Bunion Derby Planned For This Friday Night

Bunions and heart trouble, of the pigging type, will start when the Bunion Derby dances get underway Friday, at 7:15 p.m.

Annually the Associated Women Students sponsor these moving jittney dances, where males from every living organization visit all of the women's dormitories and houses to trip the light fantastic for a short time.

Upon arriving at each women's living organization, each man will drop a nickel into the collection box. The men's dormitory or house that shows the largest attendance to the percentage of its members, will win a prize, as will the woman's living organization that has been visited by the most men. The collections will be turned into the AWS.

Soph Class Has First Girl Prexy

The sophomore class Monday found itself with its first woman president in many years, as the ranks of class presidents were riddled with scholastic ineligibilities.

Helen Jackson, sophomore in liberal arts, steps into the sophomore class presidency replacing Joe Kaiser, ineligible. Willy Dodds, junior in business, takes over the junior class reins replacing Vernon Beard, also declared ineligible. The replacements follow the constitutional requirements that vice-presidents step into the president's shoes.

This leaves the sophomore class with an all-female cabinet, with a woman president, secretary, and treasurer.

ASUO officials were investigating Monday night to determine whether it will be necessary to call for petitions for new vice-presidents in the two classes.

Duties of the class president include supervising the Sophomore Whiskerino fall term and Junior Weekend spring term.

Petitioners Seek Student Union Posts

One-hundred and thirteen petitions have been received by the Student Directorate for the six directorate standing committees, Bill Carey, chairman, reported Monday night.

Letters are being sent to the petitioners informing them of their interview appointments. Interviews began Monday and will continue through Thursday night.

Head chairman for the Bunion Derby is Georgie Oberteuffer. Chairmen assisting her are Sharon Anderson, promotion; Joan Skordahl, publicity; Kay Kuckenbergh, collections; Virginia Kellog, prizes, and co-contacts chairmen, Mary Gillham and Dolores Parrish.

All pledges shall remain in their own dormitories. Campus clothes are in order. The full schedule synchronizing the men's visits will be announced Wednesday.

Solicitors to Get 'Boot'

Three salesmen soliciting for Charm Magazine were requested to leave the campus last Thursday for failing to get University sanction from Ray Hawk, Director of Men's Affairs.

Contrary to earlier reports, they had posted bond at city offices, but were not following the University restriction.

"Students should be particularly careful in their relations with solicitors, and check first to see if they have a letter of authorization," Hawk stated.

He said that if students are contacted by photographer's agents, they should remember that the University Photographic Bureau will take pictures and will charge only for materials and time consumed.

The AP wire summary will be found on page seven of this issue of the Emerald.

Attention Bowlers!

The man and woman with the highest bowling scores each week will be awarded with ten free lines, Louis Bullismo, recreation manager, announced Monday.

There are no strings, qualifications, or entrance fees attached. The only requirement is that the students bowl a game at the Student Union alleys and turn in their score when the game is finished.

Duck Spirit One Topic Of Council

Lashing of the lack of spirit shown at the Oregon-California game sparked a spirited discussion on Oregon traditions leading to the appointment of a special committee at Monday night's Executive Council meeting.

Suggestions for improvement of Oregon spirit included requirement of fresh information booklets; rooters' lids; white shirts at games; and enforcement of class pants regulations.

Discussion centered around the distinction between spirit-promoting traditions and those which would merely provide "busy work" for freshmen and enforcement of officers.

Eve Overback, Dave Rodway, Herb Cook, Don Smith, and Joanne Fitzmaurice were appointed to a committee to look over the situation.

Enrollment Statistics

Comparative enrollment statistics at colleges throughout the nation were presented by Donald M. DuShane, director of student affairs.

Oregon has a comparatively small enrollment drop—around eight per cent—when considered with other schools, he explained. At last report, Oregon State was suffering a 14 per cent drop; UCLA 15 per cent; and Vanport 16 per cent. The average drop seems to be from 10 to 15 per cent as a nationwide trend.

1500 OSC Tickets To be Available For UO Students

Fifteen hundred reserve seat tickets to the Oregon-Oregon State football game Nov. 25 at Multnomah Stadium in Portland will go to Oregon students, Howard Lemons, athletic business manager, said Monday.

Ticket price will be $2.50, as set by PCC.

UO Nights Set For Park

First of a series of Friday evening "campus nights" at Willamette Park is scheduled for this Friday, according to Tom Barry, student manager of the Park.

Barry has leased the Park for Friday nights this year, and, with the aid of a student staff, plans to make each Friday evening a special college party from 9 p. m. to midnight.

"This week students can make the tour of the Bunion Derby and finish the evening with us," he explained.

Curt Finch's orchestra has been secured for Friday nights, and intermission entertainment is being planned, he explained.

Other University students on the Friday night staff are Dick Kading, Edith Kading, and Ken Hodge.

Homecoming Petitions Due Wednesday

Deadline for Homecoming petitions has been extended to 5 p. m. Wednesday in the ASUO office, Student Union, President Barry Mountain announced Monday.

Change In Plan

Under a change in plans, students may petition now for any of the Homecoming committees, rather than merely for the general chairmanship, thus saving time wasted in extra petition calls. Petitioners for the general chairmanship only will be interviewed at a special meeting of the Executive Council, 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Student Union board room.

Committees Open

Committees open are promotion, publicity, alumni welcoming, dance, noise parade, sign contest, finance (including button sales), and general secretary. A traditions chairman whose duties will include handling of the bonfire will be appointed from the Order of "O".

"Nearly every student who petitions will have a chance to work on some phase of Homecoming," Mountain stated. Petitions for subcommittees will be turned over to the Homecoming chairman.

This year's celebration is set for the weekend of Nov. 5.

This is the same number of tickets allotted to Oregon for an Oregon State home game for many years, Lemons pointed out.

"We allow them the same number for our home game," he stated.

The Oregon-OSC game will be played in Multnomah Stadium for the first time this year. The move was made from Bell Field in Corvallis, whose capacity is 22,000, to the Stadium which will now hold 35,000 because of its new bleacher addition.

More Tickets

Possibility of more tickets for Oregon rooters will be discussed.

First crack at tickets for the Oregon-OSC game will go to members of the Order of "O", who will police the field after the game, according to an Executive Council decision Monday night.

Remainder of the 1,500 tickets will be allotted through a drawing, details to be announced later. Those students successful in the drawing will be given first chance to purchase the tickets.

In previous years, Executive Council members have voted themselves a first chance at the tickets. The group decided Monday to take the same chances as the rest of the student body.

with Oregon State officials following the OSC-Washington game Oct. 14 at Multnomah Stadium. Lemons said.

Oregon State will then be able to approximate the number of students who will attend the Nov. 25 game, and may designate more tickets for Oregon students or for general admission.

Lemons indicated that the ticket situation may not be as serious as it seems, due to external factors affecting attendance at the game.

Students Home

Many students will be home for Thanksgiving vacation and will not attend, Lemons pointed out. The price of admission will also slow sales considerably, he stated.

Oregana Announces Picture Schedule

Suit jackets, shirts, and ties are required, according to Pat Mullen, associate editor of living organizations.

The schedule:

Tuesday—Alpha Hall, Delta Upsilon
Wednesday—Alpha Tau Omega, Chi Psi.

Song Queens In Rally Squad

"Oregon will have girl song queens this year, in addition to the previously selected all male yell squad." This announcement Tuesday evening by Jim Fenimore, rally board chairman, ended much speculation concerning the seasons rally personnel.

Fenimore stressed that the purpose in initiating the song squad and in selecting an all male yell group was to stimulate student interest and to obtain enthusiastic student participation in rally activities.

Men Selected

The men were selected for the yell duties because of their greater endurance and the girl's group is slanted toward a more colorful squad. Fenimore also emphasized that there was never any intention of restricting the girls participation but that the decision for an all male yell squad was intended only to provide the students with the best leaders possible for both songs and yells.

The five yell queens will never act simultaneously with the yell leaders but will have separate appearances on the field. The appearance of the girls will be a signal to the rooting section that a song is in order.

Select Song Queens

Yell queens were not present at Portland last weekend only because the board had not yet been able to select them. No petitions will be accepted for the five song positions. However, open interviewing will be held tomorrow afternoon and evening at the SU. A tentative schedule calls for interviews with the board to be held from 3-5 Wednesday afternoon and 6-10 Wednesday evening. A definite announcement of the time and place for these interviews will be made in Wednesday's "Emerald".

The rally board, composed of Fenimore, Jim Crismon, Anita Frost, Ron Symons, and executive council representative, Herb Hill, will meet Tuesday afternoon to select chairmen for the rally subcommittees.

Plans are underway for a rally the last of the week in preparation for the game with Montana Saturday.
