1909, he worked on the Kansas City Star and several West Virginia papers. He started his career in journalism in 1905 on the staff of the Dayton, Ohio, Evening Herald.

Dana studied at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, and has since been awarded honorary degrees from Whitman, Linfield, and Oregon College of Education.

In the field of government, Dana has headed several regional divisions of government agencies. In 1949 he was a guest of the American Christian Palestine Committee which made a study tour of Israel and visited Europe. He toured the Far East as a guest of the War Department in 1947.

'KWAX' Likely As FCC Nixes Original Choice

It may be KWAX instead of KDUK.

This is the word of Jack Vaughn, station manager of the University's new FM station, who told the Emerald Monday that the call letters KDUK have been pronounced "unavailable" by the Federal Communications Commission.

The station had requested the familiar letters KDUK, by which the station has been known on the campus since last year. But permission to use the letters are up to the FCC.

"KWAX was our second choice," said Vaughn, "but until broadcasts start winter term we cannot be certain of FCC approval on these."

While rejecting the request for KDUK, the FCC has as yet not given approval to any other call letters. KDUK and KWAC were also listed by the station as call-letter choices.

Beer Licenses of Side, Taylor's Suspended for 15-Day Period

Taylor's coffee shop and the College Side Inn drew 15-day suspensions of beer selling privileges after the Oregon Liquor Control commission sustained reports from commission examiners that minors were being sold beer in the two places.

The suspensions were ordered during a Friday meeting of the liquor commission in Portland and will take effect within 10 days.

The question of beer sales near the campus of any college or university in the state was set aside by the commission for later action. The policy-making decision will probably be handed down by Jan. 1.

In tabling the much-argued issue, the commission expressed the feeling that it required further investigation and study. Members said it was necessary to confirm the attitudes of the University administration and authorities of the city of Eugene before proceeding to establish a policy.

Evidence Discussed

The commission did, however, discuss evidence collected at an open hearing held in the Eugene city hall Nov. 16. Commission Examiner Richard Reed, who was present at the Eugene hearing, told members that testimony given at the hearing seemed to indicate that the proximity to the University campus of places selling beer had little effect on the problem.

Reed compared the case of the Chat & Chew in which minor students from the OSC campus, located 2½ miles away, had purchased beer. He pointed out that distance in that instance had no bearing on the sale of beer to students.

Notice to Students...

Students in literature and composition courses should register today and Wednesday if they wish to remain in their present section, the English department has announced.

If they are unable to see their advisers, they should sign a reservation card in the office, 109 Friendly. Changes in sections may be made beginning Thursday.

Wexler Enacts Role of 'Iago' In Coming Play

By Don Smith

One of the most experienced Shakespearean actors in the "Othello" cast is Paul Wexler, senior in speech, who is playing the role of Iago.

PAUL WEXLER

When the play opens Friday he will play his first important Shakespearean role, after about two years of working in the Bard's dramas.

Ashland's summer Shakespearean festival was the place where Wexler picked up his experience. He's been in plays there for the past two summers. In the Ashland production of "Othello" he doubled in roles of senator and official.

Council Takes Action On Rally Board Upset, Misplaced Gripe Boxes

The Rally Board is being reshuffled again. The resignation of Jim Fenimore, chairman of the Rally Board was announced at Monday night's meeting of the ASUO Executive Council.

The council decided that:
1. Petitioning will begin for another rally board member.
2. Two suggestion boxes will be placed on the campus so that students may easily voice their "gripes."
3. Future meetings of the Executive Council will be held at 7:30 p.m.

"The Rally Board is the only group that has not been functioning to the fullest," criticized ASUO President Barry Mountain. He went on to say that the board would probably become "better organized, soon" and admitted that the board had been limited by time for planning.

Navy Calls Fenimore

Fenimore is resigning because he is going to get married and has received his call from the Navy, according to Mountain.

The council decided that this new appointment should be limited to an upper classman. Petitions are open immediately and will close at 5 p.m. Thursday in order that they may be screened. Persons chosen to appear for interviews at 7:45 p.m. Monday will be notified by telephone. The council suggested that all petitions be as complete as possible to enable fair evaluation in the screening process.

A new chairman of the board will be chosen after this appointment is made.

A report on the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders recent meeting at Oregon State College submitted by 2nd Vice-President Eve Overback made mention of the use of suggestion boxes for getting student's comments.

This struck a responsive chord in the mind of Virginia Wright, junior representative, who said that she had two in her closet which were constructed last year. (Please turn to page 7)

Pre-registration Deadline Friday

All steps in the pre-registration process for winter term must be completed this week, according to Registrar Clifford L. Constance.

Students must have conferred with their advisers and enrolled in classes with department clerks by Friday afternoon. The following steps—checking with the Student Affairs Office, filing cards with the registrar, and paying fees—may be done up to noon Dec. 9.

It is not necessary to pay fees until January, but students must have gone far enough in the registration process to file their cards with the registrar by Dec. 9 or they will be required to pay a late fee of at least $8 when they resume registration in January, Constance said.

Students holding Alaska-Hawaii, state fee, or foreign scholarships should refrain from paying their fees until January. These students must check with Miss Dolores Ray, scholarship secretary, to verify their awards and their GPA.

LaFollette To Lecture Wednesday

"Is Another Depression Ahead?" will be the subject of a lecture by Phil LaFollette, three times governor of Wisconsin and analyst and interpreter of world affairs, who will speak at 11 a.m. Wednesday in the SU ballroom.

Each morning class will be cut fifteen minutes. The schedule will be: first period, 8-8:35; second period, 8:45-9:20; third period,

PHIL LaFOLLETTE

9:30-10:05; and fourth period, 10:15-10:50.

A coffee hour will be held for Philip LaFollette at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the Dad's Lounge of the Student Union. The informal meeting, being sponsored by the SU board and Mortar Board, is open to students, faculty, and townspeople.

The lecturer's father, the late Robert M. LaFollette, was governor of Wisconsin from 1900 to 1906, and U. S. Senator from 1906 until his death in 1925. He was defeated as a candidate for presidency running under the League for Political Progressive Action.

Phil LaFollette's brother, Bob, succeeded his father as U. S. Senator in 1925 and served until 1947.

America's Youngest Governor
When Phil LaFollette was elected governor of Wisconsin in 1930 he was America's youngest governor. He had previously served as District Attorney of Dane county, Wisconsin, and as a lecturer in law at the University of Wisconsin Law School.

During the last war LaFollette joined General MacArthur's staff in the S. W. Pacific. He was awarded the Legion of Merit, for meritorious service in the Philippines, six battle stars, the Bronze Arrowhead and the Bronze Star Medal.

Dr. E. H. Moore, head of the sociology department, will introduce LaFollette, who fills the third engagement by the University Assembly Committee.
