

24 'Sweetheart' Contestants Set For 3rd Dessert

Twenty-four contestants for the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi will attend their third dessert tonight at 6:30.

According to Social Chairman Michael Moran, 12 candidates from this list of 24 will be selected to attend a fireside on Nov. 10.

The contestants are Shirley Van Derford, Alpha Chi Omega; Elizabeth Johnson, Pi Beta Phi; Mary Fowler, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Barbara Keelen, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Gwen Fry, Gamma Phi Beta; Lyn Hartley, Delta Gamma; Kristin Sickler, Delta Delta Delta; Gayle Pattee, Chi Omega; Rosemary Barton, Alpha Gamma Delta; Barbara Callender, Alpha Delta Pi; Dorothy Anderle, Carson.

Audrey Campbell, Carson Hall; Nita Noll, Susan Campbell Hall; Joyce Winn, Zeta Tau Alpha; Colleen Bruce, Sigma Kappa; Lillian Hunter, Alpha Omicron Pi.

Donna Seagren, Delta Zeta; Norma Jean Anderson, Hendricks Hall; Shirley Boner, Alpha Phi; Hazel Erikson, University House; Mary Bennette, Rebec House; Shirley Olson, Orides; Peggy Dahman, Highland House; and Mary Ann Moore, Alpha Xi Delta.

KOAC Offers 'Campus Recital'

The KOAC radio program, "Campus Recital," from 8:15 to 8:45 p.m. Monday night presented Dorothy Pederson, pianist, and Leona Anderson, lyric soprano.

Miss Pederson played Beethoven's "Sonata in G Major," with its various movements, presto, alla tedesca, andante, and vivace.

Miss Anderson, accompanied by Georgene Shanklin, gave Mozart's "Deh vieni, x non tardar" (Le Nozze di Figaro), Schubert's "An die Musik," Schumann's "Intermezzo" and E. Wolf-Ferrari's Etanto ce perical ch'io ti lasci."

Last week Anne Hopper, pianist, and Rose Zena Latta, soprano, performed on this weekly program, which features local talent.

Faculty Quartet Presents Show

The faculty string quartet will present a program at 6:15 p.m. today over KOAC from the University studios.

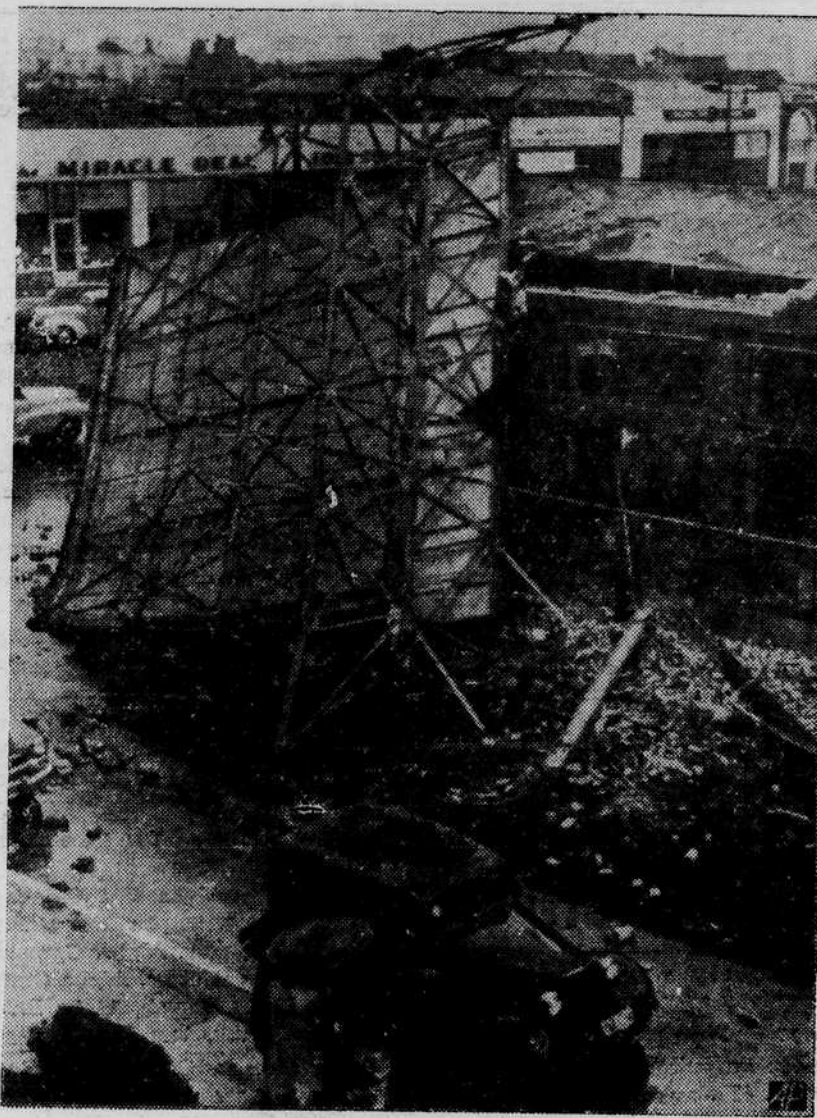

"Quartet No. 2" by Ernest Bloch will be the featured selection. Bloch is an Oregon composer from Agate Beach. Excerpts from the "Quartet" by Wolfgang Mozart will also be included.

Members of the quartet are George Boughton, asst. prof. of violin, director, Edmund Cykler, assoc. prof. of musicology, Milton Dieterich, asst. professor of cello, and Mary Kapp Allton, faculty wife, who play violin, viola, violoncello, and violin, respectively.

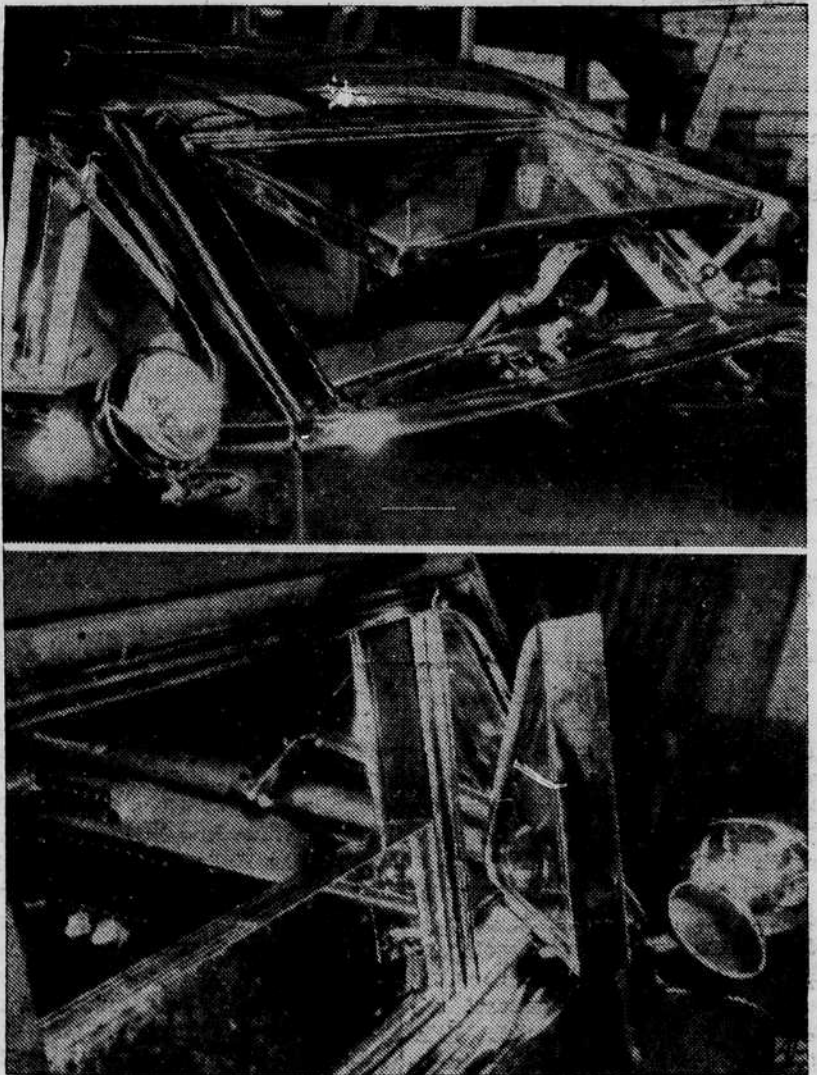

The first performance of the group was 4 p.m. Sunday in the School of Music Auditorium, when the same program was featured. The next performance at the Music School is scheduled for Nov. 26.

Civic A Cappella Holds Open Tryouts

The Civic A Cappella Choir is holding open tryouts in all sections for anyone interested. Rehearsals are in the Eugene High School Band room at 7:30 p.m. every Tuesday.

A GUST OF WIND, whipping with hurricane force, lifted this sign off a building in Oakland, Calif., dropping it into the street, when heavy rain and winds hit the Pacific Coast states. Automobiles were damaged by flying bricks. No one was injured. (AP)

BULLETS WON'T PIERSE this $16,500 special-built Cadillac Mickey Cohen ordered and then found he couldn't use. It's against the law in California. The windshield (top) is two inches thick and can be opened. Side windows (bottom) are also guaranteed to stop any missiles up to a bazooka. Cohen has the car up for sale in Los Angeles. (AP)

Barry Introduces Hostess to Frosh

Homecoming Hostess, Lee De Jarnette, and last year's Hostess, Mrs. Ray Heidenrich, formerly Marguerite Johns, were introduced at a freshman meeting Sunday night by Homecoming chairman Tom Barry.

The purpose of the introduction was two fold, Barry stated. Not only were the Hostesses introduced but the importance of freshmen in the annual Homecoming was pointed out. Barry discussed the importance of the bonfire to school spirit and how, when lighted by opponents, it creates a moral victory for them.

Barry also stated "if any W. S. C. men are caught trying to light the fire, freshmen have my special permission to paint their heads green."

The importance of traditions was also pointed out to freshmen at the meeting. The significance of scrubbing the seal and painting the "O", and how they have become tradition for freshmen, was discussed by Barry.

OSC Invites UO To Annual Rodeo

The agricultural branch at Corvallis invites the University to enter its annual rooin' tootin' inter-collegiate rodeo at Salem Saturday. It is doubted that the attendance of little ol' rodeos at Cheyenne, Pendleton and Madison Square Garden will suffer from this.

At any rate, the Beavers plan to go through with the horsey event, naming Marlene Lieuallen, Beaver from Pendleton, queen. Her court will include Carolyn Sparks, Milton-Freewater; Faye Cutsforth, Lexington; Jean Lazinka, Pendleton; and Joan Winterbotham, Palo Alto, Calif.

Cast Released For Road Show

Cast of "The Milky Way", University Theater traveling show, was announced Tuesday by Gordon Ericksen, graduate student in speech and director of the play.

In the three-act comedy will be Dave Swanson, Alvin Reiss, Gordon Howard, Elmarie Wendel, Bliss Stanley, Bunny Philbrick, and Don Nation.

"The Milky Way" was transferred from the stage to the technical screen production "The Kid From Brooklyn," starring Danny Kaye. It is the comedy of a meek milk truck driver who accidentally knocks-out the world's middle-weight boxing champion.

The show will not be presented as a regular University Theater play, but will probably be given in special performance open to theater patrons. It will play later in the year to groups throughout the state.

Lecture, Slides Slated Tonight

A lecture and slides on "Geography of our National Parks" will be presented at 7:30 tonight in the Browsing Room.

J. C. Stovall, assistant professor of geology, will give the lecture and explain the slides. Discussion leader for the evening will be Dr. H. G. Barnett, professor of anthropology.

The slides were taken last summer by Stoval and his wife during a trip over various parts of the west.

The program is intended to promote the knowledge of the western region of the United States and to picture U. S. parks and scenic areas.

This is the fourth in the series of lectures held each Wednesday in the library Browsing Room.

KASH to Interview DeJarnette, Barry

Lee De Jarnette, Homecoming Hostess, and Tom Barry, Homecoming chairman, will be interviewed between 10:30 and 11 p.m. Thursday, on the "Mimi and Bob" radio program over station KASH.

Rusty Holcomb, radio promotion chairman, announces that there will also be a skit on the half hour program. Ruth Finney is in charge of the skit.

A large percentage of girls graduates will find husbands, says a professor. Why not try for a single man.

United Atlantic Mulled by IRC

A United Western Europe would be the solution to the problem of arming the Atlantic communities, members of the International Relations Club agreed at their meeting Thursday.

However, they believe that France would object to a German army in Germany.

Major M. F. Gibbons, professor of political science, reported on military strength throughout the world, emphasizing the situation in Korea.

Members of the club interested in being a delegate to the IRC Regional Conference at the College of Puget Sound in Tacoma, Wash. Nov. 17-18 were asked to contact President Claire Cordier.

Delegates will probably be announced at the next meeting, Nov. 9, Miss Cordier said.

The IRC current affairs committee will meet Tuesday in Oregon Hall, with each committee member reporting on a certain area of the world. A general report, based on these talks, will be presented at the following IRC meeting, Tolbert McCarroll, chairman, stated.

Russian Club To Show Movie

The Russian version of America's "Oklahoma" comes to the campus Thursday.

The movie, "They Met In Moscow," has been dubbed the Russian Oklahoma because of its folk tunes and comical drama.

The picture was released in 1946. Though acclaimed from an artistic viewpoint as one of the best Russian movies made, nevertheless it is saturated with Russian propaganda. It stars Marina Ladynina and Nikola Kruichkov and was directed by Ivan Pirev.

Sponsored by the Russian club, the 86-minute movie will be shown twice. The first run will be at the P. E. building in the afternoon. Thursday evening the movie will be shown in Chapman Hall. An additional run will be made Thursday evening if necessary.

Permission will be granted to freshmen women who wish to attend.

Teacher to See Training Film

"Building the Flat Frame," a training film taken of the University scene design class, will be featured during a high school teachers workshop at 12:15 p.m. Thursday in the experimental theatre, Villard.

With an audience of art teachers, reactions to the sneak preview will determine whether or not the film will be photographed in color and distributed to surrounding high schools, commented W. E. Schlosser, instructor of the scene design class.

"An accompanying demonstration on covering materials for flats, use of paints, and substitutes for stage hardware will be conducted by students. We believe this will prove valuable in solving problems for the teacher," Schlosser added.

University students interested in seeing this demonstration are invited by instructor Schlosser.

A government bureau often turns out to be a group of people organized to keep the taxpayers worried.