

IM Aerials Continue Despite Bad Weather

By Jim Mendenhall

Kappa Sigma, Delta Upsilon, Campbell Club, Chi Psi, Lambda Chi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Chi scored victories in Wednesday's session of intramural football.

The DU's, Chi Psi, and Sigma Chi escaped the wrath of Jupiter as their opponents failed to appear. The other winners, however, picked themselves off the slippery turf on numerous occasions.

In spite of the presence of the moisture in the air and on the ground, 7 of the 10 touchdowns were scored on passes.

Kappa Sigma encountered little difficulty in downing a stubborn but undermanned Yeomen club, 25-0, in the most lopsided game of the day.

Use Air Lanes

A pass from Al Neish to Les Collier resulted in a gain of 40 yards and 6 points for the Kappa Sigs in the first period. Neish again took to the air and threw to Bassett for the conversion. Dick Couch placed his team in the scoring column during the second quarter by blocking a Yeomen punt and recovering it in the end zone for a touchdown. The final two touchdowns came in the last minutes of the contest, one coming via another aerial from Neish to Couch and the other scored by Martel on an intercepted pass.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon wrested a hard fought victory from Theta Chi by virtue of a second quarter pass from Dennis Sullivan to Dick Alguire. Both teams threatened continually throughout the game but the score remained 7-0.

Razzle Dazzle

A trick play paid off for Nestor

hall in its 7-0 win over Sigma Phi Epsilon. After a scoreless first half, Ken Edwards started off an involved maneuver by passing to Bernstein, who quickly lateraled to Peterson. Peterson finally tossed to Dale Jolly who crossed the goal. Edwards chucked to Jim Jolly for the conversion.

A score in every period resulted in a 20-0 win for Lambda Chi over Gamma hall. A 30 yard toss from Jim Crakes to Jack Smith resulted in the first quarter touchdown. In the second stanza, Ron Hall broke loose and slogged his way 40 yards to paydirt. Hall racked up another tally in the third period by hooking a pass from Razika. Chuck Schwan recovered the elusive pigskin for a safety and the Lambda's final score.

Campbell Club rounded out the list of victories by edging Stan Ray hall, 7-0. A fourth down aerial from Bob Sawyer to Jack Hutchins accounted for the score. Drugas scored the conversion.

French Hall, McChesney, and the Legal Eagles forfeited their contests.

The bathing gals of today doesn't look anything like she did 10 years ago—but that much time would tell on anyone.

Frosh Slate 3 Games At Eugene

By Phil Johnson

Coach Bill Bowerman's University of Oregon Frosh gridiron machine will play three home games during the 1950 season, according to Athletic News Director Art Litchman. The Ducklings will face the Willamette Jayvees for their opener here at Eugene on Saturday, October 14.

Six days later, on Friday, October 20, the Frosh will travel to Corvallis for a traditional battle with the Oregon State Rooks. This should be one of the toughest encounters of the season for Bowerman's Yearlings, since the Baby Beavers are reportedly loaded with material.

No Woe for Moe

When Rook Coach Hal Moe called his opening practice in September, he was greeted by 114 potential gridders, including 18 veterans of the 1950 Shrine game in Portland. Other Rook prospects include Captain Bob Crume of the 1949 Aberdeen, Washington, squad; All-State Halfback Jack Peterson from Billings, Montana; and Dave Perrin, who won All-Cosmopolitan honors in the New York area.

Pups at Eugene

The Frosh battle the Washington Pups here at Eugene on Saturday, November 11. The Pups have always furnished strong opposition to Oregon, and this game should be no exception. Coach Bowerman's gridders will be hoping for revenge for the one-sided 59-13 loss they suffered at the hands of the Washingtonians in 1949.

Oregon will close the season at Eugene with a second game against the OSC Rooks. Negotiations are still being carried out for a possible clash with Humboldt State Junior College on Saturday, November 4. If the game is played, it will be held on Humboldt's home grounds in California.

Passing Attack Good During Rainy Session

By Charles Peterson

Oregon's passing attack showed signs of potency yesterday afternoon as the Ducks ran through a long and rugged scrimmage in preparation for this Saturday's game against Montana on the Hayward Field turf, first game on home soil since Oregon dropped a 20-10 verdict to Oregon State at the close of last season.

Quarterbacks Earl Stelle and Jim Calderwood handled the passing assignments yesterday. On the ground, the work of Bob Carey, formerly used on defense, and Chuck Missfeldt drew special praise from Coach Jim Aiken. Missfeldt had the best average among all Webfoot ball carriers in last week's California game.

Pass Defense

On the defensive side, the Ducks spent considerable time scrimmaging against Montana plays. Pass defense was stressed in an effort to put a halt to the overhead game which has been the Grizzlies' principle weapon in their two opening season victories. Ron Lyman stood out on defense yesterday along with Monte Brethauer, who was named by Aiken as a definite starter at end Saturday.

If the rains of yesterday continue, they will probably hamper the offensive efforts of both elevens, Aiken said last night. Neither the pocket-size Webfoot backs nor the Montana passing attack will be well suited to a muddy gridiron. Yesterday's work with the wet ball, though, will stand the Ducks in good stead if they don't get any breaks from the weatherman.

Top Shape

The squad is back in top shape for Saturday's clash, with only a few minor bumps and bruises received at the hands of the Bears yet to heal. Yesterday's session wound up with a punting session in which Calderwood displayed top form.

Series Shorts

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Manager Eddie Sawyer announced Tuesday that Jim Konstanty, his great relief pitcher, will start the opening game of the world series for the Philadelphia Phillies.

Sawyer's announcement was a real shocker. Konstanty did not start one game during the 1950 season, although he pitched in 74 games, a modern major league record.

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The Philadelphia Phillies and New York Yankees agreed on the use of three replacement players for the world series; lefthanded pitcher Jocko Thompson and outfielder Jack Mayo by the Phillies and utility man Johnny Hopp by the Yankees.

Meet Gus Knickrehm

Gus Likes the Webfoots

By Bill Gurney

In any list of Big Men On The Campus, you have to include Mr. Gus Knickrehm—athlete, sportsman, and just plain good guy.

When you see a man like Gus in a football suit, you wonder what it's like to talk to him. I did, anyway, so I went over to Mac Court and found out.

The first thing I noticed was that 247 pounds includes an awful lot of football player. You can see why his teammates would nickname him "Bear." The boy is really rugged.

Now in the midst of his second varsity season, Gus usually plays either a defensive tackle or guard post for Jim Aiken's hustling ball-club. His play is marked by a cool, steady competence which should prove a helpful influence on the squad's many inexperienced athletes. All in all, Gus is a sound man to have around on a football team.

While opposing halfbacks may shiver at the sight of him, off the field Mr. Knickrehm is a perfect gentleman. His big easy-going grin tells you that here is a guy who really enjoys life.

Like so many other Webfoots, Gus is a native Californian, Long Beach to be exact. He came to Oregon because, and we quote: "Oregon is the only real school on the Pacific Coast."

Gus is a junior this year with a history major and a minor in physical education. It may surprise some of the more cynical readers to learn that a football player has to study just as hard for decent grades as do the rest of us peasants. Gus has around a 2.4 average and is justly proud of it.

Pro Football, Maybe

Come graduation time, Gus hopes to teach history and coach football in high school. Also, he said he'd surely give pro football a whirl if he were given the chance.

I found that Mr. Knickrehm has been around quite a lot in the course of his 25 years. The U.S. Navy had him for 3 years and 11 months, 32 months of which were spent in the South Pacific, and were no doubt rather less enjoyable than the Broadway musical of the same name. For the last three sum-

Students Hear Football Talks

By Fred Taylor

Two hundred and fifty Oregon student football fans, men and coeds alike, watched movies of the Oregon-California game and heard athletic department personnel discuss games past and future Tuesday night.

The meeting was the second in a weekly fall series. Every Tuesday at 6:30 p.m., movies of the preceding game will be shown in a program arranged by the athletic department and sponsored by the Student Union Board.

Hank Panlon, student union board chairman, introduced Howard Lemons, athletic business manager, who discussed ticket problems and financial arrangements of the department.

More Tickets

Lemons reported negotiations are underway with Oregon State College for 1100 extra student football tickets for the Oregon-OSC game in Portland November 25. Lemons said that number had been overlooked by Beaver ticket officials in Multnomah Stadium in their original plans, and he had asked Oregon State to sell these extra tickets to Oregon students.

The business manager said the athletic department must earn $240,000 a year in order to finance its activities. Football is expected to bring in $150,000, basketball $35,000, student fees return $40,000 and $15,000 comes from the Pacific Coast Conference.
