Student Talks Open UN Week

Next week, October 23 through 27, has been designated as United Nations Week. In recognition of this, the foreign students on the campus will be available to speak for classes or for programs in the various living organizations.

Those organizations wishing such a program can make arrangement with James D. Kline, foreign student adviser, at Emerald hall.

Information in the form of printed material, posters, and film strips about the United Nations can be obtained from Charles Schleicher, professor of political science, in Oregon Hall.

3 Oregon Grads Take to Airlines

Three former Oregon students are now flying with United Airlines as stewardesses in the company's western division.

The three, Helen Lee Caldwell, Jacqueline Mary Moore, and Lois Irene Emerson, recently completed a five-week's course at United's stewardess school in Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Miss Caldwell and Miss Moore have been assigned to liner flights in and out of San Francisco; Miss Emerson, to Seattle flights.

Both Miss Caldwell and Miss Moore graduated in the class of '50. Miss Caldwell was a member of Pi Beta Phi, while Miss Moore was a member of Alpha Chi Omega and the Panhellenic council. Miss Emerson attended the University in 1945 and 1946.

Football Movies

The Oregon-Idaho game will be the movie subject at 6:30 tonight in the Student Union. Principal speaker will be Howard Lemons, athletic business manager. Bob McClure, assistant football coach will speak on the St. Mary's game at Hayward field Saturday. Lorna Larson, student union board member, will introduce the program.

Homecoming Hostess Finalists To Need Charm, Good Appearance

Charm, personality, and appearance will be the essential points considered in selecting six finalists for Homecoming Hostess, Jeanne Hoffman, selection chairman, announced last night.

Fifteen points will be awarded for charm and personality, fifteen for appearance, and ten each for poise and speaking ability.

Names of candidates will appear in Wednesday's Emerald. Eliminations will take place at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Union. Short silks will be in order.

World Affairs Council to Meet

The first in a monthly series of meetings of the Eugene Council on World Affairs will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Eugene hotel.

Subject of the meeting will be the significance of the Korean situation in the future of the United Nations. Paul Dull, Ivan Nagy, and Charles Schleicher of the University political science department will be speakers. Ray Siegenthaler is chairman of the council.

First of 'Joe, Betty'

"Let's see. I've lived in Forest Grove, Banks, Cascade Locks, Sisters, Bend, Beaverton and Portland," laughed Maggie Powne, when I asked her if she had always lived in Beaverton.

Music is Maggie's major and she plans to be a music teacher when she has completed her course of study.

This summer, she worked for a Justice of the Peace in Beaverton. "You meet the nicest people in that job, especially policemen."

Any of the outdoor sports can be called Maggie's hobbies. However, her hobbies do not stop there. "My hobby is anything to keep me busy and happy."

Maggie is a member of Kwama and also a member of the Student Union Ballroom Committee.

Material Needed

In addition to the myriads of lost and found objects and the articles donated by houses, groups from two living organizations, Phi Delta Theta fraternity and Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, will be auctioned off. These houses will provide entertainment as well as serving dinner to the highest bidders.

Flying speeches will be delivered to living organizations by volunteers to arouse interest in the affair.

Twelve hostess candidates will be selected after the interviews. These twelve will remain for a coffee hour after which six finalists will be selected for the student body to vote upon.

Judges who will select the six finalists are: Mrs. U. M. Babbette, from the Gredvig Beauty Salon; Mr. Louis Bellissimo, Recreation director SU; Mr. Richard Blickenstaff, Manager of Russell's; Mr. Glenn Starlin, Asst. Professor of Speech; and Mrs. Leona Hollis, Advertising Manager of Kaufman's.

Senator to Speak To Public on CVA

State Senator Richard L. Neuberger will speak on "The Columbia Valley Administration" at 7:30 p.m. today in 205 Villard.

Neuberger's address is sponsored by the symposium group of the speech department. H. Cohen and W. A. Dahlberg, professors of speech and symposium advisers, arranged the appearance, which is open to the public.

A graduate of the University, Neuberger has been writing for The Portland Oregonian and Journal as well as several leading magazines. He has written two books, "Integrity—The Life of George W. Norris," and "Our Promised Land."

Neuberger represents Multnomah County in the State Senate.

Amphibian Pledges
