports from Sacred Heart Hospital, said Fell is expected to leave the hospital in a few days.

Aiken nearly was ready to call a halt to the day's work when let Bill attempted an end run which resulted in the break.

On Defense

The Oregonians spent most of the session attempting to stop the California ground plays. They made an admission of improvement from their coach, although the "Bear" backs also received favorable comment for their effort.

Tommy Edwards looked exceptionally extraordinary in the eyes of Aiken, while Hal Hayden again did an outstanding job in the right half. The performance of these two indicated a strong possibility of a "Pony" back starting against the Bears.

No pads will be used in the workouts scheduled between Friday and Saturday. The squad will finish both its offensive and defensive operations today and finish with light exercises tomorrow.

"We're looking better all the time," was Aiken's comment at the end of the day.

PE Meeting

There will be a PE meeting tonight at 7:00 in Room 101 of the PE building to discuss the schedule at home football games this year. Freshman PE students are urged to attend.

Some of the new summer schedules for women are so sensible they probably won't last long.

Officials Needed

The intramural touch football league still is in dire need of officials. Students wishing to earn money in this manner may call Assistant Intramural Manager Everett Peery at the intramural office.
