

U.N. Troops Battle To Stall Enemy

Compiled by Dave Cromwell
From the Wires of the Associated Press

Allied troops fought desperately Tuesday to slow the Communist tide rolling toward the heart of South Korea and menacing the U. S. Eighth Army's retreat route to the old Pusan beachhead.

Two United Nation's battalions attacked a Red Korean force two miles south of battle-wrecked Wonju, road hub abandoned Monday to the Reds.

An allied regiment counterattacked strong communist forces six miles southwest of Wonju. Allied artillery slammed shells into the Reds and fighter-bombers roared down in close support.

Field dispatches said the fighting still was raging shortly before midnight Tuesday.

General Eisenhower Arrived . . .

. . . yesterday in Brussels, Belgium, on the second leg of his visit to Atlantic Pact nations which will provide the international anti-Kremlin army he is to command.

He flew there from a three-day inspection visit in France, where he talked with French civil and military authorities and studied the five-nation Brussel's pact defense headquarters at Fountainebleau which may form the nucleus of the 12-nation Atlantic defense pact force.

The Oregon House and Senate . . .

. . . met for only five minutes each yesterday morning. Among the important bills introduced in the two houses were means of providing emergency civilian defense funds, to abolish dog racing, to tax amusements ten per cent, and to provide for a one-house legislature.

In the Senate, the Oregon "statesmen" were confronted with the ultra-important question of whether their secretaries should be allowed to sit next to them on the Senate chamber's floor. Three past presidents of the Senate, Senators Walker, Walsh, and Belton were appointed to comprise a committee to bring a decision in on this "problem."

The idea to kick the secretaries off the floor came from Democratic Senator Mahoney, who said it gives Oregon the reputation of having an "apron string" legislature. Often the secretaries could be seen knitting or working on crossword puzzles during the sessions.

While at the same time, the Speaker of the House John Steelhammer, declared that he did not believe that women should be hired in the legislature who had husbands who could support them. Mrs. Steelhammer was employed by the legislature during the last session!

Two of Hitler's Generals . . .

. . . sat down with allied officials today for secret talks on putting uniformed Germans in the western force of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, who led the invasion across the Rhine only five years ago.

The men met in the same room that Neville Chamberlain had vainly argued with Hitler to avert World War II.

The two German officers are Hans Speidel, once Rommel's chief of staff, and Adolph Heusiner, who helped plan the Russian campaign.

47,000 More Enlisted Naval Reservists . . .

. . . are to be called to active duty during April, May and June. The revised three-months quota is 32,000 more than the Navy said last month would be added during the three months.

Classifications to be called up include waves in the three petty officers categories and male petty officers in some 25 specialties. Enlisted men in the first three pay grades will also be ordered to duty as seamen, firemen, airmen, and stewards.

Russia Will Face A Counter-Revolution . . .

. . . if she begins an aggressive war, Harold Stassen said today as he returned from a 34,000 mile trip around the world. He believes that even the Red Army itself would revolt.

He said that he feels that while there "are very many real dangers of world war, the prospects for world peace are brighter than at any time in the past three years."

His reasons for so thinking are: 1. The world is awakening to the extreme evils of communist imperialism and that awakening is one of the key things; 2. People everywhere, including the iron curtain countries, want peace and freedom and the Russian Kremlin faces a counter-revolution; 3. America and the other peace-desiring nations are rearming and thereby filling the vacuum spots of weakness all around the world.

What to Name It . . .

. . . was the problem facing the house armed services committee yesterday. "It" being the new air-craft carrier just approved by congress. It was originally to be named the "United States," but it has now been suggested to the committee that it be called the "James Forrestal" after the late Secretary of Defense.

The new carrier will be the largest in the world. It would be capable of handling high speed planes and heavy bombers that could deliver the A-bomb.

It was while Forrestal was Secretary of the Navy that plans were drawn for the 65,000 ton carrier.

Tuesday's IM Hoop Action

scored six for the Sig Eps. Sigma Nu scored 22 points in both halves of their game with the Legal Eagles as they trounced the future lawyers 44-5. Superior passing and a good share of the rebounds at both ends of the court proved to be the margin of victory for the boys from eleventh street. Hultzman and Ritchey led the pointmaking parade for Sigma Nu, as they scored 11 and 10 points respectively.

Minturn Romps

In the final game of the day

Minturn hall, led by skyscraping Emery Barnes, romped to a 38-18 victory over an independent quint known as the Jumping Jets. Although having an easy time with the Jets after the first period, which ended with the Minturn's barely ahead, the vets' demers lacked lustre and showed signs of the afore mentioned early season raggedness.

The Jets lost some of their smoke in the second half as Minturn pulled out to a 29-14 third quarter lead, and the final stanza ended 38-18.

The parental release printed above must be filled out by the parents of all blood donors who are 18 or over but who are under 21 years of age, except for married women. The release must accompany the pledge card, which is due by Monday. If this is not possible for some students, then they must have their releases turned in before their appointment. For this reason, students under 21 should have their releases signed and turned in as soon as possible.

Preparations Urged For Student Donation Of Blood for Korea

With only 12 days left until the campus donation of blood for fighting men in Korea on Jan. 22, students were urged by the Lane county chapter of the American Red Cross and by campus Red Cross President Donna Mary Brennan to do the following things as soon as possible:

1—If under 21 years of age, and not a married woman, have the parental release blank filled out by parents and ready to turn in with the donor pledge card if possible. The blank has been printed in the Emerald for three days and also appears in this issue.

2—Turn in pledge cards before the deadline, which is Monday. Men's donor pledge cards should be turned in to Herb Nill and women's cards to Leslie Tooze at Kappa Alpha Theta. Faculty cards should be returned to Howard Lemons at Johnson Hall.

All students who are unable to have their parents fill out and sign the release and return it in time to turn it in with the pledge card before Monday can still turn in the release later and be able to donate blood, IF the release is turned in before the appointment on Jan. 22. Such releases must therefore be filled out immediately and turned in as soon as possible before the appointment.

Donor pledge cards were distributed to women's houses Monday, and will be sent to men's houses soon. A booth in the Co-op will be open starting today for off-campus students to sign up for the blood donation drive and to get their pledge cards.

The booth will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. today, Thursday, and Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday. Faculty cards were sent Tuesday.

This is the first blood donation drive conducted at the University. Oregon State College has had two previous drives. The quota set for the University is 350 pints, with 425 appointments to be made to take care of any rejections and failures to keep appointments.

Students are reminded that any person who has ever had infectious jaundice will definitely not be accepted, so they should not sign up. Anyone who has been inoculated for typhoid or vaccinated within the last 30 days should also not sign up, for they must also be rejected.

However, the names of any of these latter persons who do appear will be taken and kept for later date, but such persons are definitely asked not to sign up, since they will only increase the rejections and impair the chances to reach the 350 pint quota.

The Lane county chapter of the Red Cross also mentioned that any person with a cold who has a high temperature will not be accepted.

The local Red Cross chapter cautioned donors not to eat fatty or fried foods within four hours after their donation.

The blood donation drive, which is open to all students and faculty members who are at least 18 years of age but not yet 60, will collect whole blood for the wounded men in Korea. It will be flown to Korea by Jan. 27, five days after its collection.

Deadline for signing up for rushing is 4 p.m. today in the Office of Women's Affairs in Emerald Hall. Requirements are a 2.00 GPA fall term or a 4 decile for entering freshmen.

All 16 campus sorority chapters will be rushing.

Biology Seminar Set

A biology seminar on Brucellosis, will be held at 4 p.m. Friday in 103 Deady.

Campus Morals

(Continued from page two) the frustrations in college as widespread and deep as Prof. Gilbert's statement would imply, nor of the kind that an early marriage would resolve. One must keep in mind the character structure of the college-level students, the greater intensity of social pressures in their case, the more complex intellectual and nervous organization.

What is more serious about sex on the campus is not so much the frustrations and suppressions as the sense of guilt and the sense of self-doubt with which most students seem constantly plagued. Wondering whether they have done right or wrong, wondering whether they are storing up havoc for themselves psychologically, wondering whether they are popular and whether they are being talked about in the right way or the wrong way, trying to square themselves with the expectations of their families and their fellow-students and their own demands on themselves—it is here that much of the agony lies.

* * * If there is any solution—and a partial one at best—it must be in clearer study and knowledge of the whole problem by all, and clearer self-knowledge by the individual.

Erich Fromm, in another essay on the Kinsey volume, comes close to the truth when he says that "sexual behavior is not the cause but the effect of a person's character-structure." On the same campus I have seen students whose frantic pursuit of sexual expression did nothing to diminish the torments they felt, and who were left as wretched as when they started; and others who did whatever they did—including petting—out of love and tenderness, and who left on all their behavior the undeniable stamp of a regard for another's personality and respect for their own.

(TOMORROW: Love and the success system).

SU Committees

Various Talents Wanted Concert Chairman Sharon Anderson is calling for members with an interest in music, both popular and classical. Ushers and set-up men are also needed.

Dance Chairman Ralph Hillier wants members who can plan for and supervise such activities as the Friday-night mixers and the Wednesday night square dances.

Workshop Chairman Delores Parrish is adding members to work in the development of the workshop into a decoration room for the use of campus dance committees and SU committees. The workshop will eventually become an arts and crafts center.

Movie Chairman Jane Wiggen is asking for members that can handle the details of ticket selling, ushering, chair set-up, and cleanup for the Sunday movies. This will include Sunday morning and afternoon work.

Students intending to petition for any of these committees should include qualifications, experience, and ideas on their petitions. Individual notification will be given as to time and place of interview.

Theater to Show 'Bicycle Thief'

"The Bicycle Thief," Italian movie sponsored by the Foreign Movie Club, will be presented at the Mayflower Theater tonight and tomorrow night at 7 and 9 p.m. Student price is 55 cents.

The film is good entertainment though Portland considered banning it. The hard life in post-war Italy, the poverty of the peasants and the Black Market are all part of the story. The film won the 1950 Academy Award for foreign movies.
