Music Honorary Meets Tonight

Mu Phi Epsilon, women's music honorary, meets at 7 p.m. for members and at 7:30 p.m. for pledges Tuesday in the Student Union.

The first meeting will concern business affairs, Ellen Liebe, president, explained. The second part of the meeting will be a program for the pledges.

Women carry their years more lightly than men, says a writer.

Giuseppe Di

"La Boheme," "La Traviata," "Mignon," "L'Elisir d'Amore," "Gianni Schicci," "Falstaff," and "Der Rosenkavalier."

Di Stefano has had an almost Horacio Alger like rise, for he gave his first concert at the Regio Emilia, an Italian opera house (the role of des Grieux in "Mignon") only two years before he made the Metropolitan via Roma and La Scall, Milan, Italy.

Marriage and Career in U. S.

Having found a wife (Maria Girolami, American voice student) and a career in the U. S., Di Stefano says of America, "It is like Caruso. It needs no advertising."

The tenor explains that the Sicilian folk songs he often includes as part of his recitals or as encores, had to be learned after he had gone to Italy to study. He also reports that these exquisite little melodies of Arabic, Norman, and Spanish descent are not in great repute in his own country, because they are so everyday, since they are about weaving, fishing, herding, treading grapes and other daily tasks.

A man caught stealing stamps from a Michigan postoffice should be sentenced to write with a postoffice pen.

China Situation Is Subject of Talk

"The China Situation," will be the theme of Marcus Gih, Chinese foreign student, in an informal talk at the "Foreign Student Lunch Hour," noon Tuesday in the Student Union.

The luncheon is open to everyone. Reservations are requested, and may be secured at the YMCA office on the third floor of the Student Union.

The luncheon is sponsored by the "International Affairs Committee" of the YMCA from which further information may be secured.

Advertising Jobs Open on Magazine

Petitions for advertising solicitors for Old Oregon, alumni magazine, are requested by Sue Bachelder, advertising manager.

Petitions may be turned in by 5 p.m. Wednesday to Miss Bachelder at Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Jobs are open to everyone from freshmen through seniors. Anyone interested in advertising may petition.

More Fame Won By Carey Family

Additional fame has come to the Carey brothers of Phi Kappa Psi.

Their father, Col. Robert R. Carey, was named commander of the Eighth Regiment of the Oregon National Guard. Col. Carey's regimental area will include all of eastern Oregon with units at La Grande, Pendleton, Baker, Union, Ontario and Bend.

Bill Carey, whose brother, Bob, is president of Phi Kappa Psi, and right half on the football team, told the Emerald Sunday their father has been connected with the army and the national guard for 17 years.

Both brothers have known for some time of their father's new position, although the announcement was only made this weekend.

Will they serve under Col. Carey? Bill Carey said they wouldn't.
