Kick-off Breakfast Launches Drive

The Lane County Community Chest drive was officially underway today with a kick-off breakfast held at the Eugene Hotel.

Heading the student division of the appeal is ASUO President Barry Mountain. He appointed as his lieutenants at Monday night's Executive Council meeting Tom King, associate editor of the Emerald, and Barbara Stevenson, president of AWS.

Although the Lane County Community Chest appeal has increased 19 per cent, the University of Oregon's quota will be $4,000, the same as last year's figure.

However, students will be asked to contribute more this year because decreasing enrollments will require larger individual donations if the quota is to be attained.

Comish Chairman

N. H. Comish, professor of business administration, is the chairman of the Universities participation in the drive. He has divided the faculty into three groups, Captains R. T. Ellickson, head of the physics department, Paul E. Kamblly, professor of education, and Col. F. R. Maerdian, head of the military and air science department, are in charge of the faculty divisions.

E. W. Martin, assistant business manager, will captain the administrative department.

All members of the University Community Chest Committee are asked to meet at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Guild Theater, Johnson Hall, to receive their assignments and working materials. A representative of the county-wide appeal will discuss the important phases of this year's drive.

Appeal Through Nov. 8

The appeal, which will be held through Nov. 8, will have a representative in every living organization according to Barry Mountain, who is chairman of the student division.

Mountain said that the benefits of the chest are not as far removed from student life as many might imagine.

"This," he said, "is exemplified by the recent death of Ernest Haycox, prominent Oregon alumnus and key figure in obtaining funds which made the Student Union possible."

Haycox died of cancer. The American Cancer Society is just one of the agencies that is receiving increased appropriations from the chest.

"With this thought in mind we should all give generously," said Mountain.

Ticket Sale To Winners Ends Today

Ticket sales to drawing winners for the Oregon-Oregon State game in Portland, Nov. 25, have been extended until 5 p.m. today to give a last chance to the students whose names were selected in the ticket drawing.

"Reserved seat tickets that are not purchased today by students on the eligibility list will go on sale Thursday and members of the ASUO Executive Council and Rally Board will be given first preference for the remaining tickets," Barry Mountain, ASUO president, reported Monday night.

Sales will continue from 8:30 a.m. to noon, and from 1 to 5 p.m. in the athletic ticket office in McArthur Court. The ticket price is $2.50.

Homecoming Hostess Voting To Start Wednesday at 9 am

Voting for Homecoming Hostess will not be held today as was previously scheduled. Voting will start Wednesday at 9 a.m.

Jeanne Hoffman, hostess selection chairman, announced that this change will enable students to see all the Hostess candidates pictures in the Emerald before voting would begin.

The original voting schedule was set early so that the winner could be announced at a send off rally before the Southern California football game. The rally will be Friday instead of Thursday. By voting a day later time will still be left to count the ballots and announce the winner at this rally.

Probation Women Called to Meeting

All women probationers will meet at 4 p.m. today in the Student Union. Mrs. Golda P. Wickham, director of women's affairs, has asked that scholarship chairmen from women's living organizations be present.

Included in the group who are to meet with Mrs. Wickham are all women who did not make their grades spring term, those whose cumulative GPA is below a 2.00 and all those who have specified or "pegged" grades.

Social Heads to Meet To Discuss Desserts

All social chairmen from campus living organizations are asked to be present and to bring their dessert schedules to the dessert re-scheduling meeting at 4 p.m. today in the Student Union.

This re-scheduling of desserts is in line with the new ASUO policy. Dana Lind, campus social-standards chairman, will be in charge of the meeting.

Opera Star to Sing Tonight in Mac Court

Giuseppe di Stefano, Italian tenor from the Metropolitan Opera, sings at 8 tonight at McArthur Court for the Civic Music Association.

Students are to present student body cards, not athletic cards, for admittance.

The handsome young singer will present two numbers in Italian, "Comme raggio di Sol" by Antonio Caldara, and "Nel Cor Piu Non Mi Sento" by Giovanni Paisiello; "Largo" from George Frederic Handel's opera and "Oh! Soverain," from "Le Cid" by Jules Massenet.

After intermission the opera star will sing three of his native Sicilian songs, "A Barcellunisa," "Cantu a Timuni" and "Abballate"; Anton Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me," Rimsky-Korsakov's "Song of India," from "Sadko"; Sergei Rachmaninoff's "In the Silence of the Night;" and the aria, "Testa Adorato (La Boheme)" by Leoncavallo.

Executive Council Acts On Freshman Elections, Court, Dessert Schedule

Freshman election machinery got a thorough overhaul at the ASUO Executive Council meeting Monday night in the Student Union.

Also receiving council action were the following:

1. Appointment of Student Court members and increasing its membership.
2. A committee to investigate the Inter-Fraternity Council's report of the problems of deferred living.
3. The revised dessert procedure.

In revising the freshman election procedure, the council went on record as approving the use of ballots separating candidates into two groups. Those who wish to run for president or vice-president, and those who wish to run for secretary or treasurer.

This move was taken to prevent the possibility of a person who wished to be secretary from being elected president which could have happened under the former procedure since all candidates were in all effect running for president.

Call Made On Contracts For Oregana

Although the contract deadline is past, several men's living groups, campus clubs and honoraries have not turned in contracts for Oregana space.

Bob Schooling, Oregana business manager, stated Monday that these groups would have to turn in contracts immediately if they wish space in the 1950 book.

Space which has been allotted for groups which had pages or half-pages last year will be sold to new organizations desiring space unless contracts are returned, Schooling explained.

Reason for the early contract deadline is that work on this section begins immediately, he said.

The preferential ballot still will be used. Candidates will be asked to state their preference for office at the freshman nominating assembly Sunday.

The council approved the use of "flying speeches" until Friday by freshman candidates in order that they may be better introduced to the freshman class. Candidates must schedule their speeches with individual house mothers before they speak.

Also decided was that there would be no restrictions on the signing of freshman petitions. Duplicated signatures will not be declared void as previously announced.

Appointed to the Student Court were Henry F. Adams, junior in business, Patrick D. Dignan, sophomore in pre-law, and Eugene A. Lehman, senior in business.

Although the council went on record as approving the expansion of the court to five persons, it postponed the appointment of two members until absent petitioners could be heard. It was the opinion of the

'Freedom Bell' To Peel Today On UN Birthday

Today is United Nations Day and the fifth anniversary of the United Nations.

In addition to the elaborate ceremonies at U. N. headquarters, Tuesday will climax the Crusade for Freedom with the dedication and ringing of the "World Freedom Bell" in the city hall of West Berlin.

Tones of the bell will be broadcast over all of the major radio networks pealing for "peace throughout the world through the United Nations."

The bell, which is a replica of the American Liberty Bell, will be dedicated by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former United States military governor of Germany and chairman of the crusade committee.

Bells throughout the world will ring simultaneously with the "Freedom Bell" for five minutes. At 9:30 a.m. the University of Oregon victory bell will be rung in front of Phi Delta Theta.

Following this event, the many scrolls bearing the signatures of millions of freedom loving people will be enshrined in West Berlin.
