Meet Ron Lyman

Sweeps Ends and SU

By Bill Gurney

A young man with a fine football future is Ron Lyman, big varsity halfback. Ron cracked the starting lineup against St. Mary's and justified Coach Jim Aiken's faith in him by ripping off many long gains.

A big strong guy at 6 feet, 2 inches, and 190 pounds, Ron is the traditional type of ballplayer who runs with knees high and with driving determination. He is only a sophomore and has this to say of his big jump from last year's Frosh club to the Oregon varsity:

"It's more fun up here, competition is tougher and there's a whole lot more to learn."

Nevada Product

Ron's home is Carson City, Nevada, where he was All-State selection in high school football and basketball. The fact that Aiken came to Eugene from the University of Nevada was a big factor in Ron's choice of the University of Oregon. The Alpha Tau Omega fraternity is his home on the campus. He is a liberal arts major, and as yet has no definite future plans. "I may be a bum," he said with a grin.

He shows no signs of laziness here at college. Besides football and classes, he has a part-time job in the Student Union. He pushes an electric sweeper around with great vigor.

The Stinker!

"It's not so bad," said he, "I can always sneak away and hide when the janitor's not looking."

Ron does like to take off and go fishing when he's home. He goes after the whoppers in famous Lake Tahoe, and says he has hauled in several trout weighing over five pounds.

In conclusion, here is Ron's comment on the coming USC game:

"If we have spirit like we had in the St. Mary's game, we've got a good chance to win. Some people don't think so, but it really helps the ballclub as a whole when the student body is behind them all the way."

Order of 'O'

Order of the "O" will meet at noon today at the Phi Gamma Delta house. President Don Peterson urges all members to attend.

Robbins Dies

PORTLAND (P)—Orlie Robbins, former Oregon State football player and coach at McMinnville high school until his health failed, died in a hospital here Tuesday.

Robbins, 47, became ill Sept. 15 with a stomach ailment. He had coached at McMinnville the past six years and previously for nine years at Amity and three at Vernonia.

A Win Coming?

CORVALLIS (P)—Still seeking their first football victory of the season, Oregon State College grid-ders opened practice on a crisp, dry field this week in anticipation of this Saturday's invasion by Montana.

Cross-Country Starts Today With 7 Teams

Inter-organizational cross country competition will be renewed here this afternoon as teams representing seven campus men's houses go into action in two races. Two races are scheduled tomorrow and on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

All-school championships will be run off Nov. 9. Campbell Club is the defending team champion, while Jack Hutchins of Beta Theta Pi will be out to retain his individual crown. The Halph Hill trophy, named in honor of Oregon's great distance runner of the late '20s, is awarded annually to the winning team.

Track Coach Bill Bowerman described the competition as a means of keeping distance men in shape throughout the year, and also in locating promising track men who might otherwise not be recognized.

Thirteen organizations will be represented, with between 50 and 60 men competing. The 1 1/4 mile course has been laid out inside the athletic fields. This week's schedule is as follows:

Oct. 25 4:30—Campbell Club, Delta Upsilon, Hunter Hall; 4:45—Delta Tau Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Merrick Hall, Minturn Hall.

Oct. 26—Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon; 4:45—Yeomen, Beta Theta Pi, Mundle Mudders.

Odell Benches Husky Pair

SEATTLE (P)—Coach Howie Odell has benched two members of the Washington football varsity squad, one for keeps and the other for the coming game with Stanford.

The coach disclosed Tuesday that Anse McCullough, first string defensive quarterback, is through playing because of an apparent illness.

Fritz Apking, starting offensive right end and one of the West's leading pass catcher's, was benched as a disciplinary measure. Odell refused to discuss the Apking case further but campus reports said the lanky wingman disobeyed training orders on the Illinois trip last week.

Rebec, KKGs Judson Win In Volleyball

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

Carson vs. Highland
AOPI vs. Rebec

By Carlyn Huntington

WAA volleyball teams are now ready to begin championship play-offs as six teams took to the court Tuesday at Gerlinger. The play-offs will be on a double-elimination basis.

Rebec House won over Susan Campbell in a close contest, 41-31. Susie led Rebec House at half time 19-18. Barbara Stains scored 16 points for the Rebec team, while Gloria Powers topped scoring list for Susie with 9 points.

Ann Judson came from behind a 12-19 halftime score to beat the Alpha Delta Pi team, 36-29. Sue Sauter led Ann Judson with 11 points; Jo Hager led Alpha Delta Pi with 6 points.

Kappa Kappa Gamma took an early lead in their game with Delta Gamma and kept it till the final whistle. They led 20-14 at half time, and won, 47-30. Barbara Alderman was high for the Kappas with 11 points; Nelson for the DG's with 13.

IM Members OK Boxing, Bowling, Track Additions

By Jim Mendenhall

Boxing, bowling and track will be added to the men's intramural sports program if the recommendations passed by a group of intramural representatives Tuesday are approved by the School of Health and Physical Education.

The twenty house representatives also recommended that the intramural basketball champions of Oregon and Oregon State College meet in a preliminary game to the Oregon-O.S.C. varsity basketball tussle March 3. This game will be played only if the two teams involved agree to the recommendation.

For and Against

Several points were presented both for and against the inclusion of boxing in the school program. Dean Ralph Leighton did not favor the adoption of boxing mainly because of the injuries often incurred by participant member, stated that new collegiate boxing rules require participating athletes to wear protective equipment. Herb Nill, ASUO vice-president, said an extensive investigation had been made on the subject

Kappa Sigs, Minturn Win In 'A' Volleyball

Kappa Sigma and Minturn scored "A" volleyball victories and Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Chi Psi and Minturn emerged victorious in "B" encounters yesterday.

Both Minturn's "A" and "B" squads served their way to one-sided triumphs; the A's won 15-0, 15-0, over a three-man team from French hall and the B's downed Sigma Phi Epsilon, 15-0 and 15-3.

Chi Psi Pressed

Chi Psi was the only team really pressed in Tuesday's action. After winning the first contest from Delta Upsilon, 15-2, the Chi Psis went under, 15-7, in the second set. The DU fire went out in the final start however, and the Chi Psis won handily, 15-5.

Kappa Sigs Sweep

Kappa Sigma swept two sets from Lambda Chi in an "A" contest by close but substantial margins, 15-10 and 15-12.

Phi Gamma Delta clubbed Nestor hall, 15-6 and 15-3, in another lopsided game. French's "B" team forfeited to Phi Delta Theta in the only other scheduled contest.
