

Noise Parade...

Pairings for the Homecoming noise parade, which were decided at a social chairmen's meeting yesterday afternoon, appear on page seven of today's Emerald.

ASUO Council Adopts Freshman Election Rules October 30 Election Set

Rules and procedure for freshman class elections, to be held during fall term for the first time since the war, were approved by the ASUO Executive Council in its meeting late Monday evening.

Elections will be conducted Oct. 30 under the preferential ballot system stated in the ASUO constitution, with the expectation that it will be a no-party affair since only freshman women are pledges and hence Associated Greek Students-United Students Association lines would be difficult to draw.

Petitions will be called for Oct. 23, with the deadline set Oct. 25. A procedure will be set up to determine what decile a petitioner must have and how many names must appear on his nominating petition. The name of every petitioner meeting these qualifications will appear on the ballot.

Assembly Billed

An assembly will be held Oct. 29 to introduce candidates and afford an opportunity for campaign speeches.

Under the preferential system, all names of eligible petitioners will be placed on one ballot. Voters may mark their choices 1, 2, 3, and so on as long as they have choices.

When the votes are counted the petitioner with the highest number of votes will become president, the second vice-president, the third secretary, and the fourth treasurer, with one exception stipulated by the Council.

System Arranged

If, through this open-to-all system, the top four candidates should all be male, the fourth candidate will be eliminated and the highest woman candidate will become secretary. If the top four candidates are all female, the fourth shall be eliminated and the highest man be named treasurer.

In previous years, the two major campus political parties have generally endorsed one man and one woman each, thus insuring election to some position to all four candidates and guaranteeing representation for both sexes. Exceptions to this principle, such as three women and one man candidates, have also been made, as in the case of this year's sophomore class elections.

Student Court Petitions Asked By Exec Council

Petitions for three new members of the ASUO student court are being called for by the Executive Council, with deadline set at 5 p. m. Monday.

Petitioners will be interviewed by the Council at 8 p. m. Monday in the Student Union board room.

One sophomore, one junior, and one senior will be named to the court. The sophomore and junior will serve for four terms and the senior for three, thus insuring the carryover of two members through next fall term.

Duties of the court include meeting to judge the cases of student parking violators each week and administering the rules and procedure of the court, such as supervising vehicle registration. Copies of court rules were distributed to students when they registered their cars.

IFC Elects New Officer; Rush Plan Discussed

Bill Carey, president of Phi Kappa Psi, was elected vice-president of Inter-Fraternity Council at a dinner meeting of that group held Tuesday night.

A new publicity chairmanship was set up by action of the council to promote better feelings toward all fraternities and to counteract recent anti-fraternity publicity. It was decided that petitions for this position would be accepted by the IFC from men in any of the fraternities before the next IFC meeting.

Plans to make men's rush week easier and more effective were discussed with Joe Richards and Ted Goodwin, IFC graduate advisor, proposing that rushee information cards be inserted in the regular registration procedure.

Graduate Exam Slips Due Soon

All graduate students who intend to take the graduate record exam are to fill out applications at the counseling center by Friday, according to J. S. Carlson, center director.

Yearbook Mix Tonight At Erb Union

Annual open house will be held for old and prospective workers by the 1951 Oregana from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Oregana offices, third floor of the Student Union.

New workers will get their first opportunity of the year to meet with the staff, sign up for jobs, and mix informally. Entertainment will be presented and refreshments served.

Workers will fill out cards stating their preferences for work. Positions are open for typists, copyreaders, copywriters, layout workers, artists, secretaries, index workers, house business representatives, and advertising salesmen. Experience is not necessary.

Applications will be sorted by staff members and workers contacted when they have been assigned to jobs.

Petitions Due For Committees

Petitions have been called for Homecoming bonfire and promotion committees.

Rod Bell, chairman of the bonfire committee, emphasized that any University man is eligible for membership on the committee. Members will handle materials for the fire and organize guards.

Petitions for the bonfire committee must be turned in to Rod Bell, Alpha Tau Omega, or Pat Dignan, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, by 5 p. m. Thursday.

Petitions for the promotion committee are due at 5 p. m. Wednesday. They may be turned in to Kay Kuckenber, Delta Gamma.

TOKYO, Oct. 11 (AP)—Korean Communists have answered General MacArthur's final surrender warning, saying they will fight to the death rather than give up.

Director Sets Policy On Draft Deferment

"How do I get a draft deferment?"

This question has been bothering hundreds of men students at the University. In order to clarify the situation for them, Col. Francis Mason, director of the Oregon state selective service system, has set a policy for all students to follow in securing draft deferments.

First, the student need not do anything about securing deferment until he receives his induction notice. When the notice does come, he should write a letter to his local board, requesting post-ponment of induction until the end of the academic year in June. Then, he should contact Clifford Constance, registrar, who will send another letter to the local board certifying that the student is enrolled full-time—carrying at least 12 hours of class work—at the University.

It was emphasized by Col. Mason that the student should not apply for deferment until he receives his induction notice, in order to avoid any confusion.

For further information, draft-eligible students are urged to contact Ray Hawk, director of men's affairs, in Emerald Hall.

Beaver Ticket Sale Ends at 5

Students will have their last chance today to sign up for the drawing of tickets to the Oregon-Oregon State game Nov. 25 in Portland.

The sign up booth in the main lobby of the Student Union will be open from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Athletic cards must be presented. Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, is in charge.

Names of those eligible to buy tickets will be drawn tonight. Lists of them will be posted in the Library, Co-op, and Student Union Friday or Saturday.

Tickets may be purchased until 5 p. m. next Wednesday at the Athletic Ticket Office, after which time alternates can buy those that are uncalled for. Ticket price is $2.50.

Dance Trio Set By UO Theater For Saturday

First performance of a professional group under the sponsorship of the University Theater will be at 8 p. m. Saturday, when the International Dance Trio performs in the theater.

This presentation is in keeping with the theater policy of bringing special outside-campus productions to students whenever possible. The productions will be offered to season-ticket holders at reduced rates.

One dollar is the admission price for the dance program, if a person is a season ticket holder. For other persons the admission price is $1.25. All seats are reserved, and reservations may be made at the theater box office starting Wednesday.

The International Dance Trio gets its name from the international background of the three dances. Argentine Elena Imaz specializes in Spanish dances, Canadian Iona McKenzie favors classical ballet, and Kansan Wayne Lamb dances in the modern style. The piano accompanist for the group is Michel Bourgeot, a Frenchman brought to America by Miss Imaz to accompany her group.

Bourgeot replaces Oscar Kosches, Polish pianist, who was with the dance trio until recently.

Discussion Set By Women

Mrs. Golda Wickham, Director of Women's Affairs, will speak to the joint committee of the Women's Inter-Dormitory Governing Board and Panhellenic next Monday.

The group met Tuesday night at Carson Hall, discussing problems arising from decisions made last week on pledging and dormitory rules. Mrs. Wickham will speak on those problems facing the group.

Dormitory representatives will meet with sorority pledge trainers Friday to discuss standard procedures regarding freshmen.

Whisker Planners Set Motif

"Nine O'clock Shadow" has been chosen as the theme for this year's Sophomore Whiskerino. The name was decided upon by the committee at large in a meeting held Monday afternoon in the Student Union.

Decorations for the dance will be in keeping with the theme. The committee assigned to this work, headed by Co-Chairmen Gretchen Grefe and Marlee Smith, met last night to discuss preparations for decorating the Student Union ballroom.

The Whiskerino will be the first decorated campus dance to be held in the new SU ballroom.

Betty, Joe Contest Explained

At the same time, Bill DeLand, co-chairman of the Betty Coed—Joe College contest, said that first eliminations of candidates will be held in the Dad's Lounge of the SU tonight at 7:30.

The candidates will be interviewed by a board of judges who will rate the contestants on personality, which will count 50 percent, appearance, which will count 35 percent and campus interest, which will count 15 percent.

Twelve sophomore men and twelve sophomore women will be chosen tonight as semi-finalists for the contest. Final eliminations will be held Friday afternoon in the dining room of the SU. At that time six men and six women will be chosen as finalists. Voting for Joe College and Betty Coed will take place at the Whiskerino, Oct. 21.

Prizes to Be Donated

Prizes for the two winners will be cashmere sweaters donated by Fennell's clothing store and two personal cups which will come from the University Jewelers. In addition, rotating cups will be presented.

The names of candidates from the living organizations must be turned in by noon today to Jackie Wilkes at the Sigma Kappa house or to Bill DeLand at the Phi Kappa Psi house.

Slogan Winner To Get Free Dance Ticket

The right combination of three or four words will win some student a free admission to the Homecoming Dance, Nov. 4, as the winner of the annual slogan contest which begins today.

Suggestions for the Homecoming slogan may be placed in boxes located in the Co-op and Student Union. Deadline for entries will be 5 p. m. Friday. Slogans, to be considered, must have the name and address of the author.

The only requirement for a slogan is that it be adaptable for house signs, posters, floats, and the dance.

Slogans of the past have included, "Return, Recall, Recapture," "Blitz the Beavers," "The New Look at Oregon," and last year's "Oregon—Then, Now, and Tomorrow."
