

FORM CHART

82—Bradley ..... 215 LE 172 ..... Brethauer—80
 Don Bradley, a husky first-year transfer, has developed swiftly. He is an excellent blocker and a good receiver. Sophomore Monte Brethauer has blossomed into one of the finest offensive ends on the Coast and now needs two completions to set an Oregon record at 32. EDGE—BRETHAUER.

79—Niemi ..... 205 LT 210 ..... Moshofsky—68
 Very rugged Arvid Niemi moves well blocks viciously. Jerry Moshofsky is a fine blocker, fast, and has shown enough to gain a starting berth midway during the season. EDGE—NIEMI.

No.	Name	Wgt.	Pos.	Wgt.	Name	No.
74	Zarosinsky	170	LG	193	Daniels	69

Despite lack of size, alert Don Zorosinski is rated one of OSC's most potent forwards. Dependable blocker, pulls out on trap plays. Veteran Chet Daniels, placement specialist, plays smart football but has been hampered by injuries. EDGE—ZAROSINSKI.

65—Palmer ..... 190 C 207 ..... Gibson—57
 Aggressive Pete Palmer has turned in another season of good blocking. Rated as one of the best blockers in the PCC for the third year, Dave Gibson has been preatly responsible for Oregon's pass protection. EDGE—GIBSON.

No.	Name	Wgt.	Pos.	Wgt.	Name	No.
63	J. Clark	220	RG	191	McCauley	65

Amazingly fast Jim Clark is a sure tackler and blocker. Sophomore Don McCauley earned his berth midway in the season by proving himself one of Oregon's fiercest scrappers. EDGE—McCAULEY.

No.	Name	Wgt.	Pos.	Wgt.	Name	No.
77	H. Clark	230	RT	238	Knickrehm	74

Herm, Jim's brother, uses tremendous speed for big man and hits hardest of Kip Taylor's tacklers. Gus Knickrehm is a hard blocker and uses his size well on defense. EDGE—CLARK.

No.	Name	Wgt.	Pos.	Wgt.	Name	No.
90	Thomas	220	RE	192	Williams	85

John Thomas has maintained his pace among the top three pass receivers on the Coast. Jake Williams is beginning to show more of the receiving ability he displayed as a Duckling in 1949. EDGE—THOMAS.

No.	Name	Wgt.	Pos.	Wgt.	Name	No.
27	Morrow	175	QB	185	Dunham	18

Gene Morrow does the bulk of the Beaver passing, is a smart play-selector, but a weak runner. Hal Dunham, another Oregon sophomore, needs experience to become an all-time great. EDGE—MORROW.

No.	Name	Wgt.	Pos.	Wgt.	Name	No.
46	Taft	175	LH	165	Edwards	33

Gene Taft, a shifty runner, can throw well on the run. Tommy Edwards has led the Duck running attack and is an excellent pass receiver. EDGE—EDWARDS.

No.	Name	Wgt.	Pos.	Wgt.	Name	No.
12	Carr	172	RH	182	Stelle	21

Ralph Carr is an adequate runner, a good blocker, and passes well. Earl Stelle, switched from quarterback, is a fleet ball carrier, an excellent passer and a very competitive player. EDGE—STELLE.

No.	Name	Wgt.	Pos.	Wgt.	Name	No.
36	Baker	200	F	192	Missfeldt	25

Sam Baker, elusive in the secondary and a hard-plunging back, is invaders' running hope. Chuck Missfeldt hits the line with a lot of force and can be counted upon for yardage. EDGE—BAKER.

Ducks to Meet Beavers In 54th Annual Battle

'Civil Wars' In the Past

The Civil War series with OSC is 53 games long, and the winner can always point to a successful season, no matter what has gone on before. Oregon has won 27 of these vendetta contests, Oregon State has taken 19, and seven were ties. Last year, Homecoming was spoiled by a driving Orange outfit led by Gene Morrow and Ken Carpenter. The score was 20-10. Woodley Lewis slightly salvaged Webfoot pride by going 92 yards to score on a 4th quarter punt return. In 1948, the Cotton Bowl Ducks won, 10-0, on a very muddy Bell field.

The 1947 game was a 14-6 Oregon triumph, and stretched the Webfoot string to six consecutive wins that season. George Bell went 78 yards for one of the Oregon scores.

1946 was a sad year for Oregon, and although Duck halfback Jake Leicht played a good game; his team lost, 13-0.

Back in 1941, Lon Stiner's Beavers proved themselves Rose Bowl material, by trouncing an underdog Oregon team, 12-7. Curt Meacham ran 53 yards for the only Webfoot tally.

The 1940 clash was a decisive 20-0 victory for the men from Eugene, led by "mud horse" halfback Leonard Isberg.

They'll be shooting the works in Portland's Multnomah Stadium Saturday afternoon as the Oregon Ducks and the Oregon State Beavers pull out all the stops in the 54th renewal of their rivalry which dates back to 1894.

Both the Ducks and the Beavers come up to the 1950 finale with their records showing their worst season in recent years. Oregon has posted a single win in nine games, while OSC will go in with two victories in eight tries.

Despite the losing season, spirit is high on the Webfoot squad which worked out behind locked gates yesterday. Team morale is expected to play a big part in determining the outcome between two otherwise evenly matched elevens.

Ten Oregon seniors will be wearing the Emerald and Yellow for the last time. Backs Earl Stelle, Bobo Moore, Bob Carey, and Hal Cuffel and Linemen Chet Daniels, Dave Gibson, Ray Lung, Bob Anderson, J. D. McCowan, and Larry Hull will all be winding up their Webfoot grid careers.

Oregon End Coach Jerry Lillie, who has scouted the Beavers three times during the season, feels that the passing of Quarterback Gene Morrow and the power running of Fullback Sam Baker and Halfback Gene Taft will give the Ducks their most trouble.

Morrow is an outstanding passer who has recovered fully from an eye injury suffered in the Stanford game early in the season. He is particularly dangerous on short pitches over the middle to the big Beaver ends, John Thomas and Don Bradley. Both wingmen stand 6 feet 3 inches and weigh 215 which makes them powerful blockers as well as outstanding receivers.

Coach Jim Aiken's Ducks are expected to rely mostly on the passing of Quarterback Hal Dunham for their offense. The lanky sophomore has been increasingly effective in recent games, pitching four touchdown passes against the last three opponents.

New Record?
 On the receiving end will be scatback Tommy Edwards and Ends Monte Brethauer and Jake Williams. Brethauer will be gunning for a new Oregon pass catching record. He needs two catches to pass the mark of 31 held jointly by Darrel Robinson and Dick Wilkins.

The Duck ground game will be bolstered by new plays which Aiken is working on this week. Earl Stelle, Chuck Missfeldt, Bobo More, and Edwards are expected to carry the brunt of the running attack.

Oregon is in its best shape of the year both physically and mentally, according to Aiken. He will send the squad through a heavy workout today before tapering off later in the week. The team will board a plane for Portland Saturday morning.

'A' Teams Enter Quarterfinals

Three quarter-final games and one "B" league play-off composed Monday's Intramural volleyball slate. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi and Minturn won their clashes and earned a place in next week's semi-finals. In the only "B" contest Alpha Tau Omega scored a victory over Delta Upsilon for the league 5 championship.

SAE encountered difficulty in their hammer and tongs clash with the Phi Deltas. After dropping the first set 15-7 the Phi Deltas eked out a 15-11 win and forced a third set with the SAE's winning 15-8.

Sigma Chi displayed too much firepower for Delta Tau Delta and dropped the Deltas into the also-ran class with a pair of 15-9 wins.

Minturn also proved too much for its opponent as they downed Phi Sigma Kappa 15-4 and 15-4.

Alpha Tau Omega came from behind to down a stubborn Delta Upsilon team. After dropping the first set 15-10 the ATO's fought back to capture the last two tilts, 15-9 and 15-13.
