

Red China Debate Resumes Thursday

Compiled by Merle Mass
From the wires of Associated Press

The United Nations Security Council will resume debate Thursday on the problem of Chinese Communist-troops in Korea. The meeting will begin at 3 p.m. EST (12 noon PST) and was called by Council President Ales Bebler of Yugoslavia.

Meanwhile, the nine-man Chinese Communist delegation left China by plane Monday for Lake Success, according to Peiping radio. The delegation is headed by Wu Hsie-chuen, who will be Peiping's representative if China is admitted to the United Nations.

The broadcast mentioned that the delegation was making the trip to attend debates on China's charges of U. S. "aggression" against Formosa. Nothing was said about the U. S. charge that Red China has intervened in North Korea.

The Most Northerly . . .

. . . G. I.'s in Korea are in a region where low temperatures average 11 degrees above zero this month and five below zero during December. The information comes from a military temperature chart and it appears to be fairly accurate.

Reports from the front indicate that both sides are spending most of their time trying to keep warm. However, the U. S. Seventh Marine regiment captured Hagaru, on the southern tip of Changjin Reservoir. No opposition was reported.

All reports indicate the Chinese Communists are well prepared for the low temperatures, but U. S. troops are only now receiving arctic clothing.

"Red Star" . . .

. . . the Russian army newspaper has reported that the Chinese army is nearing the Tibetan capital of Lhasa. They also reported that "Tibetan patriots are giving active support to units of the people's liberation army. They are coming out against the treasonous policy of the authorities at Lhasa who consist of representatives of the clerical aristocracy and feudal lords, lackeys of English and American imperialists."

Assassian Rafael Urbina . . .

. . . leader of the group which shot and killed the acting President of Venezuela was shot to death in a fight with a prison guard Tuesday.

Urbina had sought refuge in the Nicaraguan embassy, but surrendered to authorities upon reaching the embassy. He tried to take a gun from one of his guards and was shot during the ensuing scuffle, the announcement said.

In Guatemala . . .

. . . Lt. Col. Jacobo Arbenz Guzman moved closer to Guatemala's presidential chair Tuesday. Incomplete returns from the country's weekend election increased his lead to well over 225,000 votes over his nearest rival.

Ten candidates are running for the office, but the official winner won't be known until the country's one-chamber congress proclaims the news after receipt of official count, within the next two weeks.

The Sheffield Peace Congress . . .

. . . has been scuttled because of the British government's refusal to admit hundreds of alien communist leaders. And so the whole meeting was moved to Warsaw, Poland, but the British government is again fouling up the deal. According to Ivor Montague, chairman of the Congress Organizing Committee, officials were hindering the exit of foreign delegates to the new meeting place.

Decisions by the ministry on the permission to run charter flights to Warsaw was passed to the Foreign office and late Tuesday there was no report. Meantime, it was reported by TASS that there was great indignation in Eastern European countries over the Sheffield fiasco.

A 21-Nation Conference . . .

. . . to discuss a major grain agreement is well underway today in Geneva, Switzerland. The role call will include Canada and the U. S. as well as Russia and nearly all European countries.

The purpose of the conference is to revive trade between East and West Europe and make Europe as a whole less dependent on imports from dollar sources.

French Forces . . .

. . . made further withdrawals Tuesday on the far northwest frontier in Indochina, in the face of mounting pressure from communist-led Vietminh troops.

The First Rescuer . . .

. . . reached the Canadian airliner which crashed against the side of an alpine cliff and reported "nothing left but pieces of bodies" of the 58 passengers and crew.

Most of the passengers were Canadian Holy Year pilgrims homebound from Rome. The crash occurred near Grenoble, France.

An Excess Profits . . .

. . . tax to produce an additional $4,000,000,000 a year was asked by President Truman Tuesday. The president made public a letter to Rep. Doughton (D-N.C.) chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, in which he recommended that the tax boost be made effective as of last July 1.

The president appointed Dr. Henry Bennett, President of Oklahoma A. and M., to direct the Point Four program of aid to under-developed areas of the world. As Point Four head, Bennett will succeed Capus M. Waynick, ambassador to Nicaragua, who has been acting administrator since May.

In an Effort to Beat Taft . . .

. . . the American Federation of Labor's league for Political Education spent $20,735.78. Al Herbers, treasurer, filed the report with the county board of elections Tuesday.

The News in View

AIRCRAFT CARRIER BOXER, its crew spelling out the ship's name on the flight deck, moves into San Francisco Bay after a long tour of duty in the Orient where its planes saw action in Korea. The ship returned to San Francisco for a long delayed overhaul. (AP WIREPHOTO)

SMOKE BURSTS BLOSSOM on enemy hill positions north of Hamhung, North Korea, as United States Marine mortar crews keep a steady pressure on the Reds. The marines were moving steadily toward the big Changjin power dam in this sector. (AP WIREPHOTO)

BORED, SEAMAN 1/c Leroy Taylor left his unromantic job aboard a Navy tug—for a second time—to join Marines in fighting near Hamhung, North Korea. His first such trip cost him $40 and 60 hours extra duty, and he's pretty sure the Navy will be even more unhappy this time—but he's already been recommended for the Silver Star. (AP NEWSPHOTO)

TWO MONTANA National Guardsmen view wreckage of the tail section of Northwest Airlines plane which crashed on the continental divide seven miles east of Butte, Montana, killing all aboard. The pilot was attempting to land at Butte, but became lost in a snowstorm. (AP WIREPHOTO)