

Candidates Show Many Interests

er, Joe College hopeful, has managed to change his allegiance. "In fact," Fred admits, "I like Oregon better, especially because of the cool weather."

Fred, who is currently sporting a crew cut, has a great interest in cars. When he lived in Fillmore, Calif., Fred owned a hot rod and set his own speed record at 109 miles per hour.

"Now I have to settle for a '39 Ford," he grinned, "but it at least gets around the campus."

The five foot ten inch candidate lists bowling as his favorite pastime. For this reason, the Student Union basement has practically become his second home. Ping-pong is also high on his sports interests.

For the past two summers, Fred has worked on the green chain in a Gold Beach sawmill.

"The work may not be glamorous, but it's made me entirely self-supporting," he said. He also has a part-time job while in school.

A major in business administration, Fred would like to own his own business after graduation. He is now a member of Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's service honorary, and is assistant house manager of Pi Kappa Phi.

BEVERLY KRUEGER

Leading the Oregon cheering section is a job which Betty Coed Finalists Beverly Krueger is looking forward to. Bev was chosen last week as one of the five Oregon song leaders, who will make their first major appearance at the game Saturday.

"We've been practising routines nearly every night," the smiling candidate said. "I've always wanted to do rally work and I'm really having a lot of fun."

Bev, who is five feet four, has short dark hair and sparkling green eyes. Although now planning to major in speech and education, she has another career in mind—becoming an airline stewardess.

"It would be a good chance to travel," she explained, "and this has always been one of my ambitions."

Drama is this candidate's special interest, and in high school in Salem and The Dalles she was in several productions. On the campus she has been a member of Junior Orchesis.

Currently Bev is practising the finer points of the Charleston and Black Bottom.

During vacation Bev worked on the College Board at Meier & Frank in Portland, which she believes is a wonderful summer job.

"However," she admitted, "those clothes are certainly a temptation."

Chapman Bills Series of Shorts

A series of shorts on the arts and dance will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. tonight in 207 Chapman.

The movies are part of the regular Wednesday night series sponsored by the Student Union Board.

The movie group will be "Le Chine Andalov," produced by Salvador Dali, "The Desperate Heart," "The Moors Ravane," Les Housards de la Garde, "5 for 4," "Memling," and "The Mystic Lamb."

The movies deal primarily with art and the dance. "The Mystic Land" is an analysis of the Flemish masterpieces and Van Eyck's "Adoration of the Lamb." "Memling" is an analysis of the painting of Hans Memling, Belgian artist.

"The Desperate Heart," and "The Moors Ravane" are both films about the dance, featuring portraits of outstanding international figures.

A surrealist film by Henri Cerutti, illustrating an old French song sung by Yvette Guilbert is "Les Housards de la Garde."

"5 for 4" is a color cartoon set to boogie-woogie music.

AWS Still Needs Articles for Auction

The annual AWS Auction will get under way Friday at 4 p.m. at the Student Union with Stuart Richardson calling for the bids.

Among the other articles to be sold to the highest bidder will be the services of the sophomore classes from Zeta Tau Alpha and Phi Delta Theta. Sophomores from the two houses will serve dinner for the highest bidding house and provide between-course entertainment.

Betty Boner, collections chairman, announced that the smaller articles will be priced and placed on card tables at the SU at 3 p.m. These will be sold outright. Bidding on larger articles will begin at 4.

Collection chairmen in houses are asked to have their articles ready to be picked up this afternoon, Miss Boner said. Books, pencils, pens, bandanas, girls purses and knick-knacks have already been collected.

Last year houses auctioned off were Kappa Sigma and Delta Gamma.
