Fee, Fie, Foe, Fum Now Timely as Ducks Plan Campus 'Blood' Drive

Pledge cards and under 21 parental release for men for the University blood drive will be due Wednesday at 5 p.m. Women's releases will also be due Wednesday at 5 p.m., but their pledge cards will be due Monday, according to Donna Mary Brennan, campus Red Cross chairman.

Releases for students under 21 and pledge cards should be turned in to house presidents by on-campus students, and dropped in a box in the Co-op or Student Union lobby by off-campus students. Faculty members should turn these in or mail them to Howard Lemons, assistant to the president, at Johnson Hall.

House presidents will turn men's pledge cards and releases in to Nill, and women's in to Leslie Tooze at Kappa Alpha Theta. Off-campus students who have not signed up for their pledge cards can do so at the Co-op or in the Student Union lobby this week.

The blood drive is open to all students and faculty members who are at least 18 years of age, but who have not yet reached the age of 60.

However, any student who is under 21 (except married women) must turn in with his pledge card, a parental release, filled out by his parents.

All students under 21 who have not had their parental releases consideration by the Scholarship Board when scholastic standings are reviewed. Attendance will be taken and actual study time will be computed. Freshman men who received below a 2.00 GPA fall term and do not attend the study programs will be required to show a noticeable improvement scholastically.

Kline described the grade-troubled frosh as "the low men on the University totem pole" but encouraged them by saying, "You are not the forgotten man at the University, but the very much remembered man." Kline declared grades are a responsibility of the individual, but assured freshmen that the University would extend any possible assistance to those who wish to try.

After the meeting Tuesday evening freshmen were given the opportunity to sign up for the study program. Dorm counselors were present to advise and aid in the procedure. Kline reported that he was gratified with the success of the meeting and the enthusiasm for the program.

The new study program began at 7 p.m. Wednesday in French Hall.

filled out should do so immediately in order to have them ready to turn in with the pledge cards, Nill stressed.

Any person who will not be able to do so by Wednesday in the time left should call Miss Brennan at Kappa Alpha Theta.

The parental release has been printed in the past four issues of the Emerald, and appears again above.

Whole Blood Valuable

It has been the experience of the American Red Cross in the past that wounded men who have the benefit of whole blood, which will be collected in the University blood donor drive, have a much greater chance of survival than those who do not.

In fact, mortalities in the Korean fighting where whole blood has been available are only 30 per cent of those occurring in comparable casualties in World War II where whole blood was not present.

The whole blood collected in the drive on Jan. 22, which can be used by the majority of blood types, will be flown to Korea by Jan. 27, just five days later.

Capitol Trip Gets Club Talk

Sponsoring a trip to the state legislature and appointment of standing committees will be on the agenda for the first 1951 meeting of the University Young Republicans tonight.

The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m., in the Student Union. All members and interested students are asked by officers to attend this meeting while appointments are still open.

The organization is open to University students 18 years and older.

Skordahl Schedules Amphib Tryouts

Winter term tryouts for Amphibians, women's swimming honorary, will be held at 4 p.m. Jan. 16 and 23 at Gerlinger Pool Joan Skordahl, president announced Wednesday.

A demonstration of requirements will be presented at 4 p.m. Monday at Gerlinger Pool. All interested women are invited to attend, Miss Skordahl said.

Intra-mural swimming competition among women will take place at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 8 and 15. Gerlinger Pool will be open at 3 p.m. each Tuesday for intra-mural practice. An Amphibian member will be present at all practice sessions, Miss Skordahl said.

Holidays Show Increase In Student Employment

The University employment office placed more students in positions with local employers in December than in November, which may have been due to the holiday rush season.

Regular jobs included 98 of the 156 placements, although they usually account for about one-third of the total filled.

The rise in the number employed is accounted for by the many students who live in Eugene and those who were unable to return to their homes during the holidays.

Oregana Faces Name Difficulties

Calls from students wishing to correct spelling of their names for the Oregana have been coming in to the yearbook office, Editor Ruth Landry reported Wednesday.

Miss Landry requests students whose names are misspelled in or omitted from the Piggers' Guide to notify the Oregana office during afternoons this week in order to insure correct spelling in the yearbook.

Oregana telephone number is Ext. 239.

Co-Axial Cable Villard Novelty

Villard one of these days might be more aptly called "The House of the Seven Cables."

Now that the co-axial cable has arrived for operation of the new FM station, KWAX, people behind the mikes in Villard's studios realize that soon little gadgets will ornament the roof.

The new cable will be a connecting link between transmitter in the control room and the antenna on the top of the building. One catch—neither the transmitter nor the antenna have arrived yet from the factory at Quincy, Ill.

But, thanks to the physics department who years ago installed a metal rod on the roof for weather experiments, they now have a base for the antenna.

"Ah," sigh old-timers in the radio profession, "Remember the days when birds used to light on ordinary things like chimneys rather than television and FM antennas?"
