

Duck Linebacker

DICK PATRICK, Oregon linebacker, played this position 276 minutes last season, and it looks as though he'll be out there just as much if not more during the present season. A versatile player, Patrick was expected to move into the center slot at the beginning of the year, but changes in the line have moved him back to his old spot.

Patrick is one of the better linemen on the squad due to his endless amount of drive and his love for good body contact with the ball carrier. He is a junior in Liberal Arts, and hails from Vale.

The center position shouldn't be too much worry, at least from the height end. Phil Barter of Vancouver, B. C. is 6-9, and James Bell of San Jose, Calif. is 7-0.

Monday IM Tilts Show Unusual Play

by Bob Pierce

Monday's intramural games started off fairly slow, but before the afternoon was over there were some unusual wins. Those coming out on top were, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Sigma Kappa. Forfeits were in order as Merrick and Cherney forfeited to Phi Kappa and Alpha Tau's.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fell to Sigma Alpha Epsilon in two fast games. The SAE's showed wonderful teamwork by using a man to set the ball up for the other members of the team. It worked like a charm, and scores were 15-1 and 15-1.

One of the saddest games of the day was when the Kappa Sigma's dropped Phi Kappa Sigma. The first game was a thriller all the way with the Kappa Sigs finally taking the game 15-13. But the second game did not go the way of the first, and the Kappa Sigma's skunked Phi Kaps to the tune of 15-0.

Beta Theta Pi managed to beat Sigma Alpha Mu five points the first game and then turned the trick again in the second game by a score of 15-3.

The first game between Phi Sigma Kappa and Stan Ray Hall was a little onesided, 15-1 in favor of Phi Sigma Kappa. The second game seemed to be a repetition of the first game until the score became 14-1, then the Stan Ray boys seemed to take a hand and took five straight points but that was all. The final score was 15-6.

New Combo In Backfield For Reserves

Coach Jim Aiken experimented with a new backfield combination when his University of Oregon varsity reserves scrimmaged with the Oregon Frosh Monday afternoon.

Sherrill Tosses

Ed Sherrill started at quarterback for the varsity and displayed an outstanding ability to throw forward passes. The varsity running attack was led by Fullback Eobo Moore, who broke loose for several long gains and scored the only touchdown of the scrimmage by galloping 40 yards on an off-tackle play. Earl Stelle, who started at halfback, also had a chance to carry the ball.

Line Lineup

The varsity line consisted of Ends Wayne Johnson and Dick Salter, Tackles Len Diederichs and Jerry Shaw, Guards Gene Edwards and Del Clemens, and Center Chuck Laird.

Frosh Standouts

Fullback Howard Hostetler, Guard Back Allman, and Center Dave Lowe were outstanding for the Frosh. Duckling Halfback Jack Morris was the top punter on the field.
