

Ducklings In Light Drills For Opener

Coach Bill Bowerman's University of Oregon frosh gridders will run through a light workout this afternoon as they await their season's opener with the Willamette University Jayvees, who will battle the Frosh on Hayward Field at 3 p.m. Friday.

The Willamette gridders opened 1950 hostilities Tuesday afternoon at Corvallis, where they took a 45-7 lacing from the Oregon State Rooks.

The Bearcat juniors, who use a Flanker T-formation, appeared to be much better than the score indicated. Although their backs made a number of costly mistakes, their center, guards, and tackles were called outstanding.

The Beaver Babes rolled into touchdown territory within the opening five minutes of the game, scored another six-pointer in the same period, and added three touchdowns during the second quarter. The Rooks led 33-0 at the half.

Willamette narrowly averted a shutout defeat when Jerry Aldrich tossed a third-quarter aerial to Jimmy Noa for 50 yards and a touchdown on a fake punt play.

The Ducklings, whose practice session today will consist of a few running exercises, will field two teams against Willamette tomorrow afternoon. Coach Bowerman plans to start one team for the first quarter and a different squad for the second stanza. Each team will play both offense and defense.

Injuries Plague Skidding USC

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California's football squad worked late Wednesday but a doleful note echoed from Bovard Field with the announcement of the school's injury list.

A spokesman listed six players who won't be able to play against mighty California here Saturday, and two more are doubtful.

The sick sextette were named as ends Bill Jessup, Winston Goller, Al Baldock and Don Stillwell; Guard Nick O'Brovac and Center Mercer Barnes.

Right Halfbacks Pat Duff and Dean Schneider are nursing injuries and may see little or no action against the Bears.

No Fun For Refs

PORTLAND (AP)—Pacific Coast Conference basketball coaches want less whistle-tooting this year.

Meeting here Wednesday with Frank McCormick, conference basketball commissioner, the coaches went over the rule book and suggested interpretations to lessen the number of fouls called.

Minturn, ATO In Finals; Maul Phi Delts, Nestor

By Jack Clement

Mighty Minturn Hall and a rough and tough ATO squad moved into the intramural finals, Wednesday with convincing wins over Phi Delta Theta and Nestor Hall. Both clubs displayed talent and grid know-how in registering their victories.

Minturn put up an almost airtight defense to defeat a scrappy Phi Delt seven 25-6. Jack Jones scored the losers lone tally in the fourth quarter when he took a Nick Schmer pass in the end zone.

This play climaxed a long drive with Schmer hitting Keith Farnham and Bob Taggesell consistently enough to push the score across.

Minturn completely dominated play except for the aforementioned drive. Joe Tom rifled a pass to Roy Muirhead for six points in the first quarter.

After a scoreless second period Tom again tomahawked the Phi Delts with a pass to Ray Coley for a touchdown.

Tom Strikes Again

Fate played its part in this touchdown when the pass from Tom was deflected by a Phi Delt defender into Coley's arms.

Never in better form, "Little Joe" shot an aerial to center Joe Nishimoto for the third score of the afternoon.

The Phi Delts retaliated in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter, but Minturn, not to be denied, came roaring back to register their final score on a pass from Tom to Louis Santos.

This time the extra point try was successful when Tom flipped to Muirhead in the end zone. Minturn started another drive, but the clock choked off their power.

No Nestor Threat

In the other game of the day the ATO's whipped Nestor Hall 15-0. Although the victors were held to a two point margin until late in the third quarter, Nestor was never a threat. Walt McClure racked up the two points for ATO in the first quarter. After threatening time and again the Hilltoppers gathered steam and hit paydirt when Joe Marvin pitched to Torgerson who romped into the end zone.

Again, in the fourth quarter, Marvin fired to Torgerson in the flats for the final tally.

Harry Caldwell took a Marvin aerial for the extra point. Nestor never was able to gain consistently enough to score.

Aiken Polishes Ducks For Tilt; Last Vandal Win Recorded In 1926

Passing Joes Clash

Minturn Hall's football team of destiny will clash Friday afternoon with Alpha Tau Omega for the intramural gridiron championship. Kick-off time has been set for 4 p.m. at the intramural field.

A pair of passing Joes, Marvin of ATO and Tom of Minturn promise plenty of offensive thrills through the air lanes.

Skiers Await First Snowfall

Oregon's new athletic baby, varsity skiing, awaits only the first snow flurries before swinging into action.

A voluntarily scheduled meeting of all men interested in the slats squad was recently held at the Student Union where 21 presumably eligible sizzmen attended.

To Leo Harris, athletic director, and coach of the ski squad, falls the task of peeling the roster down to seven. He said Wednesday that practice will start when snow is available.

Vote of Confidence

ASUO President Barry Mountain received a letter signed by half a dozen members of the squad hopefuls, in which Harris was given a strong vote of confidence. A section of the letter reports:

"Knowing in general who is on campus, we can think of no better man than Leo Harris, our present athletic director, to serve as coach. Contrary to what one may think, the main job of the coach would be administrative details; the technique is largely a matter of practice."

Head Coach Jim Aiken ran his improving Webfoots through a full practice session Wednesday, in preparation for a conference football clash Saturday against the University of Idaho.

The experience-shy Oregon varsity, now sporting a one win, two loss record, will be favorites over Dixie Howell's Vandals, although the game will be the homecoming spectacle at Moscow.

There has been one common foe this season, the Montana State University Grizzlies, who lost to Oregon 21-13, but defeated Idaho 28-27 one week before.

The last Idaho victory over an Oregon team was registered in 1926, when the Vandals pulled out a 6-0 win. In 35 games played, Oregon has triumphed 29 times, there have been four ties, and Idaho has won two.

Last season, a backfield-heavy Webfoot squad, playing on Hayward Field, handed the Vandals their worst defeat in the history of the rivalry which extends as far back as 1901. Oregon won the game by 41-0.

The most points ever scored by the Vandals against an Oregon team came in 1908 when the Ducks hammered out a 27-21 win.

Since the last Idaho triumph, in 1926, the Webfoots have pounded the scoring bell for 371 points, while the Vandals could muster only 57.

Cougars Ironmen

PULLMAN (AP)—Football Coach Forest Evashevski made it quite clear in the Washington State-California game last Saturday that the platoon system isn't for him—not this year anyway.

Six Washington State linemen played almost the full 60 minutes. Two of them did, Sophomore Tackle Elmer Messinger and Guard Gene Reiger.
