NUMBER 26

Annual Traditions To Begin Monday

Homecoming traditions will go into effect Monday, Tom Wrightson, traditions chairman, announced Wednesday.

Traditions will be enforced by Order of the "O" men who will sport emblems during Homecoming week.

Penalties for violation of traditions will consist of hacks for the men and dunking for women. Violators whose names are placed in the Emerald will appear at noon for their penalties. Hacks will be given in front of Johnson Hall and dunking will be in the pool next to Fenton Hall.

For men who do not appear double penalties will be given. Women will be sought out at their respective living organizations.

The following traditions will go into effect for all University students Monday: No smoking on the old campus; do not walk on seal in front of Student Union; do not walk on campus lawns; do not fail to say "hello" on "Hello Walk", the walk stretching from Fenton to Villard; only seniors may sit on the senior bench, located between Susan Campbell Hall and Hendricks Hall.

Class traditions will also be in order this year, Wrightson stated. Frosh men will wear khaki pants and Oregon rooster lids. Frosh girls are required to wear green ribbons. Sophomore men will be subject to penalties if caught wearing cords. Khakis and Levi's are in order.

There will be no excuse for ignorance of traditions, Wrightson stated. The Emerald will re-print a list for the benefit of students both Friday and Monday.

Thomas Speaks At Press Meet In SU Today

The second in a series of "Meet the Press" interviews, sponsored by the journalism school, will be held at 4 p.m. today in the Student Union with Bob Thomas, KEX news editor answering questions.

Both journalism and non-journalism students may attend.

The increasing important of radio news is shown by a survey recently conducted by C. E. Hooper for NBC to study the effect of the Korean war on listening.

Results show listening is up 64 per cent for early evening news programs over a year ago. All radio listening was up 24 per cent.

Thomas is director of news and special events at KEX. He has been with the station since 1941.

He will speak briefly on "Inside Radio News" after which he will answer questions by students.

Voting for Hostess To Conclude Today

Today is the last day for voting for Homecoming Hostess.

The Co-op voting booths will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. today.

The six candidates for the Homecoming hostess are Jessie Bennett, Lee De Jarnette, Helen Jackson, Joyce Sommerlade, Martha Stapleton, and Carol Udy.

Friday Deadline For Rescheduling

Friday is D-day—dessert day, that is.

Social chairmen of men's living organizations are reminded by Dana Lind, campus social chairman, to turn in their first six choices for the dessert reschedule to Mrs. Margaret Kopp in the Office of Women's Affairs by Friday.

Social chairmen of women's living organizations should submit lists of available dates to Mrs. Kopp by Friday.

With this step completed, the reschedule will be complete except for the announcement of what houses will exchange and when.

Frosh Assembly Slated Sunday

Elections for freshman class officers will be held Monday. An assembly to introduce candidates for the offices will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Student Union Ballroom.

Filing deadline for petitioners for the offices was 5 p.m. Wednesday. Candidates will be named in Friday's Emerald.

Under a new plan adopted by the Executive Council, this term's candidates will express their preference for office, and will be voted on according to that preference. Under the original system, all candidates were voted on for number one position with the offices going to the highest four candidates.

Electioneering for candidates is restricted to handbills placed on dormitory bulletin boards and off-campus publicity.

This year an open petitioning method was utilized for frosh nominations, with any freshman with a 5 psych decile who could enlist 50 petition signers eligible to run.

In previous years, campus political parties have each endorsed two candidates for class offices.

Pairings Released For Friday's Rally

Pairings for Friday's car rally were selected Wednesday, Jim Fenimore, rally board chairman, announced.

In accordance with a new plan, the board tried to have the hill-top houses paired with those further down on the campus and the millrace houses paired with those on the hilltop.

High Schoolers To Arrive Friday For Conference

Students from every part of the state will begin arriving on campus Friday and Saturday for the 24th annual Oregon High School Press Conference.

Welcoming them will be the faculty of the School of Journalism, members of Sigma Delta Chi, and Theta Sigma Phi, journalism honoraries, and freshmen students who won journalism awards in high school.

The one-day conference opens at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Student Union with formal greetings from Marge Scandling, president of Theta Sigma Phi, and Tom King, president of Sigma Delta Chi. Dean Gordon A. Sabine of the School of Journalism will welcome the state-wide gathering as director of the Oregon Scholastic Press, sponsors of the event.

To guide the high school journalists about campus, seven freshmen—winners of the Eric W. Allen or George S. Turnbull awards—will visit their hometown delegations and arrange for campus tours. These same students, who will be recognized for journalism achievement at the Saturday luncheon, are as follows:

Kathleen Fraser, Virginia Dailley, Judy McLoughlin, Albert Karr, Marilyn Patterson, Margie Elliott, and Pat Tindall.

WAA Co-rec Night Slated for Friday

Co-rec night, the all-campus sports night, will be 7:30-10:30 p.m., Friday in Gerlinger, Bonnie Gienger, WAA president, announced.

Badminton, volleyball, swimming and square dancing will be some of the many sports available.

This is the second of three Co-rec nights sponsored this term by the Women's Athletic Association. It is a no-date affair.

UO-OSC Tickets On Sale Today

Remaining tickets for the Oregon-Oregon State football game in Portland Nov. 25 will go on sale, first come first served, at 10 a.m. this morning.

About 160 tickets will be up for general distribution, according to Barry Mountain, ASUO president.

Members of the executive council and the rally board who have not yet procured tickets for the OSC game are requested to turn in their names to Howard Lemons, athletic business manager, before 10 this morning.

The 1950 Homecoming Hostess will be introduced for the first time at the rally by Tom Barry, Homecoming co-chairman.

The rally will begin about 3:30 p.m. All women in living organizations should be ready for the cars to come around to pick them up. The rally, headed by a sound truck, will wind through the campus and then out to the airport to see the team off.

Following is the list of pairings of living organizations for Friday's rally:

Alpha Chi Omega, Sigma Hall, Beta Theta Pi; Alpha Delta Pi, Phi Kappa Psi, Sederstrom; Alpha Gamma Delta, Delta Upsilon; Alpha Omicron Pi, Phi Gamma Delta; Alpha Phi, Delta Tau Delta, Zeta Hall; Alpha Xi Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Stitzer Hall; Ann Judson House, Pi Kappa Phi.

Carson 2, Phi Kappa Sigma; Carson 3, Sherry Ross; Carson 4, Minturn Hall; Carson 5, Kappa Sigma; Delta Delta Delta, Pi Kappa Alpha; Chi Omega, Chi Psi, Yeomen; Delta Gamma, Alpha Tau Omega, Omega Hall; Delta Zeta, Phi Sigma Kappa.

Gamma Phi Beta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Orides; Hendricks Hall, Phi Delta Theta, Nestor; Highland House, Hunter Hall; Kappa Alpha Theta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Merrick Hall; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Sigma Alpha Mu, McChesney Hall.

Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Chi; Rebec House, Cherney Hall; Sigma Kappa, Sigma Nu, French Hall; Susan Campbell, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Gamma Hall; University House, Campbell Club; Zeta Tau Alpha, Theta Chi, Alpha Hall.

Community Chest Collections Start

Now that the hierarchy is complete, the Community Chest Appeal is well underway. Collections will start today.

Georgie Oberteuffer, junior in liberal arts, was appointed by Tom King Wednesday to arrange for representatives in living organizations. King is assisting general student chairman Barry Mountain.

"Booths may be set up in the Co-op and the Student Union to accept contributions from any persons who are not personally contacted," King said.

"Everyone should keep in mind the many worthy organizations that receive aid from the chest. The YMCA and the YWCA, which are well represented on the campus, are only two that directly benefit the students. Others in that category are the revived U. S. O. or Associated Services for the Armed Forces and the American Cancer Society," he explained.

Joyce Sommerlade Plays Lead Role Of Billie in UO Theater Production

By Don Smith

Anybody got a negligee that "does all the right things?"

Joyce Sommerlade, who will play the lead role of Billie Dawn in "Born Yesterday" when it opens Friday night at the University Theater, needs a negligee that fits the character she plays.

Last year the pretty Delta Gamma portrayed Kate Kenion in "The Girl I Left Behind Me," an innocent girl who is just the opposite of Billie of "Born Yesterday."

Billie, in the vernacular of the streets, is a "broad."

"It's the kind of role every hopeful actress wants to play," Miss Sommerlade remarked, "but after you get the role, you don't know just exactly how to play it."

Does Fine Job

While Miss Sommerlade may be worried about her performance, those who have been watching rehearsals point out that she's doing pretty fine as the dumb blonde who turns out to be not so dumb.

"Everyone knows Joyce as a

lovely, sweet girl," one of the other cast members remarked, "and in this play she plays Billie, who is just about the exact opposite of Joyce." Billie is hard, practical, and worldly.

The part appeals to Miss Sommerlade because it is "colorful, fast, and full of wonderful lines." Really, there's not much you can compare Billie to—she's just Billie.

An ex-chorus girl with two mink coats, Billie has five costume changes during the three-act comedy.

Wears Many Clothes

"As Billie, I wear a dressy dress, lounging pajamas, the negligee, and two suits," Miss Sommerlade explained, "and I'm having difficulty getting costumes that will do."

The attractive sophomore has been interested in dramatics for some years, and was active in her high school drama group. "Born Yesterday" is her second stage production at Oregon—and her second leading role.

But it's the theater that interests her—and she's not only been on stage but has helped out in the box office and coat check room when she wasn't appearing in a production.
