

Trotter Tilt To Follow IM All-stars

An added feature for the Harlem Globe Trotter-Oregon Collegians basketball game in McArthur court Feb. 15 was announced yesterday by the athletic department.

A game between Phi Delta Theta's "A" league intramural team and an all-star IM team (exclusive of Phi Deltas) will be set for 6 p.m. before the Globe Trotter game.

The all-star team will be selected by the Emerald intramural staff in conjunction with the intramural officials of the School of Health and Physical Education.

The Phi Deltas, judged by many to be one of the top IM teams in the current season, agreed to the game. Intramural director Paul Washke also gave his sanction of the contest.

The two games will be seen by students for an admission price of 60 cents. Holders of athletic cards may purchase tickets for the contest beginning about a week before the game, athletic department officials said yesterday.

The team which will face the Globe Trotters will be made up of former Oregon and Oregon State basketball players.

The last time an intramural all-star basketball team was assembled to play ball was in 1948, when the squad, coached by Jim Vitti, defeated the Oregon Frosh.

WAA Bowling Gets Underway

Women's Athletic Association bowling competition was held for the first time Tuesday night, with the women performing very well, according to Louis Bellissimo, Student Union Recreation Director.

In the games themselves, Alpha Xi Delta won four points from Zeta Tau Alpha, with the Alpha Xi's Nelda Vogel bowling a high series of 439.

Carson Hall won three points to one for their opponents, Alpha Delta Pi Zoe Hager of the latter team bowled a high 142 game.

Alpha Omicron Pi bowled their games, but the result of their competition will not be known until Thursday when their opponents, Highland House, bowl their games. Beverly Hart of Alpha Omicron Pi bowled a high series of 396.

Orange Bowl May Turn 'Professional'

DALLAS, Tex. —(AP)— Three of the nation's four major football bowls plan to operate as usual next New Year's Day. But new national collegiate athletic association rules governing the post-season classics may force a change in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla.

Representatives of the Rose, Cotton, and Sugar Bowls said their games would not be greatly affected.

But an Orange Bowl committee member said his group was considering a switch from college to professional teams.

What the new NCAA regulations will mean for the minor bowls is not yet known.

The new regulations were adopted here last week at the annual convention of the association. They provide, in the main, that participating teams share 75 per cent of the gross receipts and that the NCAA be represented in the management of the bowls.

Arthur Ungar, an Orange Bowl committeeman, said it would be impossible to meet the 75 per cent demand because the game's sponsors must pay 20 per cent for rental of the Miami stadium. That, he said, would leave only 5 per cent for operating expenses.

Intramural 'B' Battles Marked by Spirited Play, Low Scores

The twelve "B" intramural teams in action Tuesday played a lot of spirited basketball, but seemed to have left their shooting eyes at home.

The scores went like this: Sigma Alpha Epsilon edged Campbell Club 19-17, Alpha Hall won 11-4 from Delta Upsilon, Theta Chi defeated Phi Gamma Delta 16-8, Chi Psi murdered Merrick 18-1, Stan Ray topped Phi Sigma Kappa 13-11, and Sigma Alpha Mu fell 10-4 to Lambda Chi Alpha.

SAE fought off a Campbell Club rally which almost overcame a 15-7 halftime deficit. The SAE's lead was cut to 18-15 at the three quarter mark, and the final score was 19-17. Tall Jim Caber of Campbell was high for the game with ten, while Don Dunn led SAE with seven.

Neither Alpha nor DU could score in the opening quarter of their tilt, but Alpha jumped into a 5-1 halftime lead and went on to win 11-4. John Shepherd garnered six for the winners, and Jim Haycox earned two for DU.

Led by guard Lloyd Hutchinson with twelve points, Theta Chi posted a 16-8 verdict over the Fijis. Russ Waddle and Bob Lausmann had two apiece for the losers.

The Chi Psi clan had a shutout

Sig Eps, Gamma, Kappa Sigs Win In Bowling Play

In intra-mural bowling play Tuesday night Sigma Phi Epsilon, Gamma Hall, and Kappa Sigma were victorious in their games, while Pi Kappa Alpha and Lambda Chi Alpha split points in their game.

The Sig Eps took three of the four points from Stan Ray Hall. LaVerne Thompson of Stan Ray bowled a high series of 510, while the Spees' Bob Rondeau, last week's high game bowler, bowled a high game score of 205.

Gamma Hall swept all four points from Barrister Inn. In the Pi Kap-Lambda Chi two-all tie, Sam Nicolopoulos of the Pi Kaps bowled a high 226 game.

Kappa Sigma won three points to one for Campbell Club. Art Ross of the Kappa Sigs bowled a high game of 195.

Rondeau, Hande Top Bowlers

High game bowling figures for last week through Sunday evening, were released yesterday at the Student Union recreation center.

Highest score of the week for men was registered by Bob Rondeau of Sigma Phi Epsilon, who hit 217.

Jane Hande of Carson hall pulled in a 195 for the women's high of the week.

The Oregon swimming team has made claim to being the "brainiest" on the Webfoot campus. The Duck paddlers had a 3.1 (slightly better than a straight "B") during the fall term.

basketball game until the final minutes—Merrick had not scored a point. Then Stan Samuels of Merrick sunk a free throw and Chi Psi had to settle for an 18-1 win in a game marked by ragged play on both sides.

One of the day's more interesting games was the Stan Ray-Phi Sigma Kappa contest which ended 13-11 in favor of the dormitory men. Stan Ray led 10-9 at the half. Phi Sig center Jerry Painter was leading scorer with eight, followed by Lowell Schuck and Jack Wadman of Stan Ray with six and four points respectively.

In another very slow game, Lambda Chi outlasted the Sammies, 10-4. The count favored Lambda Chi 7-2 at the half and 7-3 at the three quarter mark. Chuck Schwan had three for the winners and Sammie Don Zavlin checked in with two.

Bay Sweep Pleases Warren; Ducks Drill On Idaho Defense

Webfoot Coach John Warren, happy with his Feathered Five after weekend victories in San Francisco, is working this week on a detailed defense to throw at the rangy Idaho Vandals.

Idaho and Oregon meet this Friday and Saturday in McArthur court.

Idaho is reported to have one of the tallest teams in the West, and Warren Tuesday commented, "They're a lot bigger than we are."

Idaho Coach Chuck Finley is noted for his specific, set offense. The Vandals ordinarily use a system calling for two men, the guards, playing out in front of the defense, with three tall men playing in the key and under the basket. A variety of plays develop from this formation.

Andrews Highest In Faculty Bowling

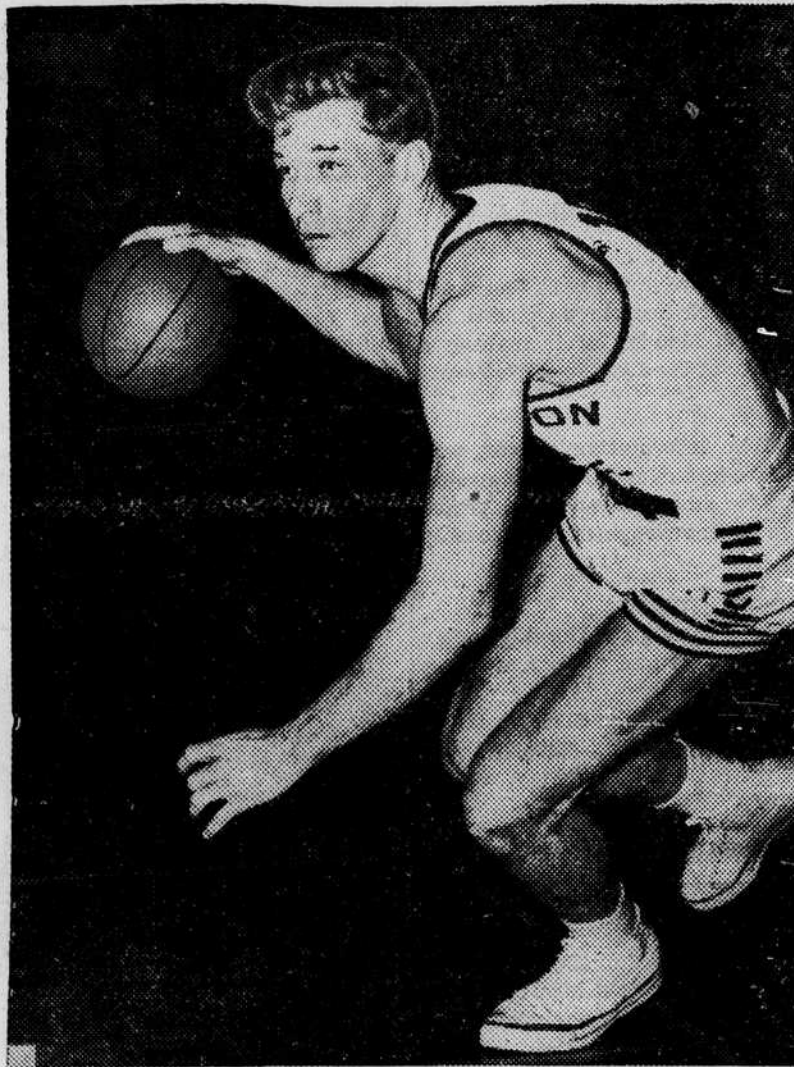

Faculty bowling in the Student Union building Monday night saw eight colorfully-named squads of pin-busters meet. Results were:

The Nogoondniks beat the Grenadiers, 3-1; the Draftsmen slapped the Jets, 3-1; the Flying Saucers whizzed over the Stack Rats, 4-0; and the Vitamins rolled to a nutritious 3-1 victory over the Liberal Rats.

Highest game of the night was bowled by G. F. Andrews of the Draftsmen squad. He pinned a 221 to the score table. He also bowled the highest series of the evening, with a 553.

Joe Dimaggia's 1941 batting streak of 56 straight games without going hitless still stands as the major league record.

High Hurdle for Huskies

VERSATILE BOB. Around Washington State College Bob Gambold, varsity forward gets the nod for his outstanding play in both football and basketball. Head Coach Friel believes the 21 year old co-captain will play a big part in the Cougars defense of their northern division hoop crown. Gambold is 6 foot four inches tall, played first string quarterback in football and now is playing his last year of basketball.

Ski Team to Enter Meet

The University of Oregon Ski Team plans to enter, for the purposes of practice and time trials, the Pacific Northwest Ski Association Giant Slalom at Government Camp, Mt. Hood, on Sunday, Jan. 21, according to Saul Zaik, team representative.

The team's first tentative intercollegiate meet is the Reno Winter Carnival on Feb. 16, 17, 18, sponsored by the University of Nevada. Also, several meets with Northern Division teams are desired during the course of the season.

Urban Still Doubtful

Oregon's Captain Will Urban may see some limited action this weekend, but he probably will not be able to play full time, according to Warren. Physicians say no bones in Urban's right foot are broken, but that there was a tissue injury last week when he re-injured the foot in practice. Urban broke the bones in his right foot last fall in pre-season practice.

Duck Mel Streeter, used as both a guard and forward in the Bay areas games, will probably see action as both in the Idaho series, Warren said. Streeter has always performed better on his home court.

With Urban's status as a starter this weekend seems rather doubtful. The opening five Friday will probably be Bob Peterson and Curt Barclay at forwards, Jim Loscutt at center and Mel Krause and Jack Keller at guards.
